Mr. A. M. Brown, of Schoolcraft, chosen by the State Board.

The Record takes pleasure in introducing to its readers the recently elected secretary of the College, Addison M. Brown. Mr. Brown served ten years as Director of Board of Education, and had much to do with advancing the standing of his school and placing it, many years ago, upon the approved list of the University of Michigan. He was elected to the State senate in 1856 and served as a member of the U. of M. Committee, and has always been a very earnest supporter of public education and is in thorough accord with the aims and purposes of the Agricultural College. In the latter position he rendered very valuable service to this institution. It will be remembered that at this session of the legislature the appropriations were made for the women's building, the dairy and the new barn. Mr. Brown at the head of the senate committee, took a very active and important part in bringing about these appropriations. He has always been a very earnest supporter of public education and is in thorough accord with the aims and purposes of the Agricultural College.

Mr. Brown is a resident of Schoolcraft. His parents were among the early settlers of that community, emigrating from Vermont. He was brought up on a farm and after completing a course at the Schoolcraft High School, he took a full course in the University of Michigan, graduating in 1856 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. He then returned to the home farm and carried on the business for a time in company with his brother, who now holds the Chair of English in the Cincinnati University, and afterwards alone. He is one of the successful farmers of the state and has an enviable reputation as a bright, straightforward business man. He was twice elected president of his village and several times as trustee. ATHLETIC OUTLOOK.
Prospects for Base Ball and Track.

With the completion in the near future of the new field across the river, athletics should receive a great impetus, and from the material which has been presented, the outlook for good track and baseball teams is very bright. In both cases there are several who give promise of becoming good players, but very few who are up to the college standard. Among the promising old players are J. Frazer in the out-field positions. As pitchers, Case, Millar and Jordan should develop into a trio well able to uphold the reputation of the team. As a utility man, McKenna is most valuable and an exceedingly strong bas-

ALUMNI.

'73. George W. Brewer is in the United States Government Service at Truxton, Arizona, as industrial teacher in the Tohono Canyon Indian Training School. The Grand Canyon banks near this place, are perhaps the most picturesque of the whole Colorado river system, being over a mile in depth.

'79. Allen C. Redding, manager of the Tybo Mining and Reduction Co., Tybo, Nevada, sent to the College last week an interesting relic. It is a paper dated Nov. 12th, 1879, giving the report of the committee selected to inspect the Tippet's Ecclesite Society. Mr. Redding also writes an interesting letter telling of the difficulties of the newly-formed society.

'85. C. B. Collingwood expects to assume charge of the postoffice before the middle of the month.

President Woodworth, writing to M. A. C. friends, states that on Saturdays at 11:30 p. m. the lunch room, corner LaSalle and Madison streets, is the rendezvous for some of the Chicago alumni.

'89. It is expected that Ray Stannard Baker will be with M. A. C. relatives for the commencement. He is due in New York from Europe Wednesday.

'90. F. B. Mumford, Professor of Agriculture, in the Michigan College of Agriculture is to have completed soon, a new building for live stock instruction and a pavilion for judging. The Annual Live Stock Judging Contest has just been held in that institution and prizes awarded of $25, $15, and $5 each. The judging contest is a feature of the short winter courses in agriculture.

'91. Kenyon L. Butterfield has an article in the April Review of Reviews. His subject is "Can Rural Social Forces be Federated?" A First Step." The article is a reference to the Institute meetings held at the College in February and a resume of some of the addresses given at that time appears in the article.

'93-95. Professors W. O. and U. F. Hiedick are receiving an extended visit from their parents in the States. Their stay is expected to extend until the fore part of May. Miss Fay Wheeler will not return from Washington to M. A. C. until the fore part of May. Miss Lilian Wheeler, '93, plans to visit M. A. C. at commencement. Mrs. Wheeler returned from her Washington trip shortly before the close of the winter term.

'93. Macy W. Lapham, of the United States Bureau of Soils, has contributed, for publication in True Ranchmen, a descriptive of the department. The article, or extracts from it will be published in True Ranchmen.

'95. Instructor George Severance gave an address, "The Necessity and Possibility of Improving Farm Crops," before the Michigan Academy of Sciences, which met last week at Ann Arbor.
Mr. Melendy to Lecture.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been very fortunate in being able to secure for its series of winter lectures Mr. Loren Melendy to give his famous Chicago alumni as well as to M. A. C. visitors in Chicago.

As printed will prove of value to the present editors will be able to devote more than ever a news organ. More of their time to the gathering of news, thus making the paper more than ever a news organ.
