COMMENCEMENT
1980 SPRING TERM
Saturday, June 7

Conferral of Graduate Degrees
Spartan Stadium, 10 A.M.

Conferral of Baccalaureate Degrees
Spartan Stadium, 4 P.M.
The pageantry and color at commencement exercises reveal a record of academic achievement of the various individuals taking part in the exercises. The following brief description is given so that the audience may more readily interpret such achievement.

In 1895, the Intercollegiate Commission, a group of leading American educators, met at Columbia University to draft a code which would serve to regulate the design of gowns and hoods indicating the various degrees as well as the colors to indicate the various faculties. This code has been adopted by most of the colleges and universities in America and its use has made identification of scholastic honors an immediate activity.

Three types of gowns are indicated by the code. Those worn by the bachelors have long, pointed sleeves. Those worn by masters have long, closed sleeves with the arc of a circle near the bottom. Doctor's gowns are faced with velvet. The sleeves are full, round and open with three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The velvet facing of bars on the sleeves may be black or the same color as the binding of the hood.

Hoods are made of material identical with the gown and are lined in the official academic color of the institution conferring the degree. If the institution has more than one color, the chevron is used to introduce the second color. Colored velvet or velveteen binds the hoods and indicates the department or faculty to which the degree pertains.

Historical associations of color have been continued to signify the various faculties. Arts and letters can be recognized by the white, taken from the traditional white fur trimming of the Oxford and Cambridge Bachelor of Arts hoods. Red, long traditional of the church, indicates theology. The royal purple of the King's court signifies law. The green of medicinal herbs immediately identifies a medical degree. Philosophy is signified by the color of wisdom and truth, blue. Because through research untold wealth has been released to the world, science is identified by golden yellow. Oxford pink indicates music, and russet brown, the color of dress worn by ancient English foresters, indicates forestry.

The color of the velvet of the hood is distinctive of the subject to which the degree pertains. For example, the trimming for the degree of Master of Science in Agriculture should be maize, representing agriculture, rather than golden yellow, representing science.

At Michigan State University, it is customary to identify the candidates graduating from the different departments of study by tassels of the official department color as established by the Intercollegiate Code.

| College of Agriculture and Natural Resources | Maize |
| College of Forestry, Packaging | Russet |
| College of Arts and Letters | White |

Michigan State University operates under the jurisdiction of a constitutional body known as the Board of Trustees. The eight elected members serve eight-year terms. Two are elected biennially from the state at large.

The President of the University is appointed by the Board and is by constitutional provision the presiding member of the body.

The Board likewise appoints a Secretary and a Treasurer.

The Board has general supervision of the University and the control and direction of all expenditures of University funds.

Michigan State University, one of the leading land-grant universities and the first agricultural college in America, strives for excellence in affording liberal and practical education for its students in a broad range of human endeavor.

MSU also serves people of the state, nation and world through its numerous research, extension and international programs.

Now in its 126th year, Michigan State University has grown from three buildings and six faculty members to one of the largest universities in the nation. It has more than 3,000 faculty/staff engaged in teaching, research and public service, 383 campus buildings, and more than 5,100 acres of land of which 2,010 acres are in existing or planned campus development.

Today, more than 44,000 students attend the University at East Lansing. About 85 percent are from Michigan; the remainder includes more than 1,300 foreign students from 95 countries.

Founded in 1855 to educate youth for the major occupation of that day — farming — MSU has broadened its offerings to meet the educational needs of today. The University now has a Graduate School and 16 colleges — Agriculture and Natural Resources, Arts and Letters, Business, Communication Arts and Sciences, Education, Engineering, Human Ecology, Human Medicine, James Madison, Lyman J. Briggs, Natural Science, Osteopathic Medicine, Social Science, University College, Urban Development, and Veterinary Medicine. Students may choose degree majors in 254 bachelor, 156 master, 125 doctoral, and 3 graduate-professional programs; some 48 nondegree programs also are offered.

