ALUMNI.

76. E. D. Brooks, M. D., of Ann Arbor, is much interested in real estate and is one of several men having charge of the publication of a real estate journal which is circulated all over the country. He ex- plains: "It is a new departure for an article descriptive of the work at M. A. C., together with a brief his- torical note."

81.-86. The father of J. A. Wes- ter, '83-86, died recently.

83. Prof. H. F. French is now director of the experiment station in the University of Idaho, Moscow. Dr. C. E. Bessey, R. C. Bristol, '93, and M. F. Loonis, '91-94, are in partnership in Saginaw, Mich. They are manufacturing the Wolcott Junior Gasoline Engine.

93. John B. Dinnick of the U. S. engineer's office at Pittsburg, Pa., who has been superintending government work at Little Falls, W. Va., during the season, was in Chicago recently, and was at the M. A. C. Saturday dinner at the Quincy Cafe.

94-95. Fred H. Yaple received an extended notice recently in one of the agricultural papers. Mr. Yaple's poem, "When They Say Good-bye," was printed in this paper last year. While in Chicago, Mr. Yaple appeared before the Chicago Press Club on "Post's Even- ing." Several other prominent clubs of the city have engaged him for readings from his own works.

95. Prof. Gerrit Masselink had an article on football in a recent issue of the Ferris Institute Quartly. The issue also contained a resume of the season, which has been very suc- cessful for the institute this fall.

95. Prof. C. P. Close furnished the photographs for an illustrated article on apples in the January issue of the Quincy Cafe.

97. Miss Margarette Bogula has an office position in Detroit.

98. It is expected that Mr. Frank V. Warren will visit M. A. C. be- fore long.

98. T. A. Clittenden is now in his third year of work as professor of drawing in the North Carolina College at Raleigh.

100. W. D. Hard is now living in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

102. W. R. Wright is taking work in College this term.

102. T. G. Phillips is now in Washington, D. C. His address is 328 O. S.

102. W. K. Wonders has been given a position in the United States Department of Agriculture, division of pomology.

With '92 and '94, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Reynolds are now located in the Kiskaskis at 418 East Fortieth, Grand Rapids, and they will be ready to receive their friends after Feb. 1. been made, have been informed that conditions, would, if inquiry had eight years, if interested in political career, and each will take an active part in the work of the legislature.

Senator Woodman was born in 1847 on a farm and in the house which now lives. From 1870 to 1881 he was one of the moving spirits among the student body at Michigan Agricultural College, and in the founding and early prosperity of several student organizations. He graduated with high honors in the class of 1871, and immediately took up his life work on the old home farm. His great work and ceaseless activity in connection with the Grange of Michigan has given him acquaintance with Michigan farmers and the public men of the state second to none in Michigan public life to day. This wide acquaintance will be a potent factor in his legislative career and because of it and his otherwise splendid equipment, he is a sure prediction for a high and worthy record at the close of his senatorial term.

Senator Woodman has been the second great agricultural and active part in the work of the present session is Hon. James A. Morrice, of the class of ’73. Representative Morrice states that his fifteen-year-old daughter, an only child, will soon be numbered among our students in the women’s course. Mr. Morrice has been in succession supervisor of his township, two years register of deeds and six years Register of his county, and was elected to his present position as representative in the State legislature from Emmet county by a large majority and has the friendship and support of a united constituency at home. He will devote his best legislative energies to the forwarding of the interests of M. A. C. and in the support of a primary election law for the entire State.

The College may well feel that she is coming into her just heritage when the late Hon. J. J. Cook, will represent the counties of Shiawassee and Ingham in the State Senate, at the urgent request of the friends of the College he will be placed at the head of the Senate committee on Agricultural College. No better fortune could befall the College than to have her interests intrusted to his care.

College people will be further delighted to learn that Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Morrice, of the class of ’73, will take an active part in the work of the College. Miss Wright as leader. The subject of the evening was “Failures of the past year and resolutions for the new one.” Before the Sun of Righteousness can rise in our lives he must be closely approaching the millennium. He is coming into her just heritage when the late Hon. J. J. Cook. Senator Cook will represent the counties of Shiawassee and Ingham in the State Senate, at the urgent request of the friends of the College he will be placed at the head of the Senate committee on Agricultural College. No better fortune could befall the College than to have her interests intrusted to his care. College people will be further delighted to learn that Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Morrice, of the class of ’73, will take an active part in the work of the College. Miss Wright as leader. The subject of the evening was “Failures of the past year and resolutions for the new one.”

The College may well feel that she is coming into her just heritage when the late Hon. J. J. Cook, will represent the counties of Shiawassee and Ingham in the State Senate, at the urgent request of the friends of the College he will be placed at the head of the Senate committee on Agricultural College. No better fortune could befall the College than to have her interests intrusted to his care.

