M. A. C. CHORUS.

All who are interested in singing are invited to join the College Chorus which meets next Monday evening at 6:45 in the college chapel. The Chorus meets each week Monday evening for one hour's practice, and in the spring of the year always gives a concert. This year's concert is to be given at the time of the Semi-Centennial celebration, and therefore especial efforts will be made to have a large chorus of at least one hundred and fifty voices, making it possible to give an excellent concert.

The college assumes the financial responsibility of securing assistant teachers and orchestra. It is hoped all old members and many new ones will join the chorus.

Come to the choral next Monday evening and join! Any who sing are admitted. Four concerts are given during the year's work.

While it is early to state definitely just what help may be secured from outside, it is hoped to secure either a Detroit orchestra or a W. H. Thomas orchestra. The management is also considering the matter with the Lansing Coeral Union as to the possibility and advisability of inviting our choralists on this occasion. While a number of our Lansing friends favor this plan, it, of course, uncertain just what will be done.

VI. Resolved: That poverty, rather than riches to develop character.

(Imitating Banyan's Style.)

- As I walked along the road the two forces slygh their battle in my heart, and each wanted to capture my will. The evil one kept en hollowing in a loud and bolt voice: "You have done wrong and thou must avenge me." And he pictured in my mind how I was treated badly, one which made my blood hot and my heart sore.

At this very time I heard from another friend of my heart a tender voice saying gently: "But I say unto you love your enemies, do good to them who hate you, bless them that curse you." But the fiend was strong and bold to the large and equal to the loud and bolt voice with out loudly: "Wicked, coward, thou art afraid of their enemey and dost not dare to go against him." And with that the good spirit brought into my mind the picture of the best apples. We often say "Eat some fruit." And as he turned to me his loving eye and face my heart unclenched and the evil one was beaten and spelt him away.—A STUDENT.

GRANDMOTHER'S FARM.

As I look back over the years of my farm life from care to care, I come to me that grandmother's place gave me the most pleasure. The house is large and of a colnial style with a long broad porch on two sides. Inside the rooms are many historic articles receiving their value from the war.

Just away to the left is the large orchard containing the choicest and best known varieties of fruit. At one end of the orchard was the watermelon patch, which we used and happiness to us. It was a source of great pleasure to eat a part of a melon here or there, and then wander through the long rows of apple trees eating the sweetest and choicest apples.

After the orchard, the barn seemed next in supplying us with fun. In the snow we would make snow balls, hurling each other in turn till forced outside by the cold. Dusty night when the horse ran was the most interesting time in the barn.

When they fluttered about our feet we would set about a quick move, catch one, and then repeat the operation.—O. S. V.

interest point was the excellent results Mr. Bassetts has secured with sour cherries on a sand dune, which has thus been made profitable. Several other orchards were visited and the party was the guest of Mr. Bassetts at the hotel Thursday evening. They all appreciated his hospitality and kindness in entertain-

Mr. C. J. Monroe, the president of our board, took charge of the party for the rest of the day. A visit to the South Easen canning factories proved to be a very interesting feature of the trip. One of the factories had 25,000 bushels of peaches a day. Mr. Monroe had arranged for the production of canned peaches which we saw in operation. This turned out for that day, 250 bushels of fresh and only 11

THE M. A. C. RECORD.

The supreme class in agricultural physics inspected the road machinery and road construction recently, which was explained by the road builders, and incidentally had their picture taken as a class.

Jacob Reed & Sons of Philadelphia have been given the contract for military uniforms again this year. New students were requested to report at the armory for measurement on Thursday of last week. The "Bach Hall" boys gave a spread in the room of Webber and McWheby on Saturday evening. The evening was spent in visiting and story telling. The boys will take a trip to Pine Lake next Saturday.

Instructors A. C. Anderson and H. Norton were in charge of the costume exhibits at the Midland fair the past week. This week they are at Hillsdale. These exhibits are the same as were shown at Grand Rapids and Detroit.

The question of resuming the noon games this year is being discussed. It is hoped that Alma can say as much.

The Hort club met at Prof. Roges house Thursday evening for a social hour. All students interested in foresters are cordially invited to be present.

Miss Laveranda Hendricks and Miss Rosalind Muns, both special students last year, are now teaching in the Detroit schools.

The Aurorians society has chosen the room in Ward E, new Wells; the Eunomian Ward D, and the Phi Delta, Ward F.

The Kings Daughters will meet with Mrs. Kentel, Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., when report of delegations will be given.

The room in Ward A, fourth floor, Wells Hall, has been wired for lights and will be used by the band as practice room.

The senior foresters are measuring the trees in the pinetum and discovered exceedingly large growth during the past two years.

Remember the chorus practice on Monday evenings 6:15 to 7:15. It is hoped that we may have the largest number ever entered for this work.

The continued fair weather is advantageous to the contractors who are pushing the work of the new engineering building along very rapidly.

Graduates who have returned for work in the Education, as admitted last year, are Grace Taft and Alts Gunnison, ’95, and Raymond Kedzie, ’96.

The foresters club will meet at Prof. Rogies house Thursday evening for a social hour. All students interested in foresters are cordially invited to be present.

J. Fisk has been elected manager of the "Bach Hall Bunch," and A. K. Kohler, treasurer. Samuel Hadden was also elected manager of athletics for instructors.

The Schoolmaster, the first volume of which has just been published, is a monthly journal devoted to the entire school interests of Michigan. It is published at Saginaw.
