Board affirms urban affairs commitment

The Board of Trustees has given its unanimous support to the University's commitment to focus primary attention on expansion of academic programs in urban affairs.

By voice vote at its March 17 meeting, the trustees endorsed a resolution offered by Rande Martin to: * Support President Wharton's position that urban affairs "shall be a priority area for expansion of academic programs."

* Charge Wharton to develop— with the advice of appropriate MSU committees and others — "one or more feasible proposals" for consideration by the Board to provide "the necessary academic, research and service thrusts toward solution of the major problems of urban society." Recommendations will be reported to the Board no later than its May meeting.

* Request Wharton "to explore informally with other interested Michigan universities the possibility of joint efforts in this area."

 FOLL OWING THE MARCH 17 meeting, Wharton said that a University-based urban affairs college could play a significant role in developing a statewide "urban extension system"— one of the concepts he is now exploring.

And he reiterated his personal support for a degree-granting college as "the best means of strengthening an academic and research response to urban problems, especially if we are to prepare the sorely needed, trained professionals who will grapple with these problems as a permanent career."

He said that the need in the past has not been fully met by "graduates trained solely in traditional disciplines."

"Equally important, such a college could be the focal point of extension activities in the state's urban areas," Wharton added. "I would like to discuss this with other Michigan universities who may be interested in a cooperative approach to such an extension program."

A proposal for a college of urban development, originating in the Center for Urban Affairs, has been in the educational policies' committee since December (News— Bulletin, March 9). The EPC's report is expected this week.

But before it could be fully evaluated, the proposal drew criticism from four trustees who said in a letter to Wharton that it was unacceptable to meet what they saw to be the needs of the cities.

Wharton emphasized that the action at that meeting had been "definitely did not preclude consideration of a college of urban development."

"Their resolution was neither a compromise nor a substitute. It represented authorization to me to explore, and all possibilities and to come back with a set of recommendations."

He said that the earlier letter from the four trustees was in response to the specific proposal, not necessarily at the (continuing on page 2)

Seventeen women named to steering group; first meeting is scheduled for this week

Seventeen women were named earlier this month by President Wharton to a steering committee to design and recommend a permanent advisory structure on the status of women at MSU.

The women, selected from a list of volunteers, faculty, staff and student constituents, are Schoenfeld and student communities. The group will select its own chairman and will decide if its meetings are to be open.

The first organizational meeting is to be held Friday (March 31), possibly with President Wharton to discuss the group's charge.

The steering committee is to function over a three-month period to:

* Determine the type of organizational structure most responsive to the needs and special interests of women.

* Define the issues of concern regarding the status of women at MSU.

* Assume the role of women's advocate.

* Develop a proposal for future action.

The steering committee was proposed during meetings last term by an informal group of women who originally met at the initiation of the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs (EOP).

Steering committee members are:

Stewart Britbol, professor and chairman of psychology and child science; Laurine Fitzgerald, associate dean of students; Ann Tukey Harrison, associate professor of romantic languages; Joann Collins, a counselor in financial affairs; Josephine F. Wharton, assistant to the director of EOP.

Also: Carol Naille, senior clerk in financial affairs; Roberta Smith, editorial assistant in engineering; Yvonne Bradley, food service supervisor in Donnell Hall; Linda K. Hamilton, section head in the library; Laura Henderson, academic adviser in University College; Eunice Richardson, staff nurse at Osu Health Center; and Vicki Neiberg, coordinator of the Alliance to End Sex Discrimination.

Also: Graduate students Marylee Davis, education, and Mary Kay Scouf, education; and undergraduates Bridget Donham, president of the Associated Women Students, Lin Mcraeck and Elva Revilla.

Olga Dominguez of the EOP staff will serve as staff assistant to the steering committee.

ONE WEEK BEFORE the steering committee, Wharton announced six affirmative action steps toward assuring the equality of treatment of women on campus.

He said the steps would complement the University's major objectives of securing more women in faculty and administrative positions, improving personnel practices and providing greater educational opportunities for women.

The six steps outlined by Wharton are:

* Elimination of salary inequities between equally— qualitatively— paid men and women faculty by making individual salary adjustments in the next few weeks and assigning a share of anticipated fiscal year 1972-73 salary increase to Wharton announced that it was unacceptable to meet what they saw to be the needs of the cities.

Wharton emphasized that the action at that meeting had been "definitely did not preclude consideration of a college of urban development."

"Their resolution was neither a compromise nor a substitute. It represented authorization to me to explore, and all possibilities and to come back with a set of recommendations."

He said that the earlier letter from the four trustees was in response to the specific proposal, not necessarily at the (continuing on page 2)

Seventeen women named to steering group; first meeting is scheduled for this week

Seventeen women were named earlier this month by President Wharton to a steering committee to design and recommend a permanent advisory structure on the status of women at MSU.

The women, selected from a list of volunteers, faculty, staff and student constituencies. The group will select its own chairman and will decide if its meetings are to be open.

The first organizational meeting is to be held Friday (March 31), possibly with President Wharton to discuss the group's charge.

The steering committee is to function over a three-month period to:

* Determine the type of organizational structure most responsive to the needs and special interests of women.