College people will be further delighted to learn that Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Morrice, of the class of ’73, will take an active part in the work of the College. Miss Wright as leader. The subject of the evening was “Failures of the past year and resolutions for the new one.” Before the Sun of Righteousness can rise in our lives he must be closely approaching the millennium. He is coming into her just heritage when the late Hon. J. J. Cook, will represent the counties of Shiawassee and Ingham in the State Senate, at the urgent request of the friends of the College he will be placed at the head of the Senate committee on Agricultural College. No better fortune could befall the College than to have her interests intrusted to his care.

College people will be further delighted to learn that Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Morrice, of the class of ’73, will take an active part in the work of the College. Miss Wright as leader. The subject of the evening was “Failures of the past year and resolutions for the new one.” Before the Sun of Righteousness can rise in our lives he must be closely approaching the millennium. He is coming into her just heritage when the late Hon. J. J. Cook, will represent the counties of Shiawassee and Ingham in the State Senate, at the urgent request of the friends of the College he will be placed at the head of the Senate committee on Agricultural College. No better fortune could befall the College than to have her interests intrusted to his care.
Mr. Geismar, of the Upper Peninsula station, came to M. A. C. last week for a short visit.

Mr. Henry Geller resumes his work this term, having been absent from the College since the spring term of 1902.

Abbot Hall is now heated by steam and the change should afford better service than hot water.

Several from M. A. C. joined Plymouth Congregational church at the first communion service of the new year.

The State Horticultural society holds its next meeting at Lawton, Mich., Jan. 28th and 29th. Several M. A. C. people will give papers.

Mr. Antonio Eustad is an enthusiastic student in the special courses. He registers from Manila, P. I., though not having been to his native home for three years. After completing his education in America he plans to reside permanently in the Philippines.

There has come recently to the College scientific side-lights illustrating topics by selections from standard works of the Masters of Science throughout the world. 8 vo. 917 pages. Published by Funk & Wagnalls Company, New York, 1903. This particular cyclopedia was compiled by J. C. Fernald aided by thirteen specialists. One hundred and ninety-four authors are quoted, among them, Louis Agassiz, Alexander Bain, William B. Carpenter, Charles Darwin, E. H. Hessek, H. Lo-Heescholt, Humann, W. James, Liebig, Asa Gray, John Tyndall, Simon Newcomb. Two Michigan men are in the list. Kussel of the University and Dr. Beal of M. A. C. The latter gets in through his small octavo book of only eighty-seven pages entitled Seed Dispersal which is quoted to make twelve numbered paragraphs.

The New York Produce Review is to publish notes on the special courses at M. A. C. Several College cuts have been sent to Worthy High Scribe of Alpha Zeta, John Cunningham, and they will be inserted in an article on the local chapter of that fraternity, which article is to appear in the Alpha Zeta Journal.

A few days before the opening of school the scarcity of coal caused some apprehension on the part of the college authorities. At present there seems to be no indication that a famine will occur. Several carloads arrived the past week and more are to follow, the so-called smokeless, however, not being obtainable in large quantities.

The necessity of burning soft coal in hard coal burners has caused some inconvenience as has been mentioned before. The heater recently placed in Station Terrace is the last of its kind on hand, all the others having been used to replace those burned out.

A new dynamo for college use has been put in at the Platt power house in Lansing, and it is thought that this will give the College better lighting facilities than before.

Mr. Sprague, impersonator, entertained a large audience in the armory Friday evening with a dramatic interpretation of scenes from David Copperfield. Each time an entertainment is held in the armory the fact is impressed on everyone that M. A. C. needs very much an audience hall. The nature of the entertainment Friday evening made it imperative, for thorough enjoyment, that Mr. Sprague be seen as well as heard, and it was not possible for many sitting on the back rows of seats to see the reader well.

Mr. Sprague belongs to a class of readers of which Leland Powers is the best example. This class has for its object the somewhat difficult task of interpreting single-handed the characters necessary for an appreciation of a drama as a whole.

There are dramatizations and dramatizations-of the novel nowadays and not all novels can be successfully dramatized. David Copperfield is evidently a favorite with readers belonging to the above-mentioned class and there is good reason why this is so. The pathos, humor and oddity in Dickens's works offer a good field for the dramatic reader, and that Mr. Sprague, to refer to the entertainment Friday evening, succeeded in his efforts seems clear from the expressions of approval heard on all sides from those who heard his interpretation.

Mr. Sprague belongs to a class of readers of which Leland Powers is the best example. This class has for its object the somewhat difficult task of interpreting single-handed the characters necessary for an appreciation of a drama as a whole.

