CLASSES GATHER FORCES FOR JUNE 19

Late Starters On List Show New Energy As Alumni Day Nears; Executive Committee to Make Plans at Meeting Saturday; New Tablet to Be Unveiled Memorial Day.

Perhaps it is because the soft maples are giving promise of sending out tender leaves or that the sight of a robin is so common, that the activity among the various class groups planning for reunions has taken a promising spurt and threatens to grow beyond the proportions of those of past years. The classes of '70 and '86 have long ago made up their complete programs for the occasion and have obtained the promises of most of their numbers that they will attend under the leadership of Jonathan Taylor and Jason Hammond, respectively. Now come the classes of '01, '06, '16, '22, and '25 with fair starts on their plans. Mark Ireland who whiles away his time as a major in Uncle Sam's army wants news of '01, and has been provided with ammunition of the type not manufactured in his arsenal. Myrl Bottomly who designs cemeteries and other cheerful spots in the office of T. G. Phillips, '02, in Detroit, has refreshed his memory concerning the whereabouts of his class mates of 1916 and is about to send out a broadside. C. W. Gustafson, '22, and Clara Carbine Gray of the same class have begun the work attendant upon conducting reunion affairs for an ambitious and notable group and Bob Shaw is just stirring the members of the class of '25 into the beginnings of future action. The latest on the list is "Pinky" Gordon, '06, who promises to leave Muskegon flat for the pleasure of meeting his classmates and he has been enlisted in the task of notifying them that they are wanted and discovering who will be present.

President Putterfield's class, '91, is due for its thirty-fifth anniversary and will probably have one of the largest representations in proportion to its numbers. The class of 1881 held its big reunion last June instead of waiting until this year. The class of '61 expects to have complete attendance. James H. Gunnison who entered with the first class is living near the College and he is the sole surviving member.

Reunion affairs can be arranged in better shape than they were last year for the Union Memorial building has been functioning nearly a year and is much better equipped to give service than it was last June. In case it is decided that the annual meeting of the Association is to be separate from the luncheon another improvement can be effected. No special events have been listed for June 19 outside of the customary alumni affairs at the Union. One of the new features available will be the memorial tablet which will be unveiled on Memorial Day in the concourse of the Union Memorial building. This tablet has been provided by the Washington, D. C. M. S. C. Association and is ready to be installed. It is an imposing design in bronze and will be placed on the wall between the fireplace and desk.

The program committee for the day will be appointed in the near future and there is already promise that entertainment together with speakers with something to say will be included in the final list. There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Association at the Union Memorial building on Saturday, April 17, when several announcements will be made concerning the general arrangements for Alumni Day.

There is still some doubt as to whether or not the College band will be held for Commencement but it is probable that the organization will be retained. The president's reception will again be held in the Union Memorial building followed by the alumni dance. Plans are being made to utilize a larger space this year for this event than was available last June and obviate the crowded condition of the ballroom floor.

BURNHAM, '93, TAKES UNION HOTEL ROOM

A. C. Burnham, '93, has the distinction of being the first person to occupy a room in the hotel section of the Union Memorial building. By the time this issue of The Record reaches its readers he will have the portable belongings installed in one of the largest rooms proposed on the second floor of the section and promises to keep the rent paid for a year. In fact he has gone so far as to pay the sum in advance so that the room could be completed, this being the only arrangement by which such a thing would be possible. The room selected by Burnham has two windows, one facing on the Campus with an excellent view and the other facing toward the east and the home economics building. It has a tub bath, but in this respect is different from all but one of the remainder of the rooms on the floor for they are fitted for shower baths only.

Contractors' estimate on the cost of completing these rooms were so high that hope had been abandoned on the project for a time at least, but the plans under which Burnham's room is being installed allow for a considerable saving. It is planned that when the rooms are ready they will be available only to transient visitors at regular hotel rates, but special consideration can be given for a year in order to have the rooms available for general use after that time. In order to avail themselves of this opportunity the persons wishing rooms must be members of the Union.