* Define the issues of concern regarding the status of women at MSU.

* Assume the role of women's advocate.

* Develop a proposal for future action.

The steering committee was proposed during meetings last term by an informal group of women who originally met at the initiation of the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs (EOP).

Steering committee members are:

Stewart Britbol, professor and chairman of psychology and child science; Laurine Fitzgerald, associate dean of students; Ann Tukey Harrison, associate professor of romantic languages; Joann Collins, a counselor in financial affairs; Josephine F. Wharton, assistant to the director of EOP.

Also: Carol Naille, senior clerk in financial affairs; Roberta Smith, editorial assistant in engineering; Yvonne Bradley, food service supervisor in Donnell Hall; Linda K. Hamilton, section head in the library; Laura Henderson, academic adviser in University College; Eunice Richardson, staff nurse at Osu Health Center; and Vicki Neiberg, coordinator of the Alliance to End Sex Discrimination.

Also: Graduate students Marylee Davis, education, and Mary Kay Scouf, education; and undergraduates Bridget Donham, president of the Associated Women Students, Lin Mcraeck and Elva Revilla.

Olga Dominguez of the EOP staff will serve as staff assistant to the steering committee.

ONE WEEK BEFORE the steering committee, Wharton announced six affirmative action steps toward assuring the equality of treatment of women on campus.

He said the steps would complement the University's major objectives of securing more women in faculty and administrative positions, improving personnel practices and providing greater educational opportunities for women.

The six steps outlined by Wharton are:

* Elimination of salary inequities between equally— qualitatively— paid men and women faculty by making individual salary adjustments in the next few weeks and assigning a share of anticipated fiscal year 1972-73 salary increase to Wharton announced that it was unacceptable to meet what they saw to be the needs of the cities.

Wharton emphasized that the action at that meeting had been "definitely did not preclude consideration of a college of urban development."

"Their resolution was neither a compromise nor a substitute. It represented authorization to me to explore, and all possibilities and to come back with a set of recommendations."

He said that the earlier letter from the four trustees was in response to the specific proposal, not necessarily at the (continuing on page 2)

'S'rights' draft published

Drafts of two sections of the proposed "Rights and Responsibilities of the Faculty at MSU" have been prepared by the Ad Hoc Committee to Study Faculty Rights, Responsibilities, and Grievance Procedures and appear on pages 4 and 5 of today's News— Bulletin. The committee is seeking reaction to the substance, scope and detail of the two draft sections.

But the two sections are only part of the total document on which the committee is working, so the outline for the total document is also printed.

Reactions can be directed to E. Fred Carlisle, associate chairman of English and chairman of the ad hoc committee, or to any committee member. There will also be open meetings of the committee scheduled in April.

Ad hoc committee members are: Peter D. Asquith, assistant professor of philosophy; Assistant Provost Herman King; Madison Kuhn, professor of history; Robert W. Little, professor in engineering; Moreau Maxwell, professor of anthropology; Gerald Miller, professor of communications; David H. Sanders, associate professor of psychiatry and psychology; John F. A. Taylor, professor of philosophy; Sandra A. Warden, assistant professor in education; Hazel Beckley, also with 42 years at MSU. A story is on page 6.

Staff retirees honored

Two of this year's three retirees with more than 40 years' service were on hand at last week's retirement and service award dinner. With President Wharton were Glenn Williams (left), 43 years, and Vern Severance, 42 years. Absent from the dinner was Hazel Beckley, also with 42 years at MSU. A story is on page 6.
The Board recap

Trustees affirm commitment...

(continued from page 1)

consort of a degree-granting college, and he noted that only one trustee, (Ward H. Bean) opposed public-opposed a degree-granting college; other trustees have received judgment until a proposal is put before them, and others have publicly supported a college.

... AT THE BOARD'S March meeting, general support was voiced for the Martin motion, but two trustees - Huff and Chair White - raised issues related to the resolution. Huff produced a copy of a letter sent to the trustees by State Rep. James Del Rio of Detroit (in which Del Rio characterized the four trustees' statement of opposition to the urban development college proposal as an "Apprentice Bigot letter" and in which he suggested that if the college is not established, "then I think you good financial structure should be revoked."). Huff labeled the Del Rio letter an attempt by the legislator to "badger other elected state officials," and he said that passage of the Martin resolution did not constitute the trustees' bending to pressure. White then released a statement of his own in which he said he will contact members of the governing bodies of MSU, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University to suggest that the three groups meet informally not later than May 15 "to discuss the feasibility of establishment of a consortium of the three universities to focus their combined resources on the State of Michigan's urban problems."

