LOSES LIFE IN RIVER.
GUY A. FULLER '10, DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Mr. Fuller has been engaged all the spring during his spare time in building a canoe which he finished Saturday morning and he and Guy H. Smith, a freshman engineering student from Detroit, took it to the river about 10:30 to try it out.

As they drifted down stream Smith noticed that the canoe was listing to starboard. He then ran for the canoe, hoping receiving no answer, suspected something wrong, swam to shore and ran up to the water and was hidden from Smith's sight by brush.

H. Smith, a freshman engineering student, went downstream on a long scanner and shortly after asked him if he saw anything.

As they drifted down stream Smith noticed that the canoe was listing to starboard. He then ran for the canoe, hoping receiving no answer, suspected something wrong, swam to shore and ran up to the water and was hidden from Smith's sight by brush.

EVENING CONCERT.

ARIADNE - "St. Paul" - Handel
By chorus of 100 voices assisted by the above-named soloists, and Mr. S. T. Schroetter, pianist.

Mr. S. T. Schroetter is too well known to the college people to need much of an introduction since he has twice played for us at our May Festivals, and his masterly accompanying of "The Creation" is well remembered. Mr. Schroetter has been very successful as Director of the Music Department of Virginia Institute, a large Baptist School for Young Ladies in Bristol, Virginia, for the past two years.

Since Mr. Schroetter makes his home with his aunt, Mrs. Freyholz, in Lansing, and is coming to Lansing to spend part of his vacation, it is possible to secure his services at this time.

Mr. Strong has a most beautiful voice, which he uses with rare discrimination and ease, and his interpretation of everything which he sang showed fine musical feeling and artistic finish.

The hero of the hour, if a great singer can be a hero, was Frederic Martin, twice honored with a festival engagement in this city and the most successful bass that Worcester has heard for many years, more particularly in "The Messiah." It has been stated on good grounds that Mr. Martin has a voice that cannot be compared with any other in the country for its suitability for the bass roll in "The Messiah." This statement was well borne out last night.

The SPIRIT OF WORK.

The successful engineer is a good machine. His mental make-up is in such nice adjustment, and in such complete harmony with his physical equipment, that under the most adverse conditions he is able to produce an indicator card which will show a creditable record of performance. Apart from his moral and intellectual make-up, he has a brain trained to think logically, accurately, and quickly, without noise or jar, vibration or lost motion; and quite often the mental machine which shows the highest efficiency is the one whose apparent work, like that of the nicely adjusted engine, is done with the least noticeable.

But man is more than a simple machine. He is a complex mechanism of automatic control. The cross-head of his engine must keep to its ways, and the crank-shaft must continue to rotate in its bearings; while the mind of man, prone though it is to follow a certain worn path or groove is susceptible to control and direction. The purpose and scope of this paper shall be to enumerate, as we see them, some of the things which are useful in the direction of mental energy and which increase or decrease the efficiency of that figurative machine— the mind. This is in accord with the objects of Tau Beta Pi to elevate the standard of engineering and scientific education, both in the curricula of the colleges and in the life of the student body. The assertions to be made are not all the great of experience, but are gleaned from our observation of associates and friends—some of whom were born because they possess desirable attributes; others who fail because they lack them.

(Miss Benedict made a great hit here as contralto soloist in company with Dr. Carl Duflot and Mme. Savage in "Elijah."--Detroit, Mich., Press Report.)

Schubert's "Die Allmacht" is a dangerous number to give, as it were, in the shadow of Schumann-Heink; but Miss Hudson rendered it with impressive tone and melody of feeling, and Technikowsky's "Schleide" was exquisitely done, and Hammermuth's "Wann ich in Deine Augen Seh" and "Ins wunderschonen Leben" were sung with delightful freshness.—Cheever's Plain Dealer.

Mr. Frederic Martin—Basado.