Judge Charles B. Collingwood, '85, was one of the convocation speakers on April 7. He discussed "Youth and Crime" before the liberal arts division.

COLLEGE FIELD BRIDGE SUPPORTS DESTROYED

One of the unavoidable events in connection with the spring floods was the demolition of the old wooden bridge leading to College field. Ice was wedged against some of the supporting members of the structure and dynamite was employed to clear the channel for the water in an attempt to reduce the depth of the lake which had replaced the baseball diamond.

The old bridge had carried the load of football and baseball crowds for more than twenty years. It had previously passed through the experience of being blown out to make way for the ice and had had a generally momentous career. Of late years it had become unsafe for automobile traffic and had been generally closed to pedestrians only. It was a favorite spot for the youthful fishermen of Lansing and East Lansing and witnessed most of the tugs-of-war from a safe distance over the span of its lifetime.

Secretary Halladay announces that funds will be available for a concrete span similar to the one crossing the river at the west end of the gymnasium and that it will be wide enough to accommodate automobile traffic. Spring floods have been a constant menace to seasonable athletics. Several times during the past twenty years the athletic field has been entirely under water and this condition has not been confined to the very early spring. The Red Cedar, gentlest of brooks during the summer months, is undependable when the ice begins to break up and melting snow combines with March rains to fill its channel far above the level indicated by its conservative banks.

Fred Alderman leads the scoring column for indoor track in the season just past. He collected a total of 37 1-2 points. Grim was second with 29 5-6. Other high scorers in their order were Van Noppen, 15 1-2; Ripper, 15; Tillotson, 14; Mattison, 13 3-4 and Van Armen, 13 3-4.
NEW YORKERS WANT BAND AT CORNELL

Association Requests Musicians Be Sent With Team in Fall; Silcox, '20, Elected President; Plan Gathering of Alumni in Fall at Ithaca.

Editor of THE RECORD:

Last Saturday, April 3, the New York State Alumni Association of Michigan State College met at the Syracuse University Club, Syracuse, N. Y. for a luncheon and annual meeting.

A very enthusiastic meeting was held and I am sure that all enjoyed a fine peppy time. We expected the Hon. L. Whitney Watkins to address us and were extremely disappointed that his illness prevented him coming—however, we had a good time just the same, and the Association passed resolutions thanking Mr. Watkins for his endeavors to be with us and wishing him a speedy recovery. Resolutions were also passed renewing our former pledge of support to President Kenyon L. Butterfield and sending best wishes of the association to the faculty, student body and the alumni association of Michigan State College.

Arrangements were made to put over a very good meeting next fall, at Ithaca, N. Y., October 16 when the Michigan State College football team is scheduled to play Cornell University. It is planned to have a dinner following the game and it is hoped that about 200 will attend. Arrangements will be made to handle the reservation of tickets so that a block of seats may be reserved for Michigan State College folks and their friends. Counting the friends, we ought to have at least close to 400 supporters for the big event.

It was the opinion of the Association that every effort should be put forth to bring the band out as it is thought that the Michigan State band is superior to any collegiate band here in the east. I recall the Illinois band down at Philadelphia last fall—everybody was very much impressed by the performance of the band, even though Red Grange outdid himself and played one of the most remarkable games ever demonstrated on an eastern gridiron. I believe that the public remembered more vividly the performance of the Illinois band than any other single thing of the day. It is the opinion of the New York Alumni Association that we should do our level best to get the band out to Cornell next fall.

Among those in attendance were the following: Minerva F. Bibbins; Mary C. Walker; Herman E. Segelin, '22; Rose Jaroff; Marjorie F. Williams, '20; H. B. Hartwig, '21; Marion Stein Hartwig; Howard P. Haight, '20; C. L. Warren, '20; C. N. Silcox, '20; J. H. Hammes, '21; I. J. Saurs, '21; John D. Walker, '22; Gertrude F. Hurley; J. Carlton Hurley, '13; L. E. Flanders, '17; R. L. Nye, '12, Florence K. Nye; Leal Bibbins, '15.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Chas. N. Silcox, Syracuse, N. Y., president; C. L. (Bunny) Warren, Coldwater, N. Y., secretary-treasurer; John D. Walker, Batavia, N. Y., vice-president. Committees will be appointed to help put over the meeting at Cornell. It is planned to have the different sections of the state districted with committees for each section whose duty it is to get everybody out of their territory for the annual meeting.