Amended grievance procedures passed

... IN OTHER ACTIONS, the Board:
* Approved 80 faculty appointments, 65 of them men, 15 women. Included are Gerhard H. Magnus, new chairman of the art department, effective July 1; Philip Greenman, professor in osteopathic medicine, as chairman of the new biocommunications department, effective July 1; James P. Howard, as chairman of community medicine, effective July 1; and Marta Tredia, assistant to the Cooperative Extension Service director, to develop programs for Chicanos.
* Accepted $1,787,018 in gifts and grants, including $409,614 from the MSU Alumni Association. The alumni association, however, has reserved judgment until a proposal is made in event of subsequent appeal proceedings shall be made in the event of subsequent challenge, with copies to be made available at cost to the grievant; and if a majority (rather than two-thirds) of the University Tenure Committee agrees that a nonreappointment is unjustified, the trustees will vote to reappoint the faculty (News-Bulletin, March 2). Amendments adopted at the latest meeting provide that: a transcription of appeal proceedings shall be made in event of subsequent challenge, with copies to be made available at cost to the grievant; and if a majority (rather than two-thirds) of the University Tenure Committee agrees that a nonreappointment is unjustified, the trustees will vote to reappoint the faculty (News-Bulletin, March 2).

Council will meet Tuesday; special session set on April 11

The Academic Council will meet next Tuesday (April 4) at 3:15 p.m. in the Con Cor Room of the Center for International Programs to consider:
* A University Curriculum Committee report.
* An Academic Council tape policy.
* The proposed expansion of the Military Education Advisory Committee.
* Proposed bylaw changes to allow for instructor appointments and for filling student vacancies on standing committees.

EFC okays interim procedures, agrees to recorded hearings

The Elected Faculty Council has approved the proposed interim grievance procedures from the Ad Hoc Committee to Study Faculty Rights, Responsibilities, and Grievance Procedures. The procedures are to be interim until the "rights and responsibilities" portion of the committee's charge is completed.

The procedures are expected to be considered at a special meeting of the Academic Council April 11.

The Elected Faculty Council (EFC) amended the proposed procedures by excluding all grievances concerning extensions of nonreappointment, dismissal, termination, or nonappointment of faculty in the tenure track. All such cases would follow procedures through the University Committee on Faculty Tenure.

After considerable discussion, the EFC also approved provision for tape recording of all hearings under the interim grievance procedure. In other action, the EFC approved a memorandum from the Ad Hoc Committee of the Faculty to distribute to all faculty members: (1) A statement of the nature, purpose, and date of the Association of Michigan Collegiate Faculty (AMCF), and (2) a payroll deduction authorization card for a $2 deduction from one month's salary to be used by the EFC for expenses of AMCF membership and other EFC activities.

The EFC also voted to receive the report of the ad hoc committee to study collective bargaining, but also to request the committee to continue its work of gathering information until further notice.

Masses' aired

A 60-minute Easter special, "Masses" - an aural blend of nine recorded versions of the Mass from around the world - will be aired on WMRAM and FM Friday (March 31) beginning at 11 a.m.

"Masses" is a performance of folk, flamenco, yodeling, jazz croon and traditional Masses combined with poetry, dialogue and personal perspectives. It was produced by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

History in sound

'Don't flinch-hit the line hard!'

Early in 1912, when Roosevelt's friends prevailed upon him to run for president, we formed a club during the campaign and called it "The Boys' Progressive League." It was at a session of this club that some members had the bright ideas to invite Teddy Roosevelt to address our next meeting. We drove out to Oyster Bay, Roosevelt's home. Of course, we had a hard time getting an audience with our hero.

"I'm sorry Robert," he said, "but I have three other speaking engagements for that evening."

But I replied: "Colonel, we thought something like that would be the case, so we brought an Edison cylinder phonograph, and all you have to do is speak into it and then we'll reproduce your voice at the meeting."

Teddy looked cornered. "I never talk into a phonograph," he said, "it's against my principles ... But just to satisfy our disappointment, he did permit us to set up the machine, cleared his throat and spoke.

"In this way, I desire to greet the Boys' Progressive League at their meeting to-night in the Hotel Manhattan ... I feel that the Progressive Party should appeal particularly to the young men who are discussing the situation of the nation ... I wish to see you boys act as good citizens, in the same way I'd expect any one of you to participate in a football game. In other words, don't flinch, don't fumble and hit the line hard."

(Next: The birth of the phonograph through the words of Thomas Alva Edison.)
Law school recommended

A special joint committee of the Legislature recently called for the establishment of Michigan's third state-supported law school at MSU. Releasing its findings at a press conference, the committee recommended that the Legislature appropriate $796,114 to start the law school here.

The committee also urged that the new school should be open as soon as possible, hopefully by fall, 1972. The University has indicated that due to the vast amount of planning and recruiting still to be done, January, 1973, would be the earliest date the school could start.

The law school proposal is now under consideration by the appropriation committees of the House and Senate as part of the University's general fund request and is expected to be discussed at budget hearings in mid-April.

Food group is created

A Consortium for the Development of Technology has been formed by five U.S. government agencies, including MSU's Department of Food Science and Human Nutrition. The Consortium will train U.S. and Central American personnel in problem areas of food science under a contract with the Central American Research Institute for Industry.

'An era has ended'

... What we are talking about is an open university, as open to the diversity and aspirations of its students, faculty and administration members as it professes to be open about ideas and scholarly pursuits. We are talking about a setting--in a microcosm of what the larger society should be--where students, faculty, and administration members can become a microcosm of what the larger society should be...

