FOOTBALL SUMMARY.

It is with pleasure that we present to the Record readers this week a cut of our 1906 football team, together with those of the captains and coach. In point of interest, especially, the season has been one of the very best. Lansing has furnished large crowds for every home game, and her papers have also shown us every courtesy. Competition was keen from the first and every man put forth strong effort to gain and hold his place on the team. Our whole line, with the exception of Bowditch and Shedd, were playing their first year, and the team included 3 freshmen.

Of the 13 men who were awarded sweaters, all except Capt. Doty and Bowditch will be back in '07. When it is remembered that this year's work was started with only five regulars, the prospects for the future look especially bright.

The team reached the height of interest on the team: M. A. C. 33 DePauw 0. The showing against the former was the best ever made by an M. A. C. team, as the big fellows were held for a single touchdown and that on a fluke. The game with DePauw, resulting in a score of 33 to 0 was a surprise party as the above college has proven itself the leader of the secondary schools in Indiana. This comparison shows something of the strength of the secondary colleges in the two states.

On Monday evening monograms and sweaters were awarded, and at the annual election on Tuesday Small was unanimously chosen captain for 1907.

W. H. Parker, right guard. "Tiny," a steady, conscientious player and one of the mainstays of the line. Junior agr.—so will be with us next year.

C. G. Burroughs, left tackle. A big powerful man, strong on offense and capable of playing a fine all around game, but was bothered all the season with bad legs. Sophomore engineer—so has two years left with us.

B. E. Dershall, right tackle. Light for a tackle, but exceedingly quick and the best man in the line in solving the opponents' offense. Freshman engineer—with his three best years coming.

Bert Shedde, end. The most willing worker and most aggressive player on the team. Absolutely unturtuble, and the more hard knocks he gets the better he likes it. An exceedingly hard man to stop with the ball, and a strong defensive player, although inclined to tackle high. Can play any position in the line or back-field and knows the game thoroughly. Picked by every critic for the all-Michigan team. Freshman engineer.

Chas. Dunlap, end. Playing his first year on the team. Exceedingly quick and fast on his feet and a strong defensive player. Will make a good end or half-back next year. Sophomore engineer.

W. D. Fraser, end. A strong, aggressive, all-around player and one of the best men on the squad on defense. He sprained his ankle early in the season which kept him out of the game for four weeks and slowed up his work after getting back in the game. A willing, honest worker and will prove one of the greatest players on the team. (Continued on page 2.)

In reviewing the work in football we would not forget the man who has contributed so much to the success of the team. It is gratifying to note the fine bearing and perfect harmony which has existed all along between Coach Brewer and his men. The cause of this condition is easily seen. Mr. Brewer has been unirring in his efforts to produce a clean, winning team and he has succeeded. Under his direction each man has felt an inspiration to play not only the best, but also the cleanest article of football possible, and the result of this inspiration has been apparent in every game.

Coach Brewer does not feel that his responsibility ends at the close of a game, but the conduct of each player is carefully noted and his every need is looked after. Players who have been injured do not go unnoticed, but every care is given them, a fact which has been commented upon by our opponents. Because of the excellent manner in which the men have been looked after, all have come through the season's work in the best possible physical condition.

We wish to say much like Mr. Brewer, with so much promising material in sight, and with a loyal bunch of rovers, the outlook for athletics in all departments is indeed promising.

The general work of the Y. M. C. A. during the fall term has been very good. The association lost many good men this year either by graduation or men not returning, so many that about only 100 old men were left, which made it necessary to recruit our numbers with new ones. ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

Examinations are over and trouble begins.

The next number of the Record will be issued Jan. 2.

Robert Baldwin '04 is spending several days with his college friends.

Born to Instructor H. S. Curtis and wife on Monday, Dec. 10, a son.

Charles W. Mason, '09, received a visit from his father, Rev. L. W. Mason, two or three days the past week.

Harry Owen, '05, in charge of a large seed farm near Owosso, spent Saturday and Sunday with college friends.

A revised edition of "Spraying for Profit" by H. E. Weed '89 has been received. Mr. Weed is a landscape architect at 1715 Railway Exchange, Chicago.

Word has been received from Mr. F. I. Rittenour, former instructor in the Chemical Department, who is now with the Jessie Mines Co., Chaparal, Yarapa Co., Arizona.

Prof. Holdsworth and wife leave this week for southern Florida.

L. Whitney Watkins '93 was unanimously re-elected president of the State Association of Farmers' Clubs at the regular annual meeting held in Lansing the past week.

The forestry department has received a collection of ten specimens of wood from New Mexico, sent by Frank Phillips, '03. This is the second collection sent in by Mr. Phillips.

Geo. Burley, '07, visited his farm and was entertained at Mrs. Felton's.

Geo. Burley, '07, received a visit from her mother from Harbor Beach, last week. She was a delegate to the Farmers' Club at Lansing, and was entertained at Mrs. Felton's.

Mrs. Herbert Halloway, of Port Huron, visited her brother Instructor Norton a few days the past week.

Mrs. Newman also received a visit from her sister, Mrs. W. B. Stocum, of Grand Ledge.

The Union Literary Society have elected officers for the winter term as follows: E. A. Willson, president; H. S. Farrand, vice-president; I. H. Harrison, secretary; Charles Neanen, treasurer; E. E. Nios, junior.

Prof. Taft has arranged to have a number of years. He comes highly recommended by Prof. Latta.

