Exercises of Commencement Week.

Wednesday, June 14.—Class day exercises of the graduating class at 9 a.m.; review of battalion at 3 p.m.; society reunions at 8 p.m.

Thursday, June 15.—President's reception at 3 p.m.

Friday, June 16.—Beginning at 10 a.m., commencement exercises: Address, "The Law of Equipoise," by Dr. A. S. Draper, president of the University of Illinois; address, "The Relations of Science to Agriculture," by S. L. Ingersoll '99, representing the agricultural course; address, "Significance of the Women's Club Movement," Miss Teresa A. Bristol '99, representing the women's course.

P. S. Rose, who was elected to represent the mechanical course, has accepted a position in Cincinnati, Ohio, and is excused from speaking.

The music will consist of a piano solo by Mrs. Marshall, a vocal selection by the quartette, and selections by the College Band.

Senior Mechanical Thesis.

The subjects of the theses that the mechanical seniors are just completing are as follows:

Messrs. Lowry and Agnew intended to make a two horse-power Buckeye Engine in Lansing, but on account of an accident to one of the electric engines of the College, they were obliged to forego this work.

Content in Oratory and Debate.

The annual contest in oratory and debate among representatives of the Colleges of Arts and Professions was held in the Armory last Friday evening. The contest program was interspersed with pleasing selections of music from the band and from a quartette composed of Messrs. Robinson, Bristol, Love and Parklick. There were four orations on subjects as follows:

1. "Education the Solution of the Negro Problem," by Eugene Price, of the Phi Delta Society.

Following the presentation of orations came a well contested debate between George Severance, Columbian Society, and Mr. H. Lapham, professor of physics, on the subject, "Resolved, That War Is More Detrimental Than Beneficial to National Welfare." Each contestant, after presenting a prepared argument, was allowed seven minutes for refutation.

The result of the two contests, as announced by Rev. C. F. Swift, was a victory for Eugene Price in oratory, and for H. M. Lapham, professor of physical science, in debate. Each successful contestant will be presented on commencement day with a gold belt, the nascent Century Atlas and Century Dictionary of Names.

The music was in good taste and style, and received the following:

Rev. C. H. Myers, Rev. H. B. Bard, and Miss Helen Douglas; those on delivery, Rev. C. F. Swift, Prof. C. D. Smith, and Miss Emelie Mack.

Death of Mrs. Corbin.

Mrs. Marguerite Moore Corbin, the mother of Nathaniel Corbin, of the Detroit Tribune editorial staff and formerly a professor at this College, was called to her rest on the morning of dormiphoria. She had been ill for about a week, but until the last her illness had been diagnosed as tonsillitis.

The death is particularly sad in that it was almost the direct result of the mother's love for her children and devotion to them. About two months ago, one of the two children had died of dormiphoria, and during that sickness Mrs. Corbin and Mr. Corbin's mother, was unceasing in their care of the child.

The child recovered but both Mrs. Corbin and her mother-in-law were taken down with what was pronounced tonsillitis. On Sunday of last week Mr. Corbin was taken to the Armory and the doctors then said all three had dormiphoria.

The case of the younger Mrs. Corbin proved to be a virulent type of dormiphoria and she passed away Wednesday morning. Mr. Corbin was able to visit the doctors and the doctors then said all three had dormiphoria.

The case of the younger Mrs. Corbin proved to be a virulent type of dormiphoria and she passed away Wednesday morning, but the doctors then said all three had dormiphoria.

The baccalaureate service held in the armory Sunday evening was attended by a large number of people. Several of the Lansing pastors disposed of evening services and assisted in the exercises at the College. This enabled those who cared to do so to hear the eminent divine and college president who preached the baccalaureate sermon, and many availed themselves of the opportunity. The change of time for the exercises, from the usual midday to the cool of evening, was very acceptable to the congregation.