Econ journal moves here

The Journal of Economic Issues, a quarterly affiliated with the Association for Evolutionary Economics, will be published from MSU beginning this month.

The journal was first published at the University of Texas in 1966 and later moved to the Boston campus of the University of Massachusetts. On this campus, it will be a joint venture of the Department of Economics and the Bureau of Business and Economic Research.

Former counselor dies

Services were held this week in Amherst, Mass., for Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, former counselor for women at UM who died March 25 in Amherst. She was 58.

Gonon first joined the staff in 1944 and was named counselor for women the following year. She served in that capacity until her resignation in September 1953. As counselor for women she was in charge of the entire guidance program for coeds living in the residence halls and was faculty advisor for the many women's organizations on campus.

A graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, Mrs. Gonon received her master's degree from Smith College, Mass., and studied for a year at the University of Paris, France, and Bryn Mawr College in Pennsylvania.

IRS reminder is issued

The Internal Revenue Service has issued a reminder to working students to file W-4 forms if they want their wages to be exempt from federal tax withholding. To qualify, a student must not have owed any income tax last year and expect not to owe any this year. Previously filed W-4 forms expire on April 30.

Students paid under the graduate student payroll must have the exemption certificate on file at the Payroll Division, Office of the Comptroller, 350 Administration Building, by May 5. Other students who have filed the exemption certificate need only file before May 12 in order to have income tax deductions reflected in subsequent checks.

EQUAL PENSIONS URGED: A proposal has been made in the New York Legislature to change teachers' pensions and it is a $2,800--$2,900--$7,800--$10,800--$14,800--$20,800--$28,800--$40,800--$52,800--$68,800--$92,800--$120,800--$168,800--$240,800--$336,800--$471,800--$634,800--$834,800--$1,084,800--$1,364,800--$1,754,800--$2,294,800--$2,994,800--$3,894,800--$4,994,800--$6,294,800--$7,894,800--$9,894,800--$12,194,800. 100 GET RAISES. One hundred women at the University of Michigan have been granted pay raises totaling $494,295 as the result of reviews of salary equity in academic and nonacademic jobs. The raises were ordered effective Feb. 1, as part of U-M's affirmative action program. The total includes $52,000 for women who were paid under the New York state pension system. A bill proposed would provide equal pensions for retired men and women teachers and would compensate for the fact that actuarial tables show that women have a longer life expectancy.

STUDENTS AND TRUSTEES. The Board of Trustees at Indiana University has agreed to allow student government presidents at the branches campuses to sit in on the board's executive (closed) sessions. Student government officers now attend regular sessions and contribute to discussions, but they have no vote. Also at Indiana, the university has announced plans to start a living-learning center next fall at Bloomington where about 150 students, most of them freshmen, will be housed in a residential “school within a school.”

LEGISLATURE NEGLECTED. A new book that analyzes the trials of the University of Wisconsin during the late 1960s concludes that Wisconsin experienced failures because certain administrators lacked respect for the state legislature. The book, “Academic Supermarkets,” is a collection of articles that points out, among other things, that former Wisconsin Public Instruction Commissioner Fred H. Harrington's effort to “build a national university resulted in his neglect of the legislature and important segments of Wisconsin public opinion.” The book also says that Wisconsin was ambiguous in responding to a continuing campus movement, and expect not to owe any this year. Previously filed W-4 forms expire on April 30.

Students paid under the graduate student payroll must have the exemption certificate on file at the Payroll Division, Office of the Comptroller, 350 Administration Building, by May 5. Other students who have filed the exemption certificate need only file before May 12 in order to have income tax deductions reflected in subsequent checks.

LICOR PopULAR. A study at the University of Minnesota has revealed that while the use of illegal drugs by Minnesota high school students has increased by about four years, alcohol continues to be the overwhelming “drug of preference.” A health service survey that began with entering freshmen in 1967 shows that student experience with marijuana, LSD, amphetamines, and barbiturates increased from 8 per cent to 46 per cent, but their use of alcohol jumped from 58 to 88 per cent.

2.1.5.2 A faculty member will have the right to a free fair and adequate evaluation of his performance, to the timely receipt of a written notification of the outcome, and to appropriate appeal or representation in the determination of the outcome.

2.1.5.3 A faculty member shall have the right to be made aware of any questions arising concerning the status of his academic assignment.

2.3.1.2 A faculty member shall have a right to a fair share of the overload payments of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

2.3.1.3 A faculty member shall have the right to know the overload pay policies of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

2.3.1.4 A faculty member who believes that his academic rights have been violated by any member of the University shall have the right to contact appropriate persons.

2.3.2.1 A faculty member shall have the right to a fair share of the overload payments of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

2.3.4.1 A faculty member shall have the right to examine any written or numerical material or evidence of achievement he may deem appropriate.

3.1.4 A faculty member shall have the right to know the reasons for any significant change in his academic assignment and shall promptly be given reasons for his reassignment in writing upon his written request.

3.1.5 A faculty member shall have the right to be informed of the results of any performance evaluation, and to the academic performance of a faculty member shall be based upon procedures which shall be determined by the University.

