GRAND RAPIDS M. A. C. ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Grand Rapids M. A. C. Association was held at the home of J. E. Coulter, Monday evening, October 31, 1904. A general good time was had by the twenty-five persons present. A short business session was held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Mr. J. E. Coulter. Vice-Pres.—Mr. C. A. Jewell. Secretary-Treas.—Miss Marian Weed.

The following committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual supper:

Mr. L. B. Hall.

Mrs. E. A. McFain.

Miss Helen Duskin.

The following resolutions were voted at the meeting: Adjourned subject to the call of the supper committee.

There was a big surprise in every one Saturday when our team succeeded in running away with O. by the one-sided score of 28 to 6. M. A. C. was outwitted by from twenty to thirty pounds per man, and when the teams lined up it looked like a runaway for Ohio. Captain Iowa, and Ohio kicked off to McKenna, who electrified the crowd by bringing it back 70 yards to Ohio's 35 yard line. Ohio held, and on a quarterback kick the referee gave the ball to Ohio. On the first play Geiger, Ohio's speedy halfback, broke loose for 80 yards and scored Ohio's first and only look at our goal line.

Ohio kicked off and by consistent work M. A. C. advanced steadily to the goal line. McKenna missed the goal and the score was Ohio 6, M. A. C. 0. After the next kick off M. A. C. held off forced Ohio to punt. The ball was downed on 40 yard line and was taken straight down the line for the 70 yards to a touchdown. McKenna kicked goal and the half ended with the score Ohio 6, M. A. C. 0.

The second half was all M. A. C. Ohio was held for downs or forced to punt every time she had the ball and M. A. C. by excellent team work and clean handling of the ball scored three touchdowns. Big gains were made through Ohio's left, Kratz playing a star game in opening up big holes through which Bell, Babe Kratz and Hahn were shoed for continued big gains.

The big gain of the day was when her big captain and coach, played, was strong and the only gain made by Ohio, the long run which McKenna pulled off around the end. Once in the second half Case opened up a hole, and Doty rushed for 70 yards and a touchdown. M. A. C.'s defense was a surprise to every one as time was running away with Ohio. M. A. C.'s defense was thrown back for a loss. Too much credit cannot be given the three center men, McDermid, Fisk and Case; the first two playing a star big game. They were outweighted from 30 to 50 pounds apiece, but by quick charging completely outplayed their big opponents and prevented Ohio from making a single gain through them. Small also played a star game, handling the ball clean and fast, and running the team with good judgment.

HEPESIAN PARTY.

To begin the social events of the year, '04-'05, the Hesperian gave its introductory dance on Friday, October 7. The rooms were filled with a crowd that seemed inspired all to the dance. In fact, we may say, the party was a success and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Time of halves—20 minutes.

MILITARY HOP.

The first Military Hop of the season will be given in the Armory Friday evening, October 14. The Officers Association are going to do all in their power to make their hopes as military as possible. The requisite of a good military hop is that it is all, or at least a large percentage of the men, should appear in uniform. To this end the following scale of prices will be adopted—uniformed men 75 cents; non-uniformed men with an excuse, $1.25; non-uniformed men without an excuse, $2.00. The excuses will be issued by the captains and the adjutant. New men who have ordered uniforms will be admitted for 75 cents but must obtain an excuse.

We believe the student body appreciate the need of this rule and will be glad to see it enforced.

TIE PARTY.

The first party of the year, given by the members of the Eclectic Society, occurred in their rooms Saturday evening last.

The plan was exceptionally unique being that of a harvest party. The walls were covered with forest scenes. The refreshment list was headed by the "pied barley," closely followed by agricultural products in general.

The sentiments expressed by all gave evidence of a very enjoyable evening.

Prof. and Mrs. Brewer kindly acted as chaperones.

FARMERS CLUB.

At the last meeting, the subject "Farm Fertilizers" was very interesting. A paper on "The Religions of China" was very well delivered. A paper on "The Religions of China" was very well delivered. The discussions were very strong and the reading of the book was a great source of instruction.

At the last meeting, the subject was "Farm Fertilizers," which brought out many new points. The discussion was carried on with great interest.

Prof. and Mrs. Brewer kindly acted as chaperones.

Y. W. C. A.

The meeting Thursday evening was conducted by Arvilla Gooner. She told us something of the work of the Association among the factory girls of Shanghai, China. Florence Barlow read an interesting paper on "The Religions of China." We have contributed something to the work in China in the past, and hope to do much more this year.