The sermon given by Dr. John H. Lawson, president of Oberlin College, was a grand one, growing out of the broad experience in religious work a man of his vocation. He labored in all parts of the world; and we are glad to be able to present him with a synopsis of his course in another column of this issue. It is worthy of being treasured in the memory of every one, and the members of the graduating class are to be congratulated upon hearing, in this last sermon in college halls, such words of wisdom from so able and worthy a teacher as Dr. Barrows.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate service held in the armory Sunday evening was attended by a large number of people. Several of the Lansing pastors disposed of evening services and assisted in the exercises at the College. This enabled those who cared to do so to hear the eminent divine and college president who preached the baccalaureate sermon, and many availed themselves of the opportunity. The change of time for the exercises, from the usual midday to the cool of evening, was very acceptable to the congregation.

The sermon given by Dr. John H. Lawson, president of Oberlin College, was a grand one, growing out of the broad experience in religious work a man of his vocation. He labored in all parts of the world; and we are glad to be able to present him with a synopsis of his course in another column of this issue. It is worthy of being treasured in the memory of every one, and the members of the graduating class are to be congratulated upon hearing, in this last sermon in college halls, such words of wisdom from so able and worthy a teacher as Dr. Barrows.

Farm Notes.

South and east of the grain barn on the property from which the surpluses long ago removed, there is standing an unusually heavy crop of clover. Four varieties are there on trial: Alisk to the west; next a rust; then a soybean; and, on the east side, medium. The extra-fungous diseases, one a rust, and a soybean, are new varieties of vegetations and various methods of cultivation on manck land.

Field 16 is a mass of clover bloom. The hay will be harvested late Commencement week and the early part of the following week.

Prof. Mumford purchased at the sale of T. S. Cooper, in eastern Pennsylvania, a Jersey bull, Pennoy's Marking Duke. He is between six and seven months old and a very handsome specimen of the breed. The breed is hardy in the fall, and silage put up last fall. There is enough of it on hand to carry the current crop through the winter and the silage will not be pastured this summer, but after the silage is exhausted will be fed feeding crops.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

The baccalaureate service held in the armory Sunday evening was attended by a large number of people. Several of the Lansing pastors disposed of evening services and assisted in the exercises at the College. This enabled those who cared to do so to hear the eminent divine and college president who preached the baccalaureate sermon, and many availed themselves of the opportunity. The change of time for the exercises, from the usual midday to the cool of evening, was very acceptable to the congregation.

The sermon given by Dr. John H. Lawson, president of Oberlin College, was a grand one, growing out of the broad experience in religious work a man of his vocation. He labored in all parts of the world; and we are glad to be able to present him with a synopsis of his course in another column of this issue. It is worthy of being treasured in the memory of every one, and the members of the graduating class are to be congratulated upon hearing, in this last sermon in college halls, such words of wisdom from so able and worthy a teacher as Dr. Barrows.

Echoes From the Shops.

The department hopes soon to be granted authority to purchase a new fathe.

Considerable time has been devoted to planning and to the system for Williams and Wells balks.

The department still has a considerable supply of reference cards, which may be had upon application to the clerk of the department.

The number of students employed by the department during the coming vacation will be comparatively small, this condition being brought about by the fact that the department has been obliged to use such a large portion of its apportionment in the purchase of materials and stock to be used by the large classes.

All interested in the mechanical departments should bear in mind that next fall the last opportunity will be given to register under the present requirement for admission. See new catalogue.

Mary E. Jenkins, of Lansing, has commenced the erection of a house on the College Delta and concrete plans are being drawn by students with rooms by the department during the coming vacation. Any students desiring to secure rooms, can do so by calling on L. S. Jenkins, clerk, Mechanical Department.

Athletic Association Items.

The Athletic Association met last Monday evening and elected the following officers: President, W. T. Parks; vice president Paul Thayer; treasurer, H. P. Dyckerhoff; secretary, J. H. Skinner; baseball manager, M. N. Norton. The baseball team has elected E. S. Thorp, quarterback. These with W. E. Russell, track captain, J. H. Venderstoep, football captain, and R. E. Lyle, football manager, previously elected, will constitute the officers of the association for the ensuing year.

Trainer Max Beutner addressed the meeting, gave the athletes great credit for their efforts, and thanked them for the loyal support they had given them.