3.1.6 A faculty member shall have the right to examine any written or numerical material or evidence of academic performance except letters of recommendations, job letters, and references which are necessarily prepared on a confidential basis.

3.1.7 A faculty member shall have the right to submit for evaluation any additional materials or evidence of academic accomplishment he may deem appropriate.

3.1.8 A faculty member who believes that his academic rights have been violated by any member of the University shall have the right to contact appropriate persons.

3.2 Rights and Responsibilities

3.2.1 A faculty member shall have the right to participate in the collective bargaining process as provided by law and in accordance with the policies and procedures promulgated by the University.

3.2.2 A faculty member shall have the right to know the overload pay policies of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

3.2.3 A faculty member shall have the right to know the overload pay policies of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

3.2.4 A faculty member shall have the right to know the overload pay policies of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

3.3 Academic Rights and Responsibilities

3.3.1 General Academic Rights

3.3.1.1 A faculty member shall have the right to a free and complete evaluation of his performance based on the results of his academic assignment.

3.3.1.2 A faculty member shall have a right to a fair share of the overload payments of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

3.3.1.3 A faculty member shall have the right to know the overload pay policies of the University and of the administrative unit to which he is assigned.

3.3.1.4 A faculty member who believes that his academic rights have been violated by any member of the University shall have the right to contact appropriate persons.

3.3.2 A faculty member shall have the right to examine any written or numerical material or evidence of academic performance except letters of recommendations, job letters, and references which are necessarily prepared on a confidential basis.

3.3.3 A faculty member shall have the right to submit for evaluation any additional materials or evidence of academic accomplishment he may deem appropriate.

3.3.4 A faculty member who believes that his academic rights have been violated by any member of the University shall have the right to contact appropriate persons.
Responsibilities of Faculty at MSU

c change in any individual grade that represents the faculty member's good faith judgment of a student's performance in his course.

3.3.2 A faculty member shall have the right to initiate and continue in student's performance in his course.

3.3.3 A faculty member shall have the right to receive and evaluate his teaching adequacy, or to reasonable requirements resulting from an evaluation of his teaching.

3.3.4 A faculty member shall have the right to an Academic Adviser. An Academic Adviser shall have the right to an academic advising load which is consistent with unit expectations for faculty advisers and a fair and accurate evaluation of the competence of the faculty member.

3.3.5 A faculty member shall have the right to participate in or be represented in the development of the advising policy in the college or department.

3.3.6 A faculty adviser shall have the right to provide information about curricular or major requirements.

3.3.7 A faculty member shall have the right to be relieved of the more clerical aspects of advising.

3.3.8 A faculty member shall have the right to be notified in writing of the number and limits of the necessary economies of his Academic Adviser.

3.3.9 A faculty member shall have the right to a systematic orientation to advisement practices in keeping with reasonable practices relevant to academic advising.

3.3.10 A faculty member shall have the right to forward all written or verbal expressions of clinical, professional, and personal judgment to the catalogue description and to detailed examinations into any area of academic performance.

3.3.11 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that advising responsibility to assure the maintenance of an adequate academic standard in the University and in the particular college or department.

3.3.12 A faculty member shall have the responsibility to conduct research or engage in creative activities from an ethical posture consistent with professional standards for human subjects, and in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.13 A faculty member shall have the responsibility to protect the confidentiality of any communication between himself and his advisee during his advising role.

3.3.14 A faculty member shall have the responsibility to avoid constructing any decision or action taken in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.15 A faculty member shall have the responsibility to provide materials or evidence of advising competence in the areas of program planning, research, or creative endeavors and be shown to enhance his competence as a teacher and researcher.

3.3.16 A faculty member shall have the right to profess his scholarly or professional competence in an area of academic performance.

3.3.17 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that professional accomplishments represent a significant element in the evaluation of his academic performance in the University and in the particular college or department.

3.3.18 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.19 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.20 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.21 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.22 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.

3.3.23 A faculty member shall have the right to expect that his teaching performance is to be evaluated in the spirit of an objective search for knowledge in his field.
A March 'shower'

The late winter ice storm two weeks ago was one of the worst in the memory of those in the grounds maintenance department who are still working to repair tree and shrub damage from the storm. Although most of the affected branches have been cut and hauled, it will be months before all of the remaining limb stubs are trimmed and treated, according to a grounds maintenance specialist. About a dozen trees had to be cut down, eight of them on the main campus.

The University suffered only one minor power failure – in a portion of the quonset hut area – when a power pole guy wire snapped. The university suffered only one minor power failure – in a portion of the quonset hut area – when a power pole guy wire snapped. The university suffered only one minor power failure – in a portion of the quonset hut area – when a power pole guy wire snapped. The university suffered only one minor power failure – in a portion of the quonset hut area – when a power pole guy wire snapped. The university suffered only one minor power failure – in a portion of the quonset hut area – when a power pole guy wire snapped.

Service, retirement awards made

More than 200 persons who have served MSU were recognized at the 10th annual retirement and service award dinner last week. Honored were those retiring and those who have given 15, 20 or 25 years of service to the University. There were 44 retirees, 36 twenty-five year awards, 53 twenty-year awards, and 105 fifty-year awards.