It has been stated on good grounds that Mr. Martin has a voice that cannot be compared with any other in the country for its suitability for the bass roll in "The Messiah." This statement was well borne out last night. It would be a difficult matter for any singer to bring more pleasure and satisfaction to an audience than did Mr. Martin—Worcester (Mass.) M. J. Buck of Lansing spoke before the Foresters club last Tuesday evening on Fashions in Furniture Woods. In his lecture Mr. Buck showed that custom walnut and some other woods are becoming so scarce and valuable that they are reckoned by the pound and predicted that if oak, mahogany and birch continue to hold popular favor they will soon be sold by weight instead of volume. Already the price of oak has become so high that many imitations have been put on the market which in some cases are difficult to distinguish from the genuine article.

Seldon has the college community been given a musical (instrumental) treat equal to the entertainment given Friday evening by Mrs. Kedzie and Mr. Clark, with Prof. E. S. King as reader. The first part of the program consisted of a series of cornet solos by Mr. Clark accompanied by Mrs. Kedzie, a reading by Prof. King and piano selections by Mrs. Kedzie. The second part was the dramatic poem, "Das Hexenlied," given by Prof. King, Mrs. Kedzie and Mr. Clark in the musical setting. All numbers were heartily cheered, each having to respond with an encore.

Instructor and Mrs. O. I. Gregg are the proud parents of a baby boy born Friday, May 22.

Last Tuesday evening Mr. F. F. Rogers, C. E., deputy highway commissioner gave one of the most interesting talks before the Engineering Society this term. The subject, "Road Way Engineering," was treated by the speaker in an excellent manner. The fact that 70,000 miles of public roads are under the supervision of the highway commissioner goes to show the responsibilities of the department. A great deal of the work is to improve old roads, that is, make surveys for roads. Thus in this way, the power for expenditure of money for roadways is systematic, and also the work can be traced.

The society regrets to say, that the engineering students show lack of interest for these lectures. No doubt the warm weather is effective in reducing the attendance, still the students should endeavor to be present, when so rare an opportunity is offered to listen to men of authority. The society urges all to be present this evening. Mr. M. C. Taft, C. E., of Kalamazoo, will give a talk on "City Engineering."
Great Triple Victory.

Arthur F. Lederer, for the affirmative, spoke on the seniority of the reference in Michigan.

H. L. Kemper led for the negative and attempted to show that the points of the affirmative were not pressed to vote wisely any measures submitted to them and that the vote of theigidry required by the question is too low.

Benjamin Pitman next touched the argument by showing the practicality of the scheme and summed up the points made.

The argument for the negative was concluded by C. J. Oviri who commented that the questions presented is much too inclusive to be used with safety and certainly should not be made to include emergency measures, etc.

In rebuttal the local team easily had the best of the very close speeches of their opponents which had to be badly warped to refute many of the points brought out.

The M. A. C. team won easily matched and shared the honor equally, with write up of the Ypsilanti far out-classed his colleagues, and at all times was master of the situation. This may be easily accounted for by the fact that this is his third season on the team and that last year he won a member of the teaching force at the Normal and helped to train the team.

The decision of the judges, President Chief of Kalamahez college, Dr. H. H. Miller and Prof. J. Q. Adams of Alma were in favor of M. A. C.

Of the seven debates with Ypsilanti that college has won four and M. A. C. three as follows:

GET SECOND PLACE AT THE TRIANGULAR MEET.

Coach Breuer and 14 track men left Friday night for Chicago to attend the triangular meet at Armour Institute between Washburn, Armour and M. A. C. Of account of the debate with Ypsilanti in which Oviri took part it was necessary to leave this quarter and half-niner house which weakened the team by at least 8 points. The final score stood as follows: Washburn, 53; M. A. C., 34, and Armour, 25. M. A. C. won points in but two events, viz: 220 dash, high jump and pole vault, the pole breaking with Gilbert and putting him out of the race. Allen lowered the record in the half to 2 min, 34.9 sec.

The following are the points won by M. A. C., 100 yd. dash, Miller, 7.01; 110 yd. hurdle, C. L. Grey, 7.25; broad jump, Small 6 ft. 1 in. and M. A. C. Or. account of the women.