On Tuesday evening the baseball team, track men and wrestlers, with Mr. Beutner as their guest, took supper together in Club A and at the close of the meal presented him a silver snakking set, on the tray of which was engraved, "Max Beutner, from M. I. A. Athletes, 1899." Mr. Beutner left the same evening for his home in Chicago, taking with him the good wishes of every student on the campus.

Changes in M. I. A. A. Records.

Get your M. A. C. Record of May 23 and make the following changes in "Best M. I. A. A. Records:"

100-yard dash—10 1-5 seconds, by Nuerer, Albion, 1897.

Throwing (16-pound hammer)—Record by Patterson, Hillsdale, instead of second.

High jump—5 feet, 7 inches, by Hayne, Kalamazoo, 1899.

Running hop, step and jump—44 feet, 11-32 inches, by Weydemaney, M. A. C., 1899.

Quartile bicycle—35 4-5 seconds, by Brown, M. A. C. 1899.

Some of these records are corrections of names.

Whitney (58 Hillsdale) and others are new records made this year.

It now President McNair.

Prof. F. W. McNair, formerly assistant professor of mathematics at M. A. C., has been elected president of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton. He has been acting president of the institution for nearly a year.
THE M. A. C. RECORD.

JUNE 13, 1899

THE M. A. C. RECORD.

Excursionists at M. A. C.

Many excursionists from different parts of the state have visited M. A. C. this term. A large number of them, after a day's excursion through their visit, may sometime become students of the college. All sorts of people attend excursions, and many amusing incidents occur.

While waiting among many excursionists at the depot in Lansing for a car for one of our trips, I was attracted by the conversation between an elderly man and his wife. "What's that man doing with all those yearling school boys and gray clothes?

"I don't know, sir, but I do know he's probably all barns."

"If I was reading in one of the Library alcoves on an excursion day, when I was suddenly addressed by Peter Wells, a tall, slender man, who was a neatly dressed man with a hat on, a bunch of "alalfa" on his chin, his hands upon his hips, and a peculiar twist to his speech that would easily allow his energy to run out at the corners.

"What's that man doing? Can you tell me where the new women's building is, what's got its picture up here on the wall?"

"No, sir, I cannot," I replied, not wishing to tell him, it did not exist anywhere.

He took a catalogue from the long table and passed out, still with his hat on.

Trump's Stopping Place.

Jim Lagoe and Nick Hurley sat in corner of Trump's Stopping Place. They seemed to be carrying on a very interesting conversation. A woman was looking at something that was between her eyes flashed and she sprang up, drew a knife from his belt and glared at Hurley. Nick Hurley with all the temper of a red-haired Irishman, sprang from the chair, his face livid with rage; drew a pistol from his belt, and fired. Lagoe fell upon his face.

"Take that, you half-breed dog."

The smoke of the revolver curled away and mixed with the tobacco smoke which hung around the place. The man who had turned over and from a blackened hole in his forehead spurted a jet of blood.

At this instant the three men who had been asleep by the fireplace sprang up. Jim Hurley, the largest man said excitedly:

"Well, now you've done it, ain't you? You've done gone shot a half-breeder. You'll have to pay for this, I'm afraid."

Hurley smiled doggishly: "I'd like to know what you made me do the paying. I know one thing, the law can't; besides, I'm going up there today, and by that time it will be forgotten."

A short man with the red face and still redder shirt, who stood just behind the large man, spoke up.
Yes, Mick, it's easy to jump the law, but it will be well for you to remember that he has a brother, and you know what an Indian is as well as I do. That brother will kill you if he has to hunt years for you. He'll kill you, Mick; mark my words.

Mick Hurley shoved his pistol back into his belt, pulled out a five dollar bill and handed it to the small man. "Here, give this to Dick, he'll fix things." He turned and left, slamming the door after him; mounteing his pony and spurred off into the gloom.

Two years had passed since John Lang had shot up Trumick's barn, and it had all been forgotten by the men who lounged before the fire.

