When They Say Goodbye.

FRED H. YAPLE, '94-'95.

Before laying the table see that the room is swept and dusted. Have the china, glasses and silver in proper condition. Put the soup bowls, plates for the meat course, vegetable dishes, and coffee cups in the hot closet.

Laying the Table.

The table-cloth must be laid straight and smooth over a heavy flannel cloth having the folds in the cloth parallel with edge of table.

For each person place a plate with a dessert spoon, a knife, and fork at the right in the order used and one fork at the left. Place the glass at the tip of the knife and the handled fork, then the crockery and cutlery for emergencies. Also place the pulled bread, plate with cheese straws, plate with macaroons, dish with jelly, the server with cream and sugar, water pitchers, crumb-tray and scraper and teacups for the sherbet.

Side-table.

On the side-table have the saucers of the coffee cups and small spoons, a tablespoon for the vegetable plates, plates and sherbet cups for the sherbet, and an extra supply of water. Announce that dinner is served, and when the cook is ready.

Serving.

1. Fill the glasses.
2. Place the cream of spinach on from the right, first removing the empty plate.
3. Pass the pulled bread, offering from the left.
4. When the guests are about finished, serve the coffee, placing at the right. Have the spoon in the saucer.
5. Offer cream and sugar, on server, from the left.
6. Clear the table when the guests have departed.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WAITRESS.

When callers come to see my ma they talk the longest while,
"Isn't the smallest thing, an' all 'ot em' will smile.
For ma she says, "I'm awful glad you've come to call to-day,"
An' 'en they say, "Our times so short, we ain't got long to stay."
An' 'en they say, "We'll have to go, an' our train will be late."
But 'en they start right in to talk jest as they say goodbye.
An' ma she says the bestest things about some books she's read,
"An' 'en they talk an' talk an' talk until they'd talk me dead."
An' 'en they kind a whisper how they seen some women act,
An' how they hope it won't get out, but they know it is a fact.
An' 'en they kiss an' start to go, an' almost start to cry.
An' 'en they start back an' talk some more; jes' as they say goodbye.
An' ma she says, "They're lots of calls I know I ought to make, But I'd rather visit most with you, if I had the time to take."
Sometimes ma tells me little things 'at I know ain't real so,
"Cause when they's gone she says to me, "I thought they'd never go."
An' 'en 'em jest if women folks 'd all lay down to die,
They'd git right up an' talk some more jes' as they say goodbye.

When dinner is served...

Waldorf Salad. — 1 3/4 c. chopped walnuts, 1 c. chopped celery, 1 1/2 c. chopped apples. Mix the above and add to it the boiled dressing. Boiled Dressing. — 1 lb. sugar, 1 t. salt, 1 c. gelatine dissolved, 1 1/2 c. milk, 1 lb. butter. Mix the sugar and water to the gelatine, and add the milk. Add the vinegar slowly and then add the butter. Cook in a double boiler. Strain if necessary. Serve the salad on a lettuce leaf on a plate.

Chicken Croquettes. — 4 potatoes, 1 lb. butter, 2% t. salt, 1 c. boiled celery, 1 t. salt, 1 y. egg, 1 t. pepper. Mix all and pass through a sieve. The报告 of the State Board of Agriculture for 1900-01 is out and contains much valuable information.

Battalion, Attention!

Classification cards will be signed only at the Armory between 8 and 6 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 8 and 9.

