There is no game at the College next Saturday, but the team will be playing away from home. Everyone is anxious to know what the team will do on strange ground.

Baseball, perhaps more than football, is uncertain and nothing could further illustrate the truth of this statement than the games played at the College this spring. The U. of M. surprised themselves as well as everyone else by defeating. Saturday, the University of Illinois. This, course, does not prove that M. A. C. could beat Illinois but it is pleasant to compare scores.

The details of the forest course have been arranged, the first two years of this course, as has been previously announced, being the same as the first two years of the four-year agricultural course. In the course as at present arranged, besides the technical study of different phases of forestry, botany and chemistry, the students will have the opportunity to study both the practical and the theoretical aspects of forestry.

For many years she was a zealous laborer in the grange, not only in the state, but as a result of the grange, she served as chaplain and as a member of the official committee of the state. For ten or fifteen years she never lost an opportunity to say a word in favor of the department for women at the Agricultural College, and after the present fine building was erected and equipped, with much of the credit for which she was so well equipped, and why should one not be ambitious to do so as long as strength would permit.

Our posterity one century hence will begin at eight o'clock.
Mr. Thorne Swift, '99, of Grand Rapids was on the campus Sunday, and yesterday to collect fertilizers for the July bulletin. Mrs. Taft entertained a few ladies Friday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Maynard. Pres. Snyder plans to attend the inauguration ceremonies of Pres. King of Oberlin, May 15th.

The Olympic Society held a very pleasant hop Saturday evening. Harp music was furnished for the dances.

The annual spring cleaning up of the campus is now almost completed. The work has been slightly delayed by the heavy rains of late.

Prof. Holdsworth has returned from Constantine where he has been painting the portrait of Mr. Franklin Wells of the State Board.

The freshmen declaratory contest of the Columbian Society took place Saturday evening. Mr. Walker winning first place. The judges were Prof. H. L. Prost, Mr. Sawtell and Mr. Wermuth.

The Hesperian Society gave their regular spring hop in the armory Saturday evening. About forty couples were present. Messrs. Prost, McClure and Crandall furnished the music which was highly appreciated and continually encored. Mrs. Landon made a most congenial chaperon. The orchestra was most pleasantly relieved during the program by Miss Lundy playing for a three step.

A new set of traveling rings are ready for use in the women's gymnasium.

Two fields of oats have been planted, and the rest of the farm crops will be put in as soon as possible.

Miss Lyford will receive a visit soon from her mother and brother both of whom will remain through commencement.

Prof. U. P. Hiedrich has arranged a small book on landscape gardening for use in his classes. The book is for sale at the cooperative store, price seventy-five cents a copy.

The horticultural department has distributed in different parts of the state different varieties of potatoes and of fruit trees. These will be planted on different soils and the productiveness and other qualities reported upon.

The officers of the Entertainment Club for next year are as follows: President, H. T. Ross; Vice President, R. A. Alger; Sec, Miss Jessie Palmer; Treas. H. H. Hornbeck; Manager, H. N. Hunt. The deficit of the Entertainment Club this year was about $90, as against $140 last year.

At the annual reunion of the Lansing commandary not long ago, Prof. Vedder was re-elected commander for the coming year. The commandary presented him with a very fine diamond ring in token of their appreciation of him. The diamond is set in a maltese cross design and Masonic designs are also upon the band of the ring.

Mr. Lyman Carrier left yesterday on the east side of College Hall.

Mr. Wilson P. Millar has again been elected manager of the basketball team and M. A. C. will at once arrange plans for a trip through the Hardwood.

Mr. H. Curtis, with '04, is in the employ of Oakes & More, bankers of Cooperville, Mich. The senior member of the firm is D. C. Oakes, '94, cashier of the National Bank of Grand Haven.

Mr. Perry, assistant in the horticultural department is to have charge of the grounds at the Mt. Pleasant Normal. Miss Bertha Ronan, M. A. C. '98-'99, has also been elected to a position in the institution.

English ivy vines have been set out on the east side of College Hall. The first class baseball game was not played last week as scheduled.

Miss Hinkson, '04, was called home Saturday by the illness of her father.

A picc eleven inches long was caught one day last week in the creek in front of Abbot Hall.

Mrs. C. D. Smith entertained a small company at whist last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Maynard.

A house of good size is being built on the Angell and Chase property and it is said that the building will be given over to students.

The official organ of The Ancient Order of Gleaners, published at Caro, Mich., will contain in the near future an article descriptive of the College.

The work has been slightly delayed by the heavy rains of late.

Prof. Holdsworth has returned from Constantine where he has been painting the portrait of Mr. Franklin Wells of the State Board.

Ex-Secretary Bird has greatly improved his grounds in Oakwood by the grading that has been done since the street. Several houses are to be built in Collegeville this year.

At the last faculty meeting it was decided to take one week off the fall term and to add a week to the spring term. As a consequence the fall term will open September 21st and end Dec. 15. The winter term of the next academic year will begin January 5th. Commencement day for 1904 will be June 24th. The fall term of 1904 will begin September 7th. At present there is a feeling that the interval from baccalaureate Sunday to the following commencement day (Friday) is too long. Before many years commencement day is likely to be changed from Friday to Wednesday of the same week.

By action of the Debating Club in special meeting recently, each society is at liberty to send one or more representatives to the Debating Club to participate with other representatives and volunteers in preliminary debates. The object of said preliminaries being to train and select a debating team to represent the College in the preliminary debate with Ypsilanti. Any student who desires may also enter the preliminaries. It is urged that as many as possible participate in these debates. Students desiring to enter the preliminaries should hand their names to the secretary of the Debating Club not later than May 7, 1903. The committee is composed of the following: D. B. Button, H. C. Ovon Sec, B. Wermuth.

The Thursday evening prayer meeting was led by J. G. Cavanagh. Theme, Has my Bible proved itself profitable? Why? Miss Blunt gave the answers to the question, and all in the affirmative. All agreed that while their Bible had proved itself very profitable, yet there were riches untold within the Book that were undiscovered, and that required earnest, thoughtful, devoted study, not simple reading, to bring out. The Bible should be a "lamp unto our feet" and "light unto our path." For then only can we "walk in the light as He is in the light, and have fellowship one with another." The Bible is not only the Book of life, but the world's greatest text book on etiquette.

Special attention given to parties. Lunches served at all hours.

Miss Blunt has not visited the college friends have been received. The movement from city to country has been from persons who wish to have small farms. These letters are fulfilled depends upon how the obligation resting upon our part, and the question of our wills whether they are in harmonious relationship to God's promises. The text is taken. The Christian is concerned, "we may not rightly think or reason, but the world's great text book on Ethics one with another." The simple reading, to bring out the finest truth. The appearance to his discovery having been undiscovered, and that required earnest, thoughtful, devoted study, not simple reading, to bring out. LANSING BUSINESS and PROFESSIONAL MEN

The names in this Directory are as follows: The honor system for examinations is a good thing, and that at any rate, its introduction into the U. of M. could not make matters any worse than they are at present. The examination is a test of a student's ability. If he cannot pass without "cribbing" and "up-hanging," he ought to be cut out altogether. If allowed to go on, when he has wronged his creditors, he will be a dead weight on his class and his disappearance was apparently in his mind from the time of his disappearance, to his discovery having been a blank. Over-study was found to have been the cause of his mental derangement but at present he is entirely normal.

Apros of cheating in examinations, The Islander publishes the following: I believe the honor system for examinations is a good thing, and that at any rate, its introduction into the U. of M. could not make matters any worse than they are at present.