Mick was loping hard over the head of his pony as she swung over the road. He was riding hard and the pony's flanks heaved as she pushed him. He drew his bridle as he came to the bottom of a hill and the little pony walked slowly up until he got to a ledge then started off on a brisk canter. As she came to a rough ledge of rocks overlooking the town and giving a glimpse of the gray roof of the Stopping Place, she bolted to one side of the road as if she smelt something. Mick patted her sweaty neck and urged her on. With ears laid back and tail flying in the wind, she ran down the ledge; but as she came to a black pine stub she reared on her haunches.

A figure had risen up beside the stub and fired a rifle at Mick, who reeled in his saddle, then fell heavily to the ground. The pony bounded forward with the empty stirrups striking her sides and the loose rein dangling in the wind. There was a wreath of smoke circling about the top of the pine stub, as a dark figure glided away in the gloom. Mick Hurley lay stiff and cold at the foot of the stub, both his hands grasping in death's agony a tuft of grass. His sightless eyes gazed as the moon came up.

"The hardest part of my work is the arrangement of the punishment. The picturesque but loathsome swarlings of Turkish language and the ordinary household make me dizzy as to how to find a good remedy. I have to fight very hard against these, for they are so usual in the streets; but I'm glad to say I see some good results and they encourage me.

"You may know that our church holds two services every day, so I commence the school as soon as the morning exercise is over (6 a.m.) and send the boys all to church at 5:30 p.m. They take two meals during this time. Most of my time is occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Mr. Carisman promises to tell us in a subsequent letter something about the Turkish farmer and his life."

"I have above 95 pupils in my school, from sixty months up to six years of age. I am occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays, I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending her summer in Hillsdale. The past three weeks, returned Saturday."

At the College.

"The board meets this week. Picnics are of almost daily occurrence at the College."

Mrs. Sadie Champion Savage '97 is visiting in Lansing.

The campus was never more beautiful at commencement time.

A load of College people pic­nicked at Pine Lake Saturday. The College appropriation bill has been signed by the Governor.

A new walk has been constructed along the south side of the armory.

Mrs. Woodworth and son Paul returned from Caseville Wednesday.

Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending commencement week at the College.

Mrs. C. H. Alvord, who has been visiting in Hillsdale for the past three weeks, returned Saturday.

One of Our Men in a Turkish School.

We are permitted to quote inter­esting portions of a letter received recently from H. Caramanian with '00, who, in his far-off, Turkish home is doing what he can to make the world better. The quoted portions of the letter give a slight idea of what he is doing. He says:

"After trying nearly a whole year to start a farm or agricultural business, I was convinced that it was not only less hard, but that one could do more good by teaching in our school since September last. Now and then I write some articles on American farming in our political papers (we have no agricultural papers) free of charge. Also, I had some experiments of corn in rows—cutting the things for my countrymen— in the garden of our native church."

"I have above 95 pupils in my school from sixty months up to sixteen years old. Have only one assistant and teach Armenian, Turkish and English languages, arithmetic, book-keeping, geography, religious lessons, etc. Have rheumatic exercises every Saturday morning. Our chief object is to make our graduates ready for the Anatolia College of Marsovan, which is an American institution. I try to get American ways in our school, and though I did not stay long enough in America to study thoroughly that way of education, I try to do my best. I hope you will think that I am busy enough, if I say that I have 10 classes every day, 45 minutes each. Besides that I have to keep an eye on the boys working in the garden during recess."

"The hardest part of my work is the arrangement of the punishment. The picturesque but loathsome swarlings of Turkish language and the ordinary household make me dizzy as to how to find a good remedy. I have to fight very hard against these, for they are so usual in the streets; but I'm glad to say I see some good results and they encourage me."

"You may know that our church holds two services every day, so I commence the school as soon as the morning exercise is over (6 a.m.) and send the boys all to church at 5:30 p.m. They take two meals during this time. Most of my time is occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Mr. Carisman promises to tell us in a subsequent letter something about the Turkish farmer and his life."

"I have above 95 pupils in my school, from sixty months up to six years of age. I am occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays, I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending her summer in Hillsdale. The past three weeks, returned Saturday."