The report of the State Board of Agriculture for 1900-01 is out and contains much valuable information.
dent of the State Teachers' Association for the coming year. Prof. Benson acute to this object in 1875 was connected with the College, and has been engaged in school work during all the years since. He has been principal of schools at Lyons; from 1875 to 1886 he superintended the schools of Portland; from 1886 to 1890 he was commissioner of schools for Ionia county; and since 1890 he has been principal of the schools of Portland. Mr. Benson is a man of ideas, a progressive man, who has the commendation of his continued long and successful career as a school worker makes the selection an eminently proper one and his personal qualifications will add to the value of the position. We are proud of Benson. He is a typical M. A. C. man." He spoke of the large and varied fund of knowledge with which the young freshman comes by nature endowed, which he seeks, sometimes under difficulties, to impart to the professors; of the modification of physical and other peculiarities brought about by ridicule judiciously applied; of never permitting influence exercised by the students especially on the older and more voluble professors; of the patience taught, and so on; of the students' influence in their successes or failures serving as a test of methods and subjects used by the professors. Mrs. J. E. Coulter, '52, gave a gem of a speech in response to the sentiments of the "Our Girls Then and Now." She alluded especially to Mrs. Eva Correll Mclain, '79, the first woman to graduate. She thought that the women of those days had much more serious difficulties to contend with than the even the young male student of the sixties, and as she told of their troubles and the entire lack of accommodations suited to their requirements, one could not help thinking that it took courage and perseverance in an unusual degree to go through four years of such "weariness to the flesh." Mrs. Coulter's speech is a lengthened and more modern events, and brought to their attention today the desirability of a more feminine environment that greets one in the Great Women's building. The next section, "The Institution Life of the College is in the Quicking Power of its Children," was assigned to Prof. C. D. Hendricks, who gave one of those unadulterated speeches of his, scintillating with puns and jocose expression impossible to epitomize. Suffice it to say that every word that was unprovoked uproarious laughter. He closed by emphasizing the unity of all education. Of a reminiscent character, somewhat to that of Mr. Lillie's speech on "Narrow Escapes." How those of the college do enjoy the "jokes of their college days! One enjoys the jest that they throw into the telling as much as the humor of the jests themselves. Mr. G. A. Farr spoke very earnestly and eloquently on "Water and Sand—Elements in College Agriculture." He compared the narrow, meagre quarters of the college to the vast and varied fields which he seeks, sometimes under difficulties, to impart to the professors; of the modification of physical and other peculiarities brought about by ridicule judiciously applied; of never permitting influence exercised by the students especially on the older and more voluble professors; of the patience taught, and so on; of the students' influence in their successes or failures serving as a test of methods and subjects used by the professors. Mrs. J. E. Coulter, '52, gave a gem of a speech in response to the sentiments of the "Our Girls Then and Now." She alluded especially to Mrs. Eva Correll Mclain, '79, the first woman to graduate. She thought that the women of those days had much more serious difficulties to contend with than the even the young male student of the sixties, and as she told of their troubles and the entire lack of accommodations suited to their requirements, one could not help thinking that it took courage and perseverance in an unusual degree to go through four years of such "weariness to the flesh." Mrs. Coulter's speech is a lengthened and more modern events, and brought to their attention today the desirability of a more feminine environment that greets one in the Great Women's building. The next section, "The Institution Life of the College is in the Quicking Power of its Children," was assigned to Prof. C. D. Hendricks, who gave one of those unadulterated speeches of his, scintillating with puns and jocose expression impossible to epitomize. Suffice it to say that every word that was unprovoked uproarious laughter. He closed by emphasizing the unity of all education. Of a reminiscent character, somewhat to that of Mr. Lillie's speech on "Narrow Escapes." How those of the college do enjoy the "jokes of their college days! One enjoys the jest that they throw into the telling as much as the humor of the jests themselves. Mr. G. A. Farr spoke very earnestly and eloquently on "Water and Sand—Elements in College Agriculture." He compared the narrow, meagre quarters of the college to the vast and varied fields which though Vice-President Lowell fully met the demands of the occasion.

There were 67 people present at the banquet, of whom twenty were guests.

Below follows a list of those present, for which the writer is indebted to Mrs. Coullier.

JAPAN.

Dressed to Mrs. Coulter.

the banquet, of whom twenty were present, for which the writer is indebted to Mrs. Coullier.

As the wand'rer returns to his home o'er

How dear to the heart are the days spent at

Tho' wild beats the tempest of care all

We'll remember how trouble and care

So with hearts full of love and a humble

When fond recollections present them to

The College calendar for 1902 is out. It contains twenty-four portraits of teachers and many new and

The main item in Stoves is to get the best for the least money.

M. J. & B. M. Buck.

The main item in Stoves is to get the best for the least money.

We have the newest assortment ever in the city.

The main item in Stoves is to get the best for the least money.

We have the newest assortment ever in the city.