We hope that many out of state folks will come, and that you will use the columns of THE RECORD to help build a successful meeting.

President Kenyon L. Butterfield, and Hon. L. Whitney Watkins have already promised their appearance. These two notables together with the Big Green team and the band should promise a wonderful time.

Very truly yours,

A. L. BIBBINS, '15
One of the avenues of service to the College, students and alumni which the Union Memorial building will provide is coming into sight through the action of A. C. Burnham, '93, who has rented one of the guest rooms in the building and is providing the funds for completing it. One of the needs of the College community is conveniences for overnight guests and visitors and it is this which will be met when the rooms are completed. It is estimated that by finishing the rooms without plastering they can be made ready for occupancy by expending about $400 per room, although this figure may be increased when more of the fixtures must be purchased than was the case with the first one.

Provisions have been made on the second and third floors of the building for a total of sixteen rooms designed to accommodate twenty people, or a few more when large numbers must be cared for. All of these rooms have private baths. Two large rooms on each floor have tub baths while the others have showers only. In finishing this section of the building under the original schedule all of the plumbing was roughed in so that the task now presented is that of putting in the walls, cement floor, tile floors in the bath rooms and the interior finish.

It seems highly probable that such rooms would be revenue producing with the demand which exists on the campus for accommodations of this sort and the total lack of such facilities adds to the urgency in having them installed. Probably less than $3,000 would complete the remaining seven rooms on the second floor. Of this amount one alumnus has offered to give $500 if the remainder of the rooms are completed. This involves the raising of some $2,500 to have the rooms available for occupancy. As an investment, the rooms could be made to prove satisfactory but the Union Memorial building fund is in no condition to supply the capital necessary to handle the construction costs and it must look to interested alumni to provide the cash. It would be a satisfactory form of class or group memorials.

Lansing newspapermen have decided that the varsity teams shall be known as the "Spartans". The committee appointed by President Butterfield, at the request of the board in control of athletics, selected "Michigan Staters" as the official nickname but newswriters disagree with this arrangement and the possibilities for final choice are in their favor because of the compactness of the name they have chosen. If the teams bear out the new appellation they will have no need to have it officially recognized. It brings thoughts of courage, valor and skill, self-abnegation and devotion to duty, qualities which make for victory in any line. "Spartans" will stand the test of time unless it falls by the wayside through disuse. Such a nickname is chiefly valuable to the writer but in this case it is valuable to the players because of the example it keeps before them.

The April 10 issue of The Record will be devoted to the engineering experiment station and engineering affairs generally. It is one of a series which had been planned for this year and of which several have already been printed. The next special number will be printed in May, especially concerning with forestry and outing affairs. It will detail some of Michigan's claims to greatness as a vacation state and will also devote considerable space to forestry affairs and conservation, all of which are closely related subjects.
Have you heard from your class secretary about the plans for June 19?

If you are interested in the Campus you will neglect no opportunity to be back with your classmates on June 19.

Alumni Day, Saturday, June 19, will find many of your classmates on the Campus. Don't miss this chance of seeing them.

Virginia Jorgenson, '26, Dearborn, demonstrated her right to the title of champion co-ed bowler by rolling 156 in the women's league contests staged during the winter term. Miss Jorgenson was a member of the Kappa Delta sorority team, which won the silver cup again this year.

To encourage beginners and novices and to develop material, Carl Kuhlman, new director of the College band and orchestra, has started a second band. This band will not play in public, being merely for the purpose of making more experienced talent available for the Varsity band.