At the College.

"The board meets this week. Picnics are of almost daily occurrence at the College."

Mrs. Sadie Champion Savage '97 is visiting in Lansing.

The campus was never more beautiful at commencement time.

A load of College people pic­nicked at Pine Lake Saturday. The College appropriation bill has been signed by the Governor.

A new walk has been constructed along the south side of the armory.

Mrs. Woodworth and son Paul returned from Caseville Wednesday.

Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending commencement week at the College.

Mrs. C. H. Alvord, who has been visiting in Hillsdale for the past three weeks, returned Saturday.

Electric Storms.

We were visited last week by several unusually severe electrical storms. On Monday evening the Industrial School suffered the loss of its $50,000 shops from fire caused by lightning striking along the south side of the armory. The College appropriation bill has been signed by the Governor.

"I have above 95 pupils in my school from sixty months up to sixteen years old. Have only one assistant and teach Armenian, Turkish and English languages, arithmetic, book-keeping, geography, religious lessons, etc. Have rheumatic exercises every Saturday morning. Our chief object is to make our graduates ready for the Anatolia College of Marsovan, which is an American institution. I try to get American ways in our school, and though I did not stay long enough in America to study thoroughly that way of education, I try to do my best. I hope you will think that I am busy enough, if I say that I have 10 classes every day, 45 minutes each. Besides that I have to keep an eye on the boys working in the garden during recess."

"The hardest part of my work is the arrangement of the punishment. The picturesque but loathsome swarlings of Turkish language and the ordinary household make me dizzy as to how to find a good remedy. I have to fight very hard against these, for they are so usual in the streets; but I'm glad to say I see some good results and they encourage me."

"You may know that our church holds two services every day, so I commence the school as soon as the morning exercise is over (6 a.m.) and send the boys all to church at 5:30 p.m. They take two meals during this time. Most of my time is occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Mr. Carisman promises to tell us in a subsequent letter something about the Turkish farmer and his life."

"I have above 95 pupils in my school, from sixty months up to six years of age. I am occupied in this way, but on Saturdays and on other holidays, I try to botanize a little, without even an eye-piece, and fix a cyanide bottle and a butterfly catcher to make a collection of our bugs and butterflies."

"Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending her summer in Hillsdale. The past three weeks, returned Saturday."

At the College.

"The board meets this week. Picnics are of almost daily occurrence at the College."

Mrs. Sadie Champion Savage '97 is visiting in Lansing.

The campus was never more beautiful at commencement time.

A load of College people pic­nicked at Pine Lake Saturday. The College appropriation bill has been signed by the Governor.

A new walk has been constructed along the south side of the armory.

Mrs. Woodworth and son Paul returned from Caseville Wednesday.

Miss Clara Ohland '01 is spending commencement week at the College.

Mrs. C. H. Alvord, who has been visiting in Hillsdale for the past three weeks, returned Saturday.
News from Graduates and Students.

Miss Katharine McCurdy with '00 called at the College Friday.

F. L. Woodworth '98 is one of our commencement week guests.

N. E. Eastern '98 arrived from Chicago Friday night to spend commencement week.

Miss Myrtie C. Paysh with '99 is here to attend the graduating exercises of her class.

Miss Hattie B. Chase with 'oo was among the Saturday arrivals for commencement week.

L. C. Brooks'98, Schenectady, N. Y., has been visiting his friends at the College since Friday.

Miss Emma Lam '87 brought her pupils to the College Friday for their "last day of school" picnic.

She has been teaching the following classes:

W. G. Merritt with '98, chemist for the Society; Harry Bros., Farmers Work, Detroit, reports the Kalamazoo sugar factory as doing well. It will be running this fall with a capacity of 500 tons of beets per day.

Announcements are out for the marriage, June 14, 1899, at the home of the bride's mother, Kingsbury, Indiana, Miss Lilla Marie Davidson, to Edward Peck Safford '91. At home after July 1, 508 Woodward street, La Porte, Indiana.