For social functions or street wear—smooth as silk—black as midnight.

Patent Leather Shoes

Price 3.50 a Pair.

We have sold this shoe several years with great satisfaction.

C. D. Woodbury,
OLD STUDENTS.

B. W. Feat, '92, visited the College for an hour or two last week.

W. I. Summer, '93, was at Ann Arbor, C. H. Parker's place on the Tower farm.

R. E. Whitney, '01, has gone to take a position as farm manager on a farm in Indiana.

C. H. Parker, '01, will take a six weeks' course at the College and will then go to Grand Rapids.

On the 5th of June, there was a recent letter testifies to his appreciation of the College, but wishes there were more of them.

Paul Thayer, '00, and wife are here for the term and will have their home with the Newman. Mr. Thayer will take post-graduate work.

Our congratulations to Donald McArthur, special student, 1900, on his recent engagement to Miss N. Treadwell on Jan. 1, at Ubly, Michigan.

W. M. Munson, '88, professor of botany and head of the Agricultural College, was married Dec. 26th to Miss Mattie E. Allen, at Orondo, Me.

Besides Norther, there are in the Agricultural College of North Dakota, P. S. Rose, '99, assistant professor of zoology and mathematics; C. B. Waldron, '97, professor of horticulture and forestry, H. W. McArdle, '97, professor of animal husbandry.

Irving Gingrich, '02, who has completed his college course, is with the Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill. Mr. Gingrich has been investigating the causes of carnation diseases for the past year and has been very successful in his work. Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

W. M. H. Trumbull, '02, visited Ann Arbor and spoke of the good things of the eastern territory. His permanent home will be in Chicago. He will be a director and stockholder of the powers corporation and manager of their eastern territory. His permanent address will be as above, at 230-232 E. 25th street, New York, as he will divide his time between the East and the West. Mr. Burnham gets the Record regularly and looks forward to its coming with interest. Hopes to visit the old place some of these days—now that his business will be taken care of. B. A. Holden and H. L. Win格尔 are still with us and doing well, in fact, the end of the business is a sort of M. A. C. mutual admiration society. If there is any one there who remembers us, as we never fail to shout the praises of our alma mater although we do not make very much noise. We are always putting the lockout for ambitious college graduates with a commercial turn of mind and would be glad to hear from any such in the record, as few classes are looking for positions paying from 50 to $5,000 according to effort and capacity.

The Dedication of Our New School House.

Last Wednesday the new schoolhouse north of the College was dedicated. Little Harold Bird (son of Secretary Bird) opened the program. A prayer reading was given at the "Hotel Fritz" which was given in a private dining room, from 6:30 to 10 p.m., the '01a; G. E. Tower, '01a; H. P. Whiteley, with '02m."

The Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill., and has been very successful in its work, Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

Irving Gingrich, '02, who has completed his college course, is with the Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill. Mr. Gingrich has been investigating the causes of carnation diseases for the past year and has been very successful in his work. Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

W. M. H. Trumbull, '02, visited Ann Arbor and spoke of the good things of the eastern territory. His permanent home will be in Chicago. He will be a director and stockholder of the powers corporation and manager of their eastern territory. His permanent address will be as above, at 230-232 E. 25th street, New York, as he will divide his time between the East and the West. Mr. Burnham gets the Record regularly and looks forward to its coming with interest. Hopes to visit the old place some of these days—now that his business will be taken care of. B. A. Holden and H. L. Win格尔 are still with us and doing well, in fact, the end of the business is a sort of M. A. C. mutual admiration society. If there is any one there who remembers us, as we never fail to shout the praises of our alma mater although we do not make very much noise. We are always putting the lockout for ambitious college graduates with a commercial turn of mind and would be glad to hear from any such in the record, as few classes are looking for positions paying from 50 to $5,000 according to effort and capacity.

The Dedication of Our New School House.

Last Wednesday the new schoolhouse north of the College was dedicated. Little Harold Bird (son of Secretary Bird) opened the program. A prayer reading was given at the "Hotel Fritz" which was given in a private dining room, from 6:30 to 10 p.m., the '01a; G. E. Tower, '01a; H. P. Whiteley, with '02m."

The Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill., and has been very successful in its work, Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

Irving Gingrich, '02, who has completed his college course, is with the Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill. Mr. Gingrich has been investigating the causes of carnation diseases for the past year and has been very successful in his work. Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

W. M. H. Trumbull, '02, visited Ann Arbor and spoke of the good things of the eastern territory. His permanent home will be in Chicago. He will be a director and stockholder of the powers corporation and manager of their eastern territory. His permanent address will be as above, at 230-232 E. 25th street, New York, as he will divide his time between the East and the West. Mr. Burnham gets the Record regularly and looks forward to its coming with interest. Hopes to visit the old place some of these days—now that his business will be taken care of. B. A. Holden and H. L. Win格尔 are still with us and doing well, in fact, the end of the business is a sort of M. A. C. mutual admiration society. If there is any one there who remembers us, as we never fail to shout the praises of our alma mater although we do not make very much noise. We are always putting the lockout for ambitious college graduates with a commercial turn of mind and would be glad to hear from any such in the record, as few classes are looking for positions paying from 50 to $5,000 according to effort and capacity.

The Dedication of Our New School House.

Last Wednesday the new schoolhouse north of the College was dedicated. Little Harold Bird (son of Secretary Bird) opened the program. A prayer reading was given at the "Hotel Fritz" which was given in a private dining room, from 6:30 to 10 p.m., the '01a; G. E. Tower, '01a; H. P. Whiteley, with '02m."

The Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill., and has been very successful in its work, Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

Irving Gingrich, '02, who has completed his college course, is with the Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill. Mr. Gingrich has been investigating the causes of carnation diseases for the past year and has been very successful in his work. Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

W. M. H. Trumbull, '02, visited Ann Arbor and spoke of the good things of the eastern territory. His permanent home will be in Chicago. He will be a director and stockholder of the powers corporation and manager of their eastern territory. His permanent address will be as above, at 230-232 E. 25th street, New York, as he will divide his time between the East and the West. Mr. Burnham gets the Record regularly and looks forward to its coming with interest. Hopes to visit the old place some of these days—now that his business will be taken care of. B. A. Holden and H. L. Win格尔 are still with us and doing well, in fact, the end of the business is a sort of M. A. C. mutual admiration society. If there is any one there who remembers us, as we never fail to shout the praises of our alma mater although we do not make very much noise. We are always putting the lockout for ambitious college graduates with a commercial turn of mind and would be glad to hear from any such in the record, as few classes are looking for positions paying from 50 to $5,000 according to effort and capacity.

The Dedication of Our New School House.

Last Wednesday the new schoolhouse north of the College was dedicated. Little Harold Bird (son of Secretary Bird) opened the program. A prayer reading was given at the "Hotel Fritz" which was given in a private dining room, from 6:30 to 10 p.m., the '01a; G. E. Tower, '01a; H. P. Whiteley, with '02m."

The Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill., and has been very successful in its work, Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

Irving Gingrich, '02, who has completed his college course, is with the Chicago Carnation Co., which has its greenhouses at Joliet, Ill. Mr. Gingrich has been investigating the causes of carnation diseases for the past year and has been very successful in his work. Mr. Gingrich writes of having dined recently with F. E. Skelton, '75, and H. C. Skelton, '00, who are both in Chicago.

W. M. H. Trumbull, '02, visited Ann Arbor and spoke of the good things of the eastern territory. His permanent home will be in Chicago. He will be a director and stockholder of the powers corporation and manager of their eastern territory. His permanent address will be as above, at 230-232 E. 25th street, New York, as he will divide his time between the East and the West. Mr. Burnham gets the Record regularly and looks forward to its coming with interest. Hopes to visit the old place some of these days—now that his business will be taken care of. B. A. Holden and H. L. Win格尔 are still with us and doing well, in fact, the end of the business is a sort of M. A. C. mutual admiration society. If there is any one there who remembers us, as we never fail to shout the praises of our alma mater although we do not make very much noise. We are always putting the lockout for ambitious college graduates with a commercial turn of mind and would be glad to hear from any such in the record, as few classes are looking for positions paying from 50 to $5,000 according to effort and capacity.