President Butterfield and President D. B. Waldo, '85, of Western State Normal were initiated into Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary educational fraternity during the educational organization meetings at Ann Arbor on April 2. President Butterfield was a speaker at one of the important conferences.

Coaches Mason and Casteel are having a hard time whipping the track team into shape for the Ohio relays on April 17. The pond covering the old athletic field is playing havoc with the track teams as well as the baseball team and with spring football. State is contemplating entering the sprints, distances and medley relays at the Ohio event.

One of the latest steps to finally complete the removal of the electric street railway company's tracks from the Campus is the announcement that the city of East Lansing has offered to allow the company to use for a "y" the plot of ground at the corner of M. A. C. and Albert avenues. For the past year the company has been using double-end cars on the College line. The installation of the new switch will allow the use of larger and more modern cars and will add several blocks to the length of the street car line.

NECROLOGY

MRS. ZELLA KIMMEL WOOD, '11

Zella Kimmel, '11, wife of Devillo D. Wood, '11, died at Sandakan, British North Borneo early in March where her husband is director of agriculture and conservator of forests for the government. The Woods went to Borneo immediately after their marriage in 1922 and had planned on spending the coming summer in Lansing, returning by way of Japan and China.

Mrs. Wood was born in Omaha but her parents moved to Lansing when she was very young and she had made that city her home up to the time of her marriage. She was a graduate of the Lansing high school in the class of 1907 and completed her college course four years later. She taught in the Lansing grade schools and high school. While in College she was a member of the Ero Alphian society.

Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kimmel, of Lansing, a sister, Mr. Clair Johnson, and a brother, W. D. Kimmel, '17.

MRS. RAY SERVIS

Mrs. Ray Servis died at the St. Vincent's hospital in Toledo, Ohio following an operation. She is survived by Ray Servis, '13, and two children. Servis resides in Monroe.
Three victories and two defeats is the box score result of State's invasion of the south during the spring vacation. Starting out on the tour with only indoor practice and previous years' experience behind them, it was generally conceded that the trip would serve as a conditioner for the regularly scheduled games of the season. The brand of ball exhibited in every contest and the respect which the team commanded wherever it went demonstrates that State has a baseball aggregation of more than ordinary merit this year.

Thirteen players made the trip as well as Coach John Kobs, Trainer Jack Heppin-stall and Student Manager Gavin Brown, Pre-C. Port Huron. Donald Fleser, leading hitter and fielder last year, was unable to accompany the squad due to a sudden attack of flu. Forest Rinehart, a sophomore from East Lansing, was added to the squad at the last minute. Rinehart played in every game and proved his right to a position on the team.

Rain and wet grounds prevented the opening game with Kentucky Western Normal on March 30.

At Fort Benning on April 1 the Varsity succeeded in out-hitting the soldiers and driving one pitcher to cover but failed in making hits count and the result was a win for the southerners, 7-5. In this game Rinehart, Haskins, Spiekerman and Baynes each collected two hits. Fremont's catching was the feature of the game, bringing decidedly favorable comment in the Fort Benning accounts of the game.

In the game with the soldiers on the following day the Varsity found itself and won a well played game, 4-1. Tolles, sophomore southpaw, went the entire route for State and at no time was in danger. The account of the game stated that Tolles "was the master of the game at all times".

He kept Fort Benning's eight hits well scattered and delivered in the pinches in big league style. Tolles kept the soldiers' hits well controlled, few going to the outfield. In this game Kiebler, Spiekerman and Fremont each collected three-base hits. Fort Benning's pitchers were continually in the hole, two of them being sent to the dugout.

An April 3 State played airtight ball to defeat Mercer 1-0. Harry Wakefield was in rare form, allowing but six scattered hits and fanning eight. Haskins made three of the Varsity's five hits while Rowley and Rinehart gathered the other two. State made its run in the fifth when Haskins advanced Kiebler to second. Rowley hit between the infield and outfield. Kiebler stretched his base to two, scoring safely on Butts' poor throw to the plate.