There are dramatizations and dramatizations-of the novel nowadays and not all novels can be successfully dramatized. David Copperfield is evidently a favorite with readers belonging to the above-mentioned class and there is good reason why this is so. The pathos, humor and oddity in Dickens's works offer a good field for the dramatic reader, and that Mr. Sprague, to refer to the entertainment Friday evening, succeeded in his efforts seems clear from the expressions of approval heard on all sides from those who heard his interpretation.

Mr. Sprague belongs to a class of readers of which Leland Powers is the best example. This class has for its object the somewhat difficult task of interpreting single-handed the characters necessary for an appreciation of a drama as a whole.

There are dramatizations and dramatizations-of the novel nowadays and not all novels can be successfully dramatized. David Copperfield is evidently a favorite with readers belonging to the above-mentioned class and there is good reason why this is so. The pathos, humor and oddity in Dickens's works offer a good field for the dramatic reader, and that Mr. Sprague, to refer to the entertainment Friday evening, succeeded in his efforts seems clear from the expressions of approval heard on all sides from those who heard his interpretation.

Mr. Sprague belongs to a class of readers of which Leland Powers is the best example. This class has for its object the somewhat difficult task of interpreting single-handed the characters necessary for an appreciation of a drama as a whole.

There are dramatizations and dramatizations-of the novel nowadays and not all novels can be successfully dramatized. David Copperfield is evidently a favorite with readers belonging to the above-mentioned class and there is good reason why this is so. The pathos, humor and oddity in Dickens's works offer a good field for the dramatic reader, and that Mr. Sprague, to refer to the entertainment Friday evening, succeeded in his efforts seems clear from the expressions of approval heard on all sides from those who heard his interpretation.

Mr. Sprague belongs to a class of readers of which Leland Powers is the best example. This class has for its object the somewhat difficult task of interpreting single-handed the characters necessary for an appreciation of a drama as a whole.

There are dramatizations and dramatizations-of the novel nowadays and not all novels can be successfully dramatized. David Copperfield is evidently a favorite with readers belonging to the above-mentioned class and there is good reason why this is so. The pathos, humor and oddity in Dickens's works offer a good field for the dramatic reader, and that Mr. Sprague, to refer to the entertainment Friday evening, succeeded in his efforts seems clear from the expressions of approval heard on all sides from those who heard his interpretation.
words, yet the poem is of as high quality as the best of any of his. The position and as teaching a moral lesson is in keeping with the other poems of the Psalms, Prov., and Eccl. Mr. Ewing really studies the Bible he begins to see the great value of the book from the literary standpoint alone to say nothing of its value as a moral guide.

Mr. Ewing's talk is among the very best that we have had this season, and was highly appreciated by all present.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

A gratifying attendance marks the close of this course. The classes all began promptly and there has been no time lost in getting started.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

The faculty is composed of: Prof. C. D. Smith, Stock Feeding and Creamery Mechanics; Prof. Shaw, Stock Feeding and Breeding of Live Stock; Prof. Jefery, Soils and Crops; Prof. Masters, Education; Dr. Waterman, Veterinary Science; Mr. Longyear, Plant Life; Prof. U. P. Hordick, Topology and Mr. Dean, Horticultural Manipulations; Mr. George A. Perry, Horticultural Manipulations and Creamery Mechanics; Prof. B. H. Pettit, Ethnology; Mr. Michels, Butler and Cheese Making; Mr. Helmer Rabal, Food Making; Mr. L. H. Brown, Milk Testing; Mr. Bronson Barlow, Plant Diseases; Mr. A. E. Kocher, Farm Crops; Mr. S. S. Education; and Mr. E. S. Good, Bookkeeping.

LIVE STOCK.

ANDREW, W. E.—Carney.
ANDREW, H. W.—Kalamazoo.
BARTON, L. H.—South Rockford.
Barnside, A. Manilla, P. I.
Beal, J. P.—Townley.
Bell, J. E.—Otter Lake.
Bentley, C. S.—Lapeer.
Bentley, G. O.—Clayoquot.
Bettman, L. W.—Saginaw, W. S.
Biggs, L. S.—Grand Rapids.
Bratton, H. K.—Biackmore.
CHASE, J. H.—Bingham.
Dow, A. E.—Bingham.
Cor, J. S.—Bingham.
Crowell, T. E.—Howell.
Halladay, R. A.—Clinton.
Hill, A. W.—Ypsilanti.
Johnson, W. H.—Parma.
Klocke, W. A.—Three Rivers.
Laumann, W. W.—South Kawkawlin.
Masters, J. E.—South Rockford.
McDonald, L. L.—Twillingham.
Mitchell, T. L.—Ludington.
Moon, A. L.—Lansing.
Morris, E. H.—Menon.
Patley, H.—Mount pleasant.
Preston, L. T.—Freemont.
Raney, J. E.—Elber.
Raven, E. E.—Brooklyn.
Raven, J. E.—Brooklyn.
Robinson, G. O.—Fremont.
Scribner, L. O.—Bancroft.
Sier, M. R.—Layre.
Stock, R. E.—Essex.
Stockman, F. M.—Benzie.
Tsoukalas, C. B.—Frederick.
Williams, W. H.—Chippenaham.
Withington, E. E.—Freemont.