The first Bible class of the term, with Prof. Smith as teacher, met Sunday at 6:15. The class will meet regularly at that time. No girl can afford to miss this opportunity for Bible study.

Y. M. C. A.

The Thursday evening prayer meeting was led by Mr. E. N. Bates in the interest of missions. Quite a number of the students agreed to take up mission study, and two classes will be organized, as arranged by Mr. McWethy and Mr. Burwell.

Sunday morning services were conducted by Rev. R. C. Dodds, of Lansing. The sermon was on the subject: "The death of a king," and turning are taught.

The meeting was well attended and the interest was good.

NOTICE.

The dairy department gives notice that a limited supply of butter after the meeting was held Friday evening at the Armony, under the auspices of the College Republican Club, which was honorary to the presence of Senator Russell A. Alger, who made a short and kindly address. It was a good thing for Hon. G. J. Bronson, who made the principal speech of the evening, Mr. Dikma confined himself to the state issues, showing a very friendly attitude toward "primary reform" but pointing o't, in a rather petty spirit, many defects in the scheme, as at present operated or outlined.

One of the pleasant features of the evening was the address of the President, Mr. Anderson, by Mr. McQuine, as illustrating the really and sympathetic feeling which goes out from the students toward those who have trod the same paths that we are traveling today. He called the audience to the old College Bell. The following extract from this address, will we are sure, he read with interest by students and alumni:

"All I ask is that every student of this college shall know what I have just told you about Fred M. Warner, that he shall know that Fred M. Warner was an old student at this college, that he is a fellow student of yours and of yours alone. He is not free from his time and counsel toward the support of this institution. Mr. Warner, back upon the days spent here at the best days of his life, that he has never given a year's time and this breaking down of the health of his foster father forced him at an early age to go back to the field of active labor and cut short his college career, that by the grace of God, Mr. Warner, our friend, our fellow student, never in the midst of his busy life of 25 years has known a teacher who has lost an opportunity to speak a good word for M. A. C."

We are here who has brought to this college many of its best supporters. It is he who has been a tower of strength in securing the passage of needed appropriations on bills. It is he to whom the governing board has turned time and again for the assistance that no one else could give, and he is the man for happy home in Farmington this very day, and meet there with him this evening, two young men and two young girls, you will be told by every one of them, before you have been there long, your holiest thought is that in a few short years, they are to be enrolled as students at the college where their father worked before them.

By nature, man's first loyalty belongs to the family home, and his love to the immates of that home. It has grown to be a tradition among college men that a man's next loyalty and his next love is his alma mater. In no institution is this spirit more completely abounding than in this college, our college. It is of this spirit that the man who when I send every one of you, to remember that Fred M. Warner has a claim upon your love and devotion to fascinate you if you know the story of Fred M. Warner? How he was born of a man who was his best mothers that a boy ever had, who left him worse than alone in his employment of a leading landscape architect to supervise the laying out of the grounds in such a way as to not be lost sight of in the rush to get ready for next year. It will cost but little more money to lay out these grounds in such a way as to make the effect beautiful, than to have one incongruous mass of buildings. Ten thousand dollars could not be better expended than in the employment of a leading landscape architect to supervise the laying out of these grounds. May we not hope to see the state fair grounds of Michigan, when completed, a high example of this fine art.

At the beginning of this academic year, the College of Agriculture of the University of Washington, D. C., announces fourteen courses in Agriculture which are designed for the best that can be done in this field of study. These courses are managed by as many graduates of M. A. C., viz.: Graves correspondence course in horticulture, C. H. Hines, 58, of the Bureau of Plant Industry; soils, fertilizers and manures by L. G. Lurie, 55, special women, 12. Total enrollment, 532. Of this number 135 held high school diplomas, 12 eighth grade diplomas, 22 on age (being over 18 years), 11 by examination, 9 on teacher's certificates. Sixty-three, 115, entered one of the five year courses on high school credits or entered upon credits from other colleges. Not all of those entering on high school diplomas, however, were able to enter the four year courses as many of the high schools were not on our accredited list. Many more entered the five year courses, while others took the examinations for entry. We have received answers to the question of future occupation the following information from the students, among other thing, mechanical engineering 53, teaching 45, agricultural pursuits 68, civil engineering 15; chemical engineering 12, blacksmithing 15, machine shop mechanics 11. The remainder, 56, gave almost as many different directions as it was possible to follow. One hundred three gave the Methodist as their church preference, 38 the Presbyterian, 35 the Episcopal, 6 the Catholic, 6 the Church of Christ, and 14 the Church of Christ. These 21 were scattered among other denominations, and 28 had no church preference.

