A Company Organized.

Wednesday evening under the leadership of Liet. Bandholtz, the students held a meeting at the Armory and decided to organize a company to be held in readiness for the call for troops. Thursday evening the company organized by electing the following officers: Capt.-F. V. Warren; first lieutenant, F. T. Williams; second lieutenant, A. M. Patriarche; first sergeant, W. H. Flynn; quartermaster-sergeant, W. K. Brainerd. The line sergeants and corporals will be appointed among the College graduates.

The company will drill Saturday days in field work, outposts, route sketching, etc. It will be regular company and will be in condition for actual service. At the time of electing officers 101 had pledged themselves to go, and from this number the required 55 will be selected. About forty more have asked and desire to take the extra drill, but for various reasons did not pledge themselves to go with the regular company.

Athletic Benefit a Success.

The entertainment given by the Feronian and Thesian societies Friday evening in the Armory for the benefit of the boys of the 16th Ranger Association, was a grand success in every way. Receipts at the door amounted to $64.50 and the program was excellent.

Miss McDermott presided and introduced the first number on the program, a piano solo. Twenty young women then gave a羡 parlour quartette, followed by a piano solo by Miss Boll, a dumb-hall drill by the same two and a piano solo by Miss Huxley. The program was introduced by scenes which captured the audience was a basketball game between teams representing the two societies, the Thesians being assisted by Misses Coman and Watkins. The first half was a little slow but there was no lack of excitement when the half closed. A combination of the two teams brought out some really fine plays. The second half was much livelier and brought out some really fine plays. The second half was much livelier and brought out some really fine plays. Among the "Old Boys."

The war spirit seems to be rampant among the College graduates who had military instruction. Many of these have written to College officials to ask if a company can be organized, which will be the company, be organized, which will be organized, be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be organized, which will be.

In the autumn of 1896 it was aranged that the Hon. Wm. Ball, Dean of the Agricultural College, while doing institute work in the Northern Peninsula, should give an account of the counties they visited for the purpose of giving a brief and hasty investigation as to the agricultural possibilities of that portion of the State. They made reports which will be found beginning with page XXVII of the Farmer's Institute report for 1896-7. With the idea of still further bring­ing this matter to the front, a whole session at the last round-up institute was devoted to northern Michigan. A full report of the papers and discussions at this session will be published in the forthcoming report of Farmers' Institutes, which will be ready about July 1. During the session of last year, the subject of this report was presented and adopted.

Some Important Indirect Results of the Round-up.

I wish to mention two lines of work formulated at the recent State Round-up at the Farmers' Institute of Michigan Agricultural College, which, if carried out, will mean a great deal to the farmers of Michigan.

At that Institute we devoted something over half a day to the important subject of marketing farm products. Recognizing the supreme importance of the question, we asked Mr. Robt. Gibbons, of the Michigan Farmer, to discuss the subject of the marketing of stock and grain.

After Mr. Gibbons had read his paper at the Institute, a paper which aroused most intense interest, a resolution was passed at the close of the meeting, directing the committee to draw up some further resolutions relative to this subject, to be acted upon by the Institute. The committee appointed submitted the follow­ing resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of the farmers in attendance at this institute, comprising representatives from nearly every county in the State, that the present system meets the grain and seed crops, working injuriously to the interests of producers, and greatly damaged the sales of Michigan's grain crops; it is, therefore,

The Wandering Singer and His Songs.
One of the handiest College souvenirs ever published is the book of poems by Frank Hodgeman, '68, of Climax, entitled "The Wandering Singer and His Songs and Other Poems." The book is bound in jubil­ated white cloth with gold and blue trimmings, contains 128 pages, and is printed on fine paper with full gilt edges. It is illustrated with wood cuts of portraits of College and other scenes and with sketches by Prof. W. S. Holdsworth, '78, and E. N. Thayer, '93. In that part of the book devoted to College poems, the page that does not suggest sweet memories of days gone by, not only for the student of today but for the students of the nineties as well. Everybody who has seen the work is delighted with it.—M. A. C. RECORD, Feb. 9, 1898.