College Grocery

HIGGS & BURTON, Proprietors.

FULL LINE OF

Lunch Goods, Confections and Fruits.

Special attention given to parties.

Lunches served at all hours.

belong, L. F.—Freemont, Ind.
Bird, G. L.—Benzonia.
Black, B. A.—Grand Rapids.
Bunnen, R.—Nashville.
Crane, C. S.—Martin.
Church, L.—Litchfield.
Cook, G. W.—Northville.
Davis, C. F.—North Salem, Ind.
Deidman, J. W.—Yale.
Deurville, W.—Yale.
Gilbert, B.—Union City.
Gibson, E. W.—Edwardsburg.
Haggett, B.—Manistee.
Hagelback, F. G.—Kingsley.
Holtz, E.—New Baltimore.
Mays, R. C.—Millburg.
McKernick, G. W.—Battle Creek.
Mills, M. L.—New Baltimore.
Minnick, Mrs. J.—Osawayo.
Myers, A.—Muskegon.
Myers, E. B.—Shelby.
Minnick, Mrs. J.—Onaway.
—or—
Pickens, J. A.—South Rockford.
Pickert, C. B.—South Rockford.
Poston, W. M.—Steinway.
Prentice, A. M.—Hollister.
Rupel, O.—Koester.
Schmidt, A. P.—Detroic.
Sier, J. P.—South Kawkawlin.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Portage.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Soldier, L.—Kingsley.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.
Smith, W. H.—Canton.

THE M. A. C. RECORD.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

(Continued from page two)

words, yet the poem is of as high quality as the best of any of his. The position and as teaching a moral lesson is in keeping with the other poems of the Psalms, Prov., and Eccl. Mr. Ewing really studies the Bible he begins to see the great value of the book from the literary standpoint alone to say nothing of its value as a moral guide.

Mr. Ewing's talk is among the very best that we have had this season, and was highly appreciated by all present.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

A gratifying attendance marks the close of this course. The classes all began promptly and there has been no time lost in getting started.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

The faculty is composed of: Prof. C. D. Smith, Stock Feeding and Creamery Mechanics; Prof. Shaw, Stock Feeding and Breeding of Live Stock; Prof. Jefery, Soils and Crops; Prof. Masters, Education; Dr. Waterman, Veterinary Science; Mr. Longyear, Plant Life; Prof. U. P. Hordick, Topology and Mr. Dean, Horticultural Manipulations; Mr. George A. Perry, Horticultural Manipulations and Creamery Mechanics; Prof. B. H. Pettit, Ethnology; Mr. Michels, Butler and Cheese Making; Mr. Helmer Rabal, Food Making; Mr. L. H. Brown, Milk Testing; Mr. Bronson Barlow, Plant Diseases; Mr. A. E. Kocher, Farm Crops; Mr. S. S. Education; and Mr. E. S. Good, Bookkeeping.

LIVE STOCK.

ANDREW, W. E.—Carney.
ANDREW, H. W.—Kalamazoo.
BARTON, L. H.—South Rockford.
Barnside, A. Manilla, P. I.
Beal, J. P.—Townley.
Bell, J. E.—Otter Lake.
Bentley, C. S.—Lapeer.
Bentley, G. O.—Clayoquot.
Bettman, L. W.—Saginaw, W. S.
Biggs, L. S.—Grand Rapids.
Bratton, H. K.—Biackmore.
CHASE, J. H.—Bingham.
Dow, A. E.—Bingham.
Cor, J. S.—Bingham.
Crowell, T. E.—Howell.
Halladay, R. A.—Clinton.
Hill, A. W.—Ypsilanti.
Johnson, W. H.—Parma.
Klocke, W. A.—Three Rivers.
Laumann, W. W.—South Kawkawlin.
Masters, J. E.—South Rockford.
McDonald, L. L.—Twillingham.
Mitchell, T. L.—Ludington.
Moon, A. L.—Lansing.
Morris, E. H.—Menon.
Patley, H.—Mount pleasant.
Preston, L. T.—Freemont.
Raney, J. E.—Elber.
Raven, E. E.—Brooklyn.
Raven, J. E.—Brooklyn.
Robinson, G. O.—Fremont.
Scribner, L. O.—Bancroft.
Sier, M. R.—Layre.
Stock, R. E.—Essex.
Stockman, F. M.—Benzie.
Tsoukalas, C. B.—Frederick.
Williams, W. H.—Chippenaham.
Withington, E. E.—Freemont. Ind.