G. B. Wells with 'oo, who is now a student at Mr. Pleasant Normal, distinguished himself in the Central Michigan athletic meet by winning first in nine events and second in one. In the 100-yard dash he equalled the M. I. A. A. record of 10.5 seconds and in the running broad jump he made 20 feet, 5 inches, which is 3½ inches more than his record here last year; Mr. Wells intends to return to M. A. C. this fall.

The Price of Board.

The average cost of board in the College clubs for the summer term is as follows:

Club A $1.65; Club B $1.50; Club C $1.75; Club D $2.10.

In Club A it is $2.40; $2.10; $1.65; $1.80; $2.10; $2.45; $1.75; $1.50. This is about as good board as can be procured.

Society Officers for the Fall Term.

COLUMBIAN SOCIETY—President, W. T. Parks; vice president, C. W. Hayes; secretary, C. W. Kaylor; treasurer, C. P. Reed; marshal, J. A. Dunford.

ECHOES SOCIETY—President, L. L. Appleyard; vice president, R. M. Norton; secretary, Frank Carpenter; treasurer, D. B. Finch; marshal, A. J. Deckor.

THE SPERRY SOCIETY—President, J. R. Thompson; vice president, W. W. Morgan; secretary, W. W. Owen; treasurer, George D. Francisco; marshal, F. W. Dean.

THE SAGA SOCIETY—President, Harriette Robson; vice president, Frances Farrand; secretary, Fleta Paddock; treasurer, Mabel Brand; marshal, Mabel Bruneau.

UNION LITERARY SOCIETY—President, Paul Thayer; vice president, H. F. Ely; secretary, T. H. Spindlo; treasurer, N. A. McCune, marshal, Albert Craig.

DELPHIC SOCIETY—President, F. D. Linkletter; vice-president, W. Krieger; secretary, A. M. Gibson; treasurer, R. W. Griffith; marshal, C. N. Jones.

DIE DELTA SOCIETY—President, H. R. Clark; warren, M. E. Haywood; secretary, A. Trebilcock; treasurer, H. L. Kimball; steward, W. G. Wildeman.

THEMIS LITERARY SOCIETY—President, Harriet O'Connor; vice-president, Mildred Newell; secretary, Kate Nichols; treasurer, Coral Haines; marshal, Lula Pepe.

Other Colleges.

The minstrel show seems to be a favorite entertainment for the benefit of college athletic associations.

This year the University of Wisconsin receives an appropriation of $151,000 for new buildings and other improvements.

Cornell presents the managers of her athletic teams with the varsity cap and a blue sarge coat, the latter in place of the sweater. The monogram is worn upon the breast pocket of the coat.—C. of M. Daily.

The U. of M. baseball team on its recent eastern trip defeated Cornell and Pennsylvania. The latter has defeated nearly every eastern university team.

Yale has an endowment of $4,500,000; Columbia, $5,000,000; and Chicago university, $12,000,000.—Oberlin Review.

Dick—Do you enjoy Kipling?

Mabel—Oh, I adore him. I have heard so much about his Jingle Book and Bar Room Ballads,—Winkle.

"WILLING TO SUFFER." "Willie (whack), this hurts me (whack) almost as much as it does (whack) you.
"Then keep it up. I guess I can stand it."—Life.

Threatening.

She—What would you do if I attempted to run up stairs and leave you here alone?
He—Hold you.—I'm goin'.—She—What would you do if I attempted to run up stairs and leave you here alone?
He—Hold you.

The names in this Directory, as well as those of all our advertisers, are of reliable parties. We hope that the faculty and students will take pains to patronize those who patronize us.

ARCHITECTS.

BARBER.

J. D. Wood—Barber, 180 Michigan Avenue E., barber shop especially noted by students.—Walter B. Davis.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

ANSON BOOK AND PAPER COMPANY, 111 W. Washington St., wholesale, retail books, Engravings and Frames, 120 Washington Ave. N.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. D. Woodbury.—Boots and Shoes. We shoe the students. See ad.

BICYCLES AND MUSIC.

DAVIS & WHITE—Architects, Lansing, Mich., architects, builders, Wholesale and Retail Hardware and House Furnishings. 211 and 213 Washington Avenue N.

