Address by Edward P. Allen.

Lyrics of the Bible.

Dr. Kelso has received a copy of the "Bible Address" of Rev. Dr. G. A. Alliott, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Boston, Mass., and has recommended it to all who have an interest in the study of the Bible. It is a beautiful and eloquent work, and is sure to be appreciated by all who take an interest in the subject.

Impressions of American Agricultural Colleges.

From Miss Monroe.

Dick's Pets.

Miss Monroe's many friends will be glad to learn that she is living a happy and useful life. Her work at the agricultural college has been well done, and is appreciated by all who know her. She is a true friend to the students, and is always ready to help them in any way she can.

Lyrics of the Bible.

The fourth lecture in the course of Biblical Masterpieces was given by Dr. Moulton in the armory last Monday afternoon. After explaining the nature of Hebrew verse, he showed that the language is not the same, not the number of syllables to the line, that distinguishes Hebrew verse from prose; it is a parallelism of thought and structure in Hebrew which is the distinguishing mark. The two, prose and poetry, frequently overlap, and become one and the same, so that it is easy to extemporize a good example of extemporized poetry is in the Psalms. The Psalms are well known and loved by the sailors and their daughters, and are the inspiration of all sailors. The Psalms are written in a musical rhythm, and are often sung by sailors in their work. The Psalms are a means of keeping sailors in their right minds, and are a source of great comfort and solace to them.

Dr. Kelso thoroughly enjoys the Psalms, and has recommended them to all who have an interest in the study of the Bible. He is a true friend to the students, and is always ready to help them in any way he can.

Other Colleges.

C. L. Brewer, a football and baseball man of Wisconsin, has been elected athletic director by Albion College.

Albion receives a valuable bequest—the literary library of the late Dr. Cyrus Smith, of Jackson, valued at $10,000.

Wisconsin and the U. of M. will resume athletic relations this year. Baseball games have been arranged and four matches will be played.

Trainer Fitzpatrick, who has been ill in an eastern hospital for many weeks, has returned to the U. of M. and began training the track team for the track meet.

Hereafter any student who chases in examination at the North Western University will not be allowed to escape from the institution, but will be required to attend the college paper and be sent to the faculty of other colleges—Ex.

Harvard University has lately reorganized its athletic committee, and the new organization will be published in the college paper and sent to the faculty of other colleges.

About the Secretary's Office.

Secretary elect, A. C. Bird, took charge of the office last Wednesday, but will not resign his family to the College until the end of the month. The intervening time will be spent by Mrs. Bird with her people in Charlevoix. She is a true friend to the students, and is always ready to help them in any way she can.

The best men are not those who have the chances but those who have taken them; besieged the chance; conquered the chance; and made the most of it.

The lack of opportunity is ever the excuse of those who can render him great help. But in time these obstacles will be surmounted, and he will draw to his aid not alone the interested sympathy of others, but the far more valuable aids of material resources. In every instance where a principle dominates a man's mind and is supported by earnestness and courage it never fails to attract all the resources necessary to its success.

pretext of going for her handkerchief, she seized the opportunity to leave the house.

Arriving home, she dispatched a note to Miss Belmont, telling her the circumstances and saying, "Something very strange drove me out of the house in the face of all polite­ness." Her reply was a note from her friend desiring her to come imme­diately and see her, and determined to see the matter through, she went at once to the house on Larned street. Miss Belmont, evidently ill from worry, was lying very pale and still on a sofa, but rousing at the sight of the note to Miss Belmont, telling her the pretext of going for her handker­chief, she seized the opportunity to leave the house.

Remarkable Surgery.

Dr. Nancrede, of the U. of M. re­

The patient, who came all the way from Portland, Oregon, to have the operation performed, promptly regained her speech, and a permanent recovery is expected by the hospital

From Nova Scotia.

Robert J. Wilson, Jr., with '97m has become proprietor of the Troy Steam Laundry Co., of Halifax, Nova Scotia. A recent letter from him is so full of interest that we are sure his old friends will be glad to read extracts from it.

"As you will see by the heading, I have become interested in a steam laundry business in my native city, and as this work requires skill and experience in handling steam and machinery, hardly a day goes by but bears testimony to the value of the training I received during my three years at the old A. C."

"You will perhaps understand how pleased I was to receive a letter from you, even though it brought no news regarding the welfare of my many friends; it at least witnessed the fact that I was still thought of, and also brought back to my mind some of the pleasantest moments of my life..."

Mr. Wilson is probably right in his faith that this is the first news of any kind that has come to me from M. A. C. for about three years, but has not yet settled and changed my address so often that it is probable there are still letters following me from place to place.

At last I drifted home to find a new vacation, or rather to make it for myself, and to settle down in a little home of my own, with only one girl in the world to take care of it and me."

This is located at May­ bor, where I shall be delighted to receive any of my old brilliant friends."

And let me mention right here, that it is well worth while for any one to take time and trouble to visit our little Garrison city."

"Now your circular has caused me to make a resolution. That I will henceforth keep myself well posted regarding M. A. C. matters; and so, I enclose a letter for which please the M. A. C. Record sent to me from the beginning of this year. May I ask you to kindly remember me to all my friends as you meet them, and if any would wish to correspond with me, I would be very pleased to reply to their letters."