Friday evening, October 7, the Colinian Literary Society enter­tained their lady friends at their first “Eleven o’clock.” The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves and under the patronage of Prof. and Mrs. Sawyer everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

Work on the power house chim­ney has been suspended for want of brick which is expected daily. When completed this chimney will be 125 feet high. The square base of red brick is 13x13 feet and 25 feet high. The round portion built so far is 82 feet high.

The fifteen students, consisting of ten different breeds of cattle alone; presenting a representation of ten different breeds. This work presented a most excellent opportunity to study breed types.

There was an unusually large representation of ten different breeds of cattle alone; presenting not only exceptionally good quality, but a sufficient variation to type to make the studies very instructive.

The only regret is that several times the number of students could not have taken advantage of the oppor­tunity offered at this fair.

Both the management of the fair and the exhibitors of the live stock were exceedingly generous and courteous in doing everything in their power to enable the work to be carried on successfully. It was remarked a number of times that this was one of the valuable features of the fair. A large number of persons about the ring watched the work and listened to the discussion.

The management of the assoc­iation gave us to understand that any conces­sions would be granted an­other year which would enable us to carry out plans for making the work helpful to our students. It is hoped that another year more of our students may be able to take advan­tage of the opportunities offered for a practical study of live stock at this fair.

C. M. Conner, professor of agriculture (the University of Florida), at Lake City, Fla., is one of the speakers of the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers, held in the agricultural building at St. Louis, Oct. 12.

The Detroit Free Press of Oct. 4 prints the following: "A barn burning in New-Market, six miles north of Carison City, Mich., was struck by lightning during a severe electrical storm this afternoon and burned to the ground with all its contents. At the same time Mr. Moser, living in the barn dog-side, and as he was closing the stable door the bolt of lightning that struck him. Mr. Moser was instantly killed and his body thrown outside by the shock. Deceased was thirty-six years old and a son of Ex-State Labor Commissioner Morse. He was a graduate of M. A. C. and highly esteemed in his neighborhood." That Mr. Morse had many friends at the College is shown by the expressions of sympathy at his sad fate.

Matt Crosby, with the Department of Agriculture Experiment Farms, is now in Sou in Alabama. Mr. Crosby writes that he does not expect to visit M. A. C. this fall, as he has done each fall since graduation.

George Howard Phelps, with '03, and Miss Florence Banghart, '97-'98, were married on Tuesday, Oct. 6, at the home of the bride's parents near Lansing, one and one-half miles north of Lansing. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Bessey Banghart, and J. L. Thorne, '93, was best man. Mr. Phelps has a position with the Central Drain Line, Detroit, and the young people will be at home at 1456 Sixteenth street.

In an illustrated supplement to the Middleville Sun of Sept. 22, is given a picture of the corps of instructors of the Middleville public schools. Among them is a likeness of Miss Emma Barrett, instructor in mathematics. It goes without saying that Miss Barrett's work has been satisfactory during the past year (1903-04) as she remains at Middleville this year.

On his trip to Chicago on October 5, Ray Stannard Baker, '89, took a sốl nap when turning over a horse who should have been either born out of the nest by now than his brother, J. L. Thorne, '93. He is 'Morgan, Nai.' What could Fred be doing up here in Michigan, when really he was going from Texas to attend the School of Forestry at Yale? He must have missed his way—unless there was a New York connection in the letter said not to write.

A. R. Carter is in Rockford, Ill., where he has a position in the drafting room.

W. S. Merrick is in charge of a manual training department in Kansas.

A. R. Alger arrived Saturday, not only to enjoy the football game, but also to take up a position with the Oldsmobile works at Lansing.

A blue racer has recently been bred and reared here which should outdistance any state in the zoological department. It is a fine specimen of this species of snake measuring 5 feet 6 inches which is somewhat above the average length.

Sarcastic Ladd, 2357 E., F. H. B., senior champion at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and since bought by Gillett & Son to head the herd at Ohio State, the University of Illinois, was bred at this college. He was a son of our old friend Melville Sarcastic, '99, and had for sire our Maurice Beecher, a son of Ross Bonheur, another one of the great Holsteins belonging to this college. Sarcastic Ladd was sold to Gillett and Son of Roseville, Wisconsin, the leading breeders of Holsteins in that state and was by them exhibited at St. Louis. He was an animal of the utmost merit as to conformation and style and besides is recommended by the great records of his dam. It is small credit to the live stock department of the college that an animal of this breed and reared here should take the prize at so great an exhibition as that of St. Louis.—C. D. S.