MSU is unique nationally in that the Colleges of Human Medicine, Osteopathic Medicine, and Veterinary Medicine are located on the single campus.

The Honors College, which enables superior undergraduate students to waive normal graduation requirements and undertake individual programs, attracts many of the nation's finest young scholars. Michigan State University also is a prominent sponsor of the National Merit Scholarship Program, which includes an unusually select group of scholars.

One of the many innovations in higher education made by Michigan State University is its system of academic-residence halls. Incorporation of classrooms and faculty offices with living, dining and recreational facilities has given these large dormitories a stimulating academic environment. Each hall is the center of curricular and noncurricular activities, creating a "college within a college" atmosphere.

The concept of the "small college within the larger university" was introduced at MSU by the establishment of the Justin S. Morrill College, and was expanded by the establishment and opening of the James Madison College and the Lyman J. Briggs College. James Madison offers a curriculum for the study of public policy problems within the framework of the social sciences and related disciplines. Lyman Briggs makes available a liberal curriculum for students especially interested in science and mathematics.
In the land-grant tradition it pioneered, Michigan State University is concerned with research and service as well as teaching. All colleges and the Agricultural Experiment Station are engaged in a wide range of research. Approximately 3,000 individual projects are in process. The University's research tools include: the Control Data Cyber 170 Series computer; a cyclotron laboratory now containing a sector-focused type cyclotron, and, in the near future, a superconducting cyclotron; and the MSU Observatory which houses a 24-inch reflecting telescope, a computer and related equipment. Facilities are acquired and continually adapted to strengthen the research capabilities of the University.

MSU, conjoined with the U.S. Department of Energy in the Plant Research Laboratory, is a national center for modern experimental plant biology. The Pesticide Research Center presents a model program of multidisciplinary research and teaching of pest management technologies.

Benefits of the University are brought to Michigan by Lifelong Education Programs and the Cooperative Extension Service. Their programs, on and off campus, provide a wide range of technical information and formal course work for hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens. The Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, one of the finest conference centers in the nation, annually hosts nearly 60,000 adults who come to the campus for some 600 conferences and other educational meetings.

Michigan State University's land-grant concept of service is international. Supported by grants from the federal government and private foundations, Michigan State University maintains research and educational assistance projects on a worldwide basis. International projects have given many faculty members overseas experience, adding a new dimension to their teaching.

With more than a century of educational achievement behind it, Michigan State University continues to apply its academic and physical resources to the problems of today and the challenges of the future.
HONORARY DEGREE

Edgar L. Harden

Your unparalleled record of success in such diverse fields as business, education, and athletics has made you one of the most widely admired citizens of this state. You have played a major role in the growth of two of the state's most influential universities. Under your guidance, as director of continuing education, Michigan State University advanced rapidly in that developing field and broke ground for the highly successful Kellogg Center for Continuing Education. In response to your leadership as President of Northern Michigan University, that institution grew from an enrollment of 800 students to an enrollment of 8,000 and became a university respected for its effective service to the unique area which it serves. Most recently, you have provided leadership to Michigan State University as a wise and resourceful President. But your successes have also been notable on the baseball field, as both player and coach, and in the corporate offices of Story Incorporated, where you have served as President since 1967.

On this occasion, in recognition of your service to education and to the people of Michigan, Michigan State University is pleased to award you the degree of Doctor of Laws.
PATRICIA BARIO

A native of Kinde, Michigan, Patricia Bario has achieved notable success in her chosen profession of journalism and in government service since leaving this campus as a 1954 graduate of Michigan State University. While at MSU she served as editor of the State News, and upon graduation worked for a seven-year period as a journalist for both the Detroit News and the Detroit Free Press. She also served as editor of the former Wyan­dotte Tribune. On leaving the Detroit area, Ms. Bario joined the staff of the Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee of the United States Senate, serving under the late Senator Philip A. Hart (D-Michigan) for 14 years. Today Patricia Bario is a member of the White House press staff. She joined the Carter administration in January 1977 as an associate press secretary and was later promoted to the position of deputy press secretary in charge of the White House Office of Media Liaison, giving her responsibility for all non-Washington media relations. Ms. Bario holds the honor of being the first woman to reach this rank in the history of the White House. For her professional achievement, and her contributions to journalism and public service, the Michigan State University Board of Trustees is pleased to present Patricia Bario its Distinguished Citizen Award.