Those with 15 or 20 years of service received insignia pins or charms, those with 25 years will be presented gold watches, and the retirees will receive certificates.

President Wurton made the presentations, assisted by Jack Breslin, executive vice president.

Of special note were three retirees with more than 40 years of service:

Vern Severance of General Stores with 44 years, 7 months; Glenn Williams of the Kellogg Biological Station with 43 years, 1 month; and Hazel A. Brickley of Central Stenographic with 42 years, 2 months.

Retirees include (years of service in parentheses):

M. Elaine Atkinson, Kellogg Center (20); Hazel A. Brickley, central stenographic (43); Selba S. Brown, I.P., Experiment Station (36); Vera Brown, health center (24); Robert A. Cain, physical plant (17); William A. Carver, agricultural engineering (26); Charles D. Cary, physical plant (17); Floyd Chalander, horticulture (21); Nenda Chandlee, Yokohl Hall (21); Strategy Franklin, grounds maintenance (16); Mary Gabriel, Campbell Hall (19); Irene J. Gumble, Shope Hall (25); Deidra J. Gast, Bosky Hall (15); Jack Giordano, Landar Hall (16); and Oso B. Groen, Wilson Hall (45).

Other retirees are: Ms. Todd, Custodes, Yakele Hall (49); Roy E. Graham, physical plant (25); Marrese Hampton, West Coast Federal

A University-wide seminar series on "Planned Change and Group Methods" will begin next Tuesday (April 4). The nine weekly sessions include such topics as list listening skills, Gestalt demonstration, organizational change, parent effectiveness and human potential.

The seminar will meet from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., through May 30 in 337-A and -B of Case Hall. It is open to all faculty and staff on a noncredit basis. Further information is available from Dozier Thornton (353-0795) or Mason Miller (355-6388).

Faculty art show to open

An exhibit of works by 19 members of the art faculty will open Friday (March 31) from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the Kresge Art Center Gallery.

Photographs and works in other media. Included in the works are "Pylons," by sculptor Robert Weil; acrylic paintings such as Allen Lopka's "Standing Figure," and Irving Turan's "Judy's Boy," and an etching by James Fagan, titled "King Zebra Isn't Surprised!"

Other faculty artists whose works will be displayed include Clifton McChenney, Mehri Lekimowski, Robert Alexander, Roger Funk, William Gamble, Anthony DeBlassi, Owen Brunaid, David G. Logan, Ralf Hennicken, James Lawton, James McConnell, Jim Pom, Stacy Proffitt, Mrs. Nan Stackhouse and Miss Arlene Sheer.

The exhibit is open to the public without charge. Refreshments will be served at the opening Friday evening. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday; 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday, and 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The gallery will be open Easter weekend.

Medical education has an open house

A first-hand view of education facilities at the three medical schools, plus exhibits and demonstrations illustrating work of 11 different health professions, will be offered to campus visitors to Health Careers Day on Saturday, April 8. More than 3,000 persons are expected.

The program, proposed, planned and conducted by students, will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Students training for various health professions will be on hand to discuss veterinary medicine, human medicine, osteopathic medicine, dietetics, speech and hearing, medical technology, therapy, psychology, nursing, and social work.

Open house activities will include the popular Vetavisit, staged for the 10th consecutive year at the small animal veterinary clinic.

Students of all ages and their families, school groups and other youth organizations will tour the University's new Life Sciences Building, the Auditory and Speech Sciences Building, the medical library at Fee Hall, as well as the Veterinary Center.

Shuttle buses will link the four medical education areas conducting open house activities.

Both Health Careers Day and the MSU Organization of Health Profession Students Day (April 7) and the Michigan Health Council.

Nobel Laureate visit slated

A good Irving example of the influence one person can have upon the relationship between nations is that of Nobel Laureate Chen Ning Yang. His influence in physics, for which he won the Nobel Prize, is sufficient proof.

Yang will campus visit next week and give a talk titled "My Impressions of the People's Republic of China" (Monday, 8 p.m., 100B, Doak Center). Previously, before President Nixon's visit to the Far East, Yang met with President Nixon and his entourage.

Similarly, he was amidst history - making of his own and his colleagues in science - to turn around an established doctrine.

Physicists believed there were no exceptions to the law of parity – that is, every particle was its own antiparticle and nothing could distinguish between left and right.

Previously, scientists had assumed that the elementary particles of nature, which make up the stuff of atoms, do not "distinguish" between right and left.

Weak interactions of elementary particles that make up the universe is what Yang has helped fellow physicists to better understand. The big picture relationships between physics, chemistry, and biology, he said, is anybody's guess.

China, physics, science and society is what Yang may help the audience, next week, to better understand. Again, as in his Nobel speech on the future of the physical understanding of the universe, Yang earned the Ph. D. under Enrico Fermi and Edward Teller in 1949. He left for the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton where he became a professor of physics. He is currently at the State University of New York, Stony Brook.

— PHILLIP E. MILLER
BULLETINS

CAMPUS MAPS
New MSU campus maps are now available in quantity from the Department of Information Services. To order, call 5-2283.