The game with Alabama Polytech at Auburn was a free hitting affair played under a scorching sun. Each team made nine hits and four errors. State losing 8-5. Auburn used three pitchers and Wakefield had to relieve Kuhn in the sixth, when Auburn had already collected seven of its runs.

Wakefield pitched his third straight game against Oglethorpe on the sixth, having performed against Mercer on Saturday and relieved Kuhn in the sixth the day previous. However, he came right back and after the first inning was able to hold Oglethorpe successfully. The game was a five-inning affair by agreement to enable the Varsity to make train connections for Cincinnati where St. Xavier was scheduled for the seventh. In the Oglethorpe game State collected five runs in the third and for a safe lead. The games with St. Xavier the following day was called off because of wet weather.
The box scores of the trip follow:

PETTIT HOUSE GOES FROM CAMPUS SITE

One of the old landmarks of the Campus disappeared recently when the house occupied by Professor Pettit for many years was demolished to clear the site for the weather bureau building which will be erected north and east of the College hospital, facing Grand River avenue. The house stood between 3 Faculty Row and Grand River avenue, of frame construction and so closely guarded by trees before the new pavement was constructed that many people who spent a long time on the Campus never knew of its existence.

It is expected that funds for the construction of the new headquarters for the weather bureau will be available this spring and that construction will begin immediately on the new structure which will be larger than the one occupied for more than fifteen years at the entrance to the Campus.

A total sum of $38,000 coming from various sources will be provided for the building.

HARRIS, '12, CHOSEN MANAGER FOR JACKSON

Fred R. Harris, '12, has resigned as city manager of Escanaba to accept a similar position at Jackson. He will move to Jackson as soon as his successor is appointed.

According to the Escanaba Daily Press of March 31, the council-manager system of city government was instituted in Escanaba in 1922 and since then Harris has been its manager. The accomplishments of the city through its modern system of government has been closely watched at all times by other cities and it is because of the success of the enterprise in that city that Harris was selected as the new manager for Jackson. Jackson has a population four time greater than Escanaba.

In addition to his experience in the northern peninsula, Harris is otherwise well equipped to take up his new duties. He was engaged in appraisal and property work for the Detroit Edison company from 1911 to 1914, following that up with similar work for the Detroit United railways. From this he went into electrical appraisal work with the Ohio Electric Light association. After that he engaged in private public engineering consultation supplemented by an extensive study of municipal construction and rates. From this work Harris went to the Michigan Public Utilities commission as chief engineer, which position he resigned in 1922 to become city manager of Escanaba.

FOOTBALL MEN START ON SPRING TRAINING

Spring football, under the direction of Coach Young assisted by Coach Traynor, was inaugurated the first week of the spring term with practices in the agricultural pavilion. The continued wet weather and slowness of the Red Cedar to regain its normal size has made a mud pond of the old athletic field, prohibiting workouts there.

Finding men to take the places vacated by Haskins, Spiekerman and Hackett is one of the tasks confronting the coaches. Grim and Drew remain as two veteran ends who may be depended upon to comprise a nucleus for the flank positions. Captain Rummel plays either tackle or guard and Garver is back with two years' experience at guard.

In the backfield Fouts, Boehringer, Smith and McCosh will be available, all with previous experience on the Varsity. Forward passing practice is being emphasized in an attempt to uncover a passer who can keep up with Grim's speed.
CO-EDS GET INSIGNIA FOR SPORTS SKILL

For the first time a regular athletic insignia have been awarded co-eds for intramural competition. At the close of the winter term the women's athletic department awarded letters to those co-eds who had excelled in sports during the year. Participation in the various sports carries a definite number of points and women securing 1000 points are presented with the block “S” and those getting 500 receive the monogram.

Those receiving the block “S” were Margaret Shoesmith, ’27, East Lansing; Rachel Brook, ’26, East Lansing; Hazel Burge, ’27, Amasa; Mabel Gettel, ’26, Bay Port; Jean Horning, ’26, Portland; Florence Pangborn, ’26, Bad Axe, and Elaine Walker, ’26, Detroit.

Monograms were awarded to 27.