EMIL MAZEY

For more than forty years Emil Mazey has been in the forefront of the American labor movement. Born in Canada, he came to Michigan in 1916 and graduated from Detroit's Cass Technological High School in 1931. Since then Emil Mazey has dedicated his professional life to the cause of organized labor in America. He first organized unemployed workers in Detroit during the Great Depression to gain an increase in their welfare benefits. Later, as an international representative of the United Auto Workers in 1937, he organized the Briggs Manufacturing Company workers; and he played a prominent role in the organization of workers in the Ford Motor Company River Rouge Plant in 1941. Mr. Mazey directed the first national negotiations between the UAW and the Ford Motor Company. He was elected to the Executive Board of the UAW in 1946 and in the following year he became Secretary-Treasurer of the UAW, the office from which he will retire this year. A prominent spokesman on civil rights and civil liberties for many years, Mr. Mazey also was the first prominent American trade unionist to publicly oppose the U.S. involvement in Vietnam, and to call for U.S. recognition of the People's Republic of China. The Board of Trustees of Michigan State University recognizes Emil Mazey as a Distinguished Citizen for his untiring efforts to help create a better life for his fellow citizens.
DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARDS

NANCY DICK

Class of 1951. Elected government official. Lieutenant Governor of the State of Colorado. In less than a decade Ms. Dick has moved into a prominent position in Colorado statewide politics. Her career began in 1973 when she became treasurer of the Pitkin County Democratic Committee. The following year she was elected to the Colorado House of Representatives and re-elected in 1976. She chaired a Governor's Committee on Rural Health-Manpower Solutions; was a member of the Colorado Medical Society Rural Health Committee and of the U.S. Oil Shale Environmental Advisory Panel; and served as finance chairman of the Federation of Rocky Mountain States in 1976. While a legislator, Ms. Dick was Vice Chairman of the Transportation Committee and the Energy Committee, and a member of the Committees on the Judiciary, Health, Environment, Welfare, Institutions, Agriculture, and Appropriations. A resident of Aspen, Ms. Dick is the only person elected to statewide office in Colorado who comes from outside the Denver metropolitan area. She was elected Lieutenant Governor of Colorado in 1978, one of only six women in the nation serving at that political level.

H. ANDREWS HAYS

Class of 1941. Banking executive. Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the American Bank and Trust Company of Lansing. Mr. Hays joined American Bank and Trust in 1946, after military service in World War II for which he was decorated with both the Silver Star and the Bronze Star for heroism in battle. He was promoted to Assistant Vice President in 1953. Then, successively, he was named Executive Vice President in 1961, President in 1966, President and Chief Executive Officer in 1973, and to his present position as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer in 1978. In that same year he also was appointed President and a member of the Board of Directors of the First American Bank Corporation. Besides his affiliation with these two firms, Mr. Hays serves as director for three other Michigan banking institutions: Ann Arbor Bank and Trust Company; First National Bank & Trust of Michigan, Kalamazoo; and Muskegon Bank & Trust Company. A past president of the Michigan Bankers Association, he also had served as Chairman of the Lansing United Community Chest in 1966-67, and as President and General Chairman of Lansing Centennial Year, Inc. in 1959.

ALMA MATER
M.S.U., we love thy shadows
When twilight silence falls,
Flushing deep and softly paling
O'er ivy-covered halls.
Beneath the pines we'll gather
To give our faith so true,
Sing our love for Alma Mater
And thy praises, M.S.U.