The 36th annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticulural Society was held at Benton Harbor December 6, 7, and 8th. The meeting was largely attended by fruit growers and was one of the most successful gatherings that the society has ever held. All the papers presented were "alive" and up-to-date. The characteristic theory about the meeting was the general spirit of optimism shown by the fruit growers of the western part of the state, in spite of the unprecedented freeze of October which destroyed thousands of acres of orchards.

About 250 plates of fine fruit were on exhibition and caused favorable comment.

As usual M. A. C. men were very much in evidence, not only among the listeners but on the program. On the program we find F. A. Wilkins spp. '93 Supt. of the South Haven Station; Hon. C. J. Monroe '77-80, L. A. Briggs '88, C. A. Pratt with '05, C. B. Cook '88, Instructor C. A. McCue '01, and Prof. Taft, Fletcher and Barrows.

The M. A. C. student's fruit judging contest attracted a great deal of attention and favorable comment. First place was won by O. K. White '07, second B. B. Pratt '09 and third J. C. Wilcox '07. The judge of the contest, Mr. T. A. Farrand, of Eaton Rapids, expressed himself as very much pleased with the kind of work that the boys did.

On Friday evening all those who had ever been connected with the college were hastily rounded up, bundled into a big wagon by Paul Thayer, '00, who acted judge and taken out into the country a mile and a half to the home of C. H. Hill, '00, where sumptuous repast was found awaiting their arrival. After doing full justice to the spread, C. H. Cook acted as toastmaster and about a dozen toasts were responded to. Those present were:

C. J. Monroe, '87-90,
Mrs. Monroe,
Paul Thayer, '90,
Mrs. Thayer,
C. H. Hilton, '00,
Miss Tavlor, sister of W. A. Taylor, '88,
Mrs. Hilton,
W. T. Parks, '90,
Mrs. Parks,
Bart Worworth, '92,
C. A. McCue, '91,
C. B. Cook, '88,
Prof. L. R. Taft,
L. B. Hartman, '93,
Prof. W. B. Fletcher,
C. G. Blumberg, '94,
Prof. A. L. Quaintance,
J. M. Barden, '89,
H. B. Pratt, '99,
C. A. Pratt, with '05,
O. R. Wilcoxon, '03,
L. A. Bruggger, '88,
G. A. Hawley, '99,
Miss Taylor, sister of W. A. Taylor, '89,
C. A. Monroe, '83-94.
Others present at the meetings were:

J. C. Wilcox '07,
O. I. Greig, '07,
H. M. Conolly, '98,
Clara Goodell, sp., '90,
Paul Ringo sp., '05,
C. E. Bassett, '88-84,
Jessie Boyce, '98.
REPORT OF THE Y. M. C. A.

In these days of increasing industrial activities, the association is finding it more and more necessary to consider the mental and spiritual welfare of the workers. The association is exerting a strong influence in bettering the moral and religious life of the institution.

We also hope to bring many other things to pass during the next two terms. We are going to organize 4 or 5 classes of at least 50 members each, and also to get 75 of the short-course men in Bible classes.

We are free from Cleveland, Chicago, and Detroit, and have agreed to come to M. A. C. during the winter and spring terms and give addresses before the students.

During the holiday vacation the Y. M. C. A. room will be re-opened and refurnished so that when the students return next term the plan looking Y. M. C. A. room will have been replaced by a more pleasant and agreeable one.

What has already been accomplished, together with what we have every reason to believe will be brought about in the coming months, the present year promises to be the bannery year of the association, and because of the effort of both faculty and students these things have been made possible, and whatever may be accomplished in the future will be brought about by the continued effort and prayer of the students and teacher.

SENIOR DINNERS.

Just how many grains of protein, fat and carbohydrates necessary to keep our machines oiled and running smoothly each day may not seem to be of particular interest to the friends of the senior class in domestic science. But if you can find one person who would not show a healthy increase in their dinner dishes which have been served as a mark of the skill acquired by the girls in this course, by careful planning, you may know he is a miserable Dyspeptic, for whom doubtless a course as guest at Thursday dinner would work a miracle.

Each two senior girls are required to give a dinner to six guests, the cost not to exceed twenty-five cents per plate. The planning of the menu, the marketing, as well as the cooking and serving of the food is all left entirely to the management of these two girls. Not only must they know what flavors to combine in the dinner to make a pleasing whole, but they must also consider the food value of each dish so that the dinner may be properly balanced. They must know all the details of serving each dish in the most approved style and must do it with all the smoothness and delicacy of an expert waitress.

A representative menu is the following, which was served Nov. 23, by Miss Helen Ashley and Miss Rachel Benham:

Dinner cost 24^ cents per plate. Those girls who assisted themselves with meats less expensive than chicken, gave delicious dinners costing several cents less per plate. Every dinner has been voted a success by all the guests fortunate enough to be invited and the domestics of the science department is very proud of the earnest thoughtful work done by the girls in this course.

COLLEGE SONGS.

A revised edition of "The Most Popular College Songs" published by Hinds, Noble and Eldridge, New York City, has been received. The collection includes about 100 songs selected from those of all the colleges and as such to us we are tired of singing. In addition there is a collection of over 20 typical college songs as sung by Cornell, Chicago, Wisconsin, Yale, Harvard and others. The collection as a whole is certainly well suited to societies and all college gatherings as well as to the home.