SCHEDULE OF COURSES
The 1972 summer term Schedule of Courses and Academic Handbook is now available for departmental use. Departmental representatives may pick up a supply in 64 Hannah Administration Bldg.

OPENING EXHIBIT
There will be an opening exhibit at Krenge Art Center Gallery from 7:30 to 10 p.m., Friday, March 31, for faculty works done in various media. Refreshments will be served.

RETIREES CLUB
President and Mrs. Wharton will be the guests of honor at a meeting of the Retirees Club at 12:30 p.m., Monday, April 10. Reservations must be made by calling Merrill Pierson, 332-0115.

SOCIAL WORK
Giacomo Leopardi will present a lecture on "Social Work Among Ancient Etruscans" at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 1. For further information, contact E. Thomas, 3-7237.

DIRECTORY
An annual directory of environmental consultants is now being compiled. Environmentally concerned professionals interested in having their name and short resume appear in the directory should send a No. 10, self-addressed stamped envelope to: Directory of Environmental Consultants, P.O. Box 8002, University Station, St. Louis, Mo., 63108.

WINGED SPARTANS
The MSU Flying Club, Winged Spartans, Inc., will hold an introductory ground school meeting at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 5, in 34 Union, for faculty, staff and students who are interested in learning to fly. The Club has a fleet of modern Cessna aircraft, and certified flight instructors for primary and advanced flight training.

CONFERENCES
April 3-5 Highlights in Food Science, Hospitality Motor Inn Lansing
April 3-5 Public Affairs Conf. for Michigan Community Action Agencies
April 4-7 American Public Power Assoc.
April 5 Michigan Chapter American Academy of Optometry
April 6-7 Michigan United Fund Conf.

SEMINARS
THURSDAY, MARCH 30, 1972
Phosphoribosylphosphosphate amidotransferase. Dr. James B. Wingarden, Duke U., Durham, N.C., 4:10 p.m., 101 Biochemistry (Biochemistry).
Prospects for nuclear physics with the MIT electron linear accelerator. W. Bentozzi, MIT, 8 p.m., Cyclotron Seminar Room (Physics).

MONDAY, APRIL 3, 1972
Studies on repair of UV-induced single strand break in BU-DNA of E. coli. W.S. Dennis, Yale U., 4:10 p.m., 101 Biochemistry (AEC Plant Research Lab & Genetics Group).
Animal production and world feeding. Georg A. Borgstrom, 12:30 p.m., 126 Anthony (Dairy Science).
A general review of high-energy collisions. C.N. Yang, Nobel laureate in physics. 4:10 p.m., 118 Physics-Astronomy (Physics).
Electrophysiological studies on peripheral modulation at the frog taste receptor. Francis Kutyna, 4 p.m., 216 Gillner (Physiology).

TUESDAY, APRIL 4, 1972
Physical organic chemistry. Kenneth Wiberg, Yale U., 4 p.m., 130 Chemistry (Chemistry).

BOTANICAL CLUB
The Michigan Botanical Club will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 4, in 204 Horticulture. Irving Knoblock will speak on " Ferns."

SOARING CLUB
Faculty, staff and their families are invited to learn to soar. A free demonstration ride can be won at the April 5 meeting at 7:30 p.m. in 30 Union. For information call Bob Johnson, 882-3250.

MATERIAL DUE
Material to be considered for action at the April 21 meeting of the Board of Trustees is due March 31 in either the office of the Executive Vice President or the Provost.

PHI KAPPA PHI
There will be a meeting of officers and committee chairman of Phi Kappa Phi honorary at 3 p.m., Thursday, March 30, in 443A Hannah Administration Bldg. Completed reports should be brought to the meeting.

C. N. YANG
Nobel prize winner C.N. Yang will discuss " My Impressions of the People's Republic of China" at 8 p.m., Monday, April 3, in 108B Wells. During a visit before President Nixon's arrival, Yang had met several times with Premier Chou and members of the Chinese National Academy of Science. Theoretical physicist Yang and his colleague T.D. Lee received the Nobel prize in physics in 1957 for their work which led to the overthrow of the law of conservation of parity.

FACULTY FOLK
Faculty Folk will meet on Friday, April 14 at 12:45 p.m. at Abrams Planterium for a " Journey Through the Universe." The program will be followed by a reception given by Mrs. Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. at Cowles House. Reservations for the program must be made through Mrs. Milton Dickerson or Mrs. Robert Green. Nursery reservations at People's Church may be made by calling Mrs. C.R. Halverson, 337-0184, or Mrs. J.S. Bolen, 351-6423.

All conferences will be held in Kellogg Center unless otherwise noted.

Students and faculty members are welcome to attend these continuing education programs. Those who are interested should make arrangements in advance with the Office of University Conferences, 5-4590.

The economic development of France in the nineteenth century. Francois Crouzet, the Sorbonne, 3:30 p.m., 111 Berkey (Economics).
Neonatal calf mortality. Louis E. Newman, 4:10 p.m., 346 Giltner (Pathology).