HATTON'S HARDWARE—General Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, Gentlemens' Cutlery, etc. 11 Washington Avenue N.

HOOD & HART—Boots and Shoes. 104 Michigan Avenue N.

INSURANCE.

THE NEW GRAND.—R. M. Renner, Proprietor. Dental rates to students. Michigan Avenue N.

The U. of M. baseball team on its recent eastern trip defeated Corbin and Pennsylvania. The latter has defeated nearly every eastern university team.

Yale has an endowment of $4,500,000; Columbia, $5,000,000; and Chicago university, $12,000,000.—Oberlin Review.

DICK—Do you enjoy Kipling?

MABEL—Oh, I adore him. I have heard so much about his Jingle Book and Bar Room Ballads,—WRINKLE.

"WILLING TO SUFFER." "Willie (whack), this hurts me (whack) almost as much as it does (whack) you.
"Then keep it up. I guess I can stand it."—LIFE.

 Threatening.

SHE—What would you do if I attempted to run up stairs and leave you here alone?
HE—Hold you.—I'm goin'.—SHE—What would you do if I attempted to run up stairs and leave you here alone?
HE—Hold you.

The names in this Directory, as well as those of all our advertisers, are of reliable parties. We hope that the faculty and students will take pains to patronize those who patronize us.

ARCHITECTS.

BARBER.

J. D. Wood—Barber, 180 Michigan Avenue E., barber shop especially noted by students.—Walter B. Davis.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

ANSON BOOK AND PAPER COMPANY, 111 W. Washington St., wholesale, retail books, Engravings and Frames, 120 Washington Ave. N.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

C. D. Woodbury.—Boots and Shoes. We shoe the students. See ad.

BICYCLES AND MUSIC.

DAVIS & WHITE—Architects, Lansing, Mich., architects, builders, Wholesale and Retail Hardware and House Furnishings. 211 and 213 Washington Avenue N.

HATTON'S HARDWARE—General Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, Gentlemens' Cutlery, etc. 11 Washington Avenue N.

INSURANCE.

THE NEW GRAND.—R. M. Renner, Proprietor. Dental rates to students. Michigan Avenue N.

JEWELERS.

B. P. REICHMANN.—Jeweler and Engraver. 300-302 Michigan Avenue N.

LAUNDRIES.

THE EMPIRE LAUNDRY COMPANY, 400-402 Michigan Avenue N., West. All kinds of fine linen. Strongest agency in the city.

LUMBER DEALERS.

H. W. RIEKER.—Lumber Dealer, Mill Street. See ad.

JEWELERS.

B. P. REICHMANN.—Jeweler and Engraver. 300-302 Michigan Avenue N.

LAUNDRIES.

THE EMPIRE LAUNDRY COMPANY, 400-402 Michigan Avenue N., West. All kinds of fine linen. Strongest agency in the city.

LUMBER DEALERS.

H. W. RIEKER.—Lumber Dealer, Mill Street. See ad.

MERCHANT TAILORS.

WOODBURY & SAVAGE.—Tailors. Student trade especially attended. Opposite Dowdle Hall, North.

NORTON'S HARDWARE.—Retail Hardware and House Furnishings. 218 Washington Avenue N.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. L. S. HUTCHISON.—Baker, where you can find the best style in simple as well as elaborate Hats at lowest prices.

OCULISTS.

JOSEPH POSTER, M. D.—Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. 100 and 102 Michigan Avenue N. Office 42 Monroe St. City National Bank Building, Lansing.

PHYSICIANS.

D. HAGADORN, M. D.—Office hours, 11 to 1 at 200 Michigan Avenue N. Office 42 Monroe St. City National Bank Building, Lansing.

PHOTOGRAPHERS.

SPECIAL PRICES to M. A. C. Students. Hats, Photographs, over State Savings Bank, 104-106 Michigan Avenue N.

RESTAURANTS.

GILBERT M. HANEY.—Proprietor Harry's Gem Lunch. Best meals and lunches in the city. 112 Washington Avenue S.