ETHREL—Registration, marketing and potential uses for 1972. Robert de Wilde, Amchem Products, Inc., 11 a.m., 209 Horticulture (Horticulture).
Metabolism of medium chain triglycerides. R.C. Thuener, Mead Johnson Research Center, 3:30 p.m., 131 Anthony (Institute of Nutrition).

THURSDAY, APRIL 6, 1972
Heavy ion induced transfer reactions. H.L. Korner, Argonne National Laboratories. 8 p.m., Cyclotron Seminar Room (Physics).
Color vision. Tom Cornsweet, 4:15 p.m., 126 Psychology Research (Psychology).
The measurement and meaning of masculinity/femininity. Lee Sechrest, Northwesterns U., 4 p.m. 304 Olds (Psychology).

For general information about MSU, call 353-8700.
Thursday, March 30, 1972

3 p.m. Martin Luther King Jr. Lecture on Social Change — Andrew Young, the chairman of the Atlanta (Ga.) Human Relations Commission and the first black man in 100 years to win the Democratic nomination for Congress in the deep South, will discuss "Nonviolent Social Change." Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the civil rights leader who was slain April 4, 1968, will introduce the Rev. Young at the memorial lecture. The lecture is sponsored by the Center for Urban Affairs, the College of Social Science, Justin Morrill College, and the School of Social Work. There is no charge for admission. Auditorium.

8 p.m. "Civilisation"—"Pursuit of Happiness," Part IX of Kenneth Clark's series, will be shown by the Friends of the Library. Admission is free. 108B Wells Hall.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves"—With a unique set, life-size puppets, film, abstract lighting projections, and live players, Frank Eiler's play in the sky theatre attempts to show the evolution of Galileo's theory of the universe as well as his vulnerability as a man in the face of the Inquisition. Special advance tickets may be purchased at the Union, or Planetarium ticket offices. Abrams Planetarium.

Friday, March 31, 1972

2 p.m. "King: From Montgomery to Memphis"—This famous film portrays the story of Martin Luther King and his civil rights activities from the bus boycott in 1956 to his assassination in 1968. Auditorium.

8 p.m. Horse show—The Block and Bridle Club will present their 24th annual horse show. Livestock Pavilion.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Saturday, April 1, 1972

1 p.m. 24th Annual Block and Bridle Club Horse Show. Livestock Pavilion.

5:30 p.m. "Pakistan Night"—A Pakistani dinner, native dress, music and dance will all be part of entertainment offered by the Pakistan Students' Association. For information, contact Syed M. Umar, 332-0202. University United Methodist Church, 1120 S. Harrison Rd.

7:30 p.m. 24th Annual Block and Bridle Club Horse Show. Livestock Pavilion.

8 p.m. World Travel Series—Marion Dix will explore "The Pyrenees." University Auditorium.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Sunday, April 2, 1972

4 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Tuesday, April 4, 1972

12 p.m. University Club Luncheon—The Rev. Warren Day of the United Ministries in Higher Education will speak on "Bangladesh Disaster." He has just returned from a fact-finding tour of the country.

3:15 p.m. Academic Council—The Council will hold its regular meeting in the Con Con Room of the International Center.

Wednesday, April 5, 1972

3:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Thursday, April 6, 1972

7:30 p.m. Communication Arts Lecture Series—Raymond A. League, president of Zebra Associates, Inc., New York, will discuss the assertion that "23 Million American Consumers Are Black." 116 Natural Science Bldg.

8 p.m. "Civilisation"—"Smile of Reason," Part X, and "The Worship of Nature," Part XI of Kenneth Clark's series, will be shown by the Friends of the Library. There is no charge for admission. 108B Wells Hall.

8:15 p.m. Modern Dance Concert—Eleven numbers, choreographed and danced by the members of Orchesis, are under the direction of Dixie Durr. "Tickets may be purchased from noon to 5 p.m. daily at the theatre boxoffice. Fairchild Theatre.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Friday, April 7, 1972

3 p.m. Tennis—MSU vs. Iowa. MSU Courts.

8:15 p.m. Modern Dance Concert (see April 6). Fairchild Theatre.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

Saturday, April 8, 1972

9 a.m. Vetavisit—The MSU veterinary clinic will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to allow interested persons to explore the dimensions of veterinary medicine, gain career information, and to observe and discuss student exhibitions and demonstrations. Small Animal Veterinary Clinic.

1 p.m. Tennis—MSU vs. Minnesota. MSU Courts.

2 p.m. Modern Dance Concert (see April 6). Fairchild Theatre.

8 p.m. World Travel Series—Robert Ashburn will discuss "Flying the Spanish Main." Auditorium.

8:15 p.m. Music—The Percussion Ensemble and the New Musical Arts Ensemble will perform. There is no charge for admission. Music Auditorium.

8:30 p.m. "The Search: Still It Moves" (see March 30). Abrams.

EXHIBITIONS

Woodlands, water and wildlife are year around features. Open daily until sundown.

Information on MSU events may be submitted, for possible inclusion in the bulletins, to Patricia Grauer, Dept. of Information Services, 109 Agriculture Hall, (517) 353-8819.

The calendar of events will cover an 8-day period, Friday through Saturday.