EAST LANSING'S LEADING GROCER,
COLLEGE FOOD SHOW HELD IN LANSING.

The food show held in the agricultural building Farmers' Week was taken to Lansing by the Michigan Food Preparedness Board and exhibited in the Lansing main building over the past seven weeks. The show was made available to Lansing people through the influence of Dean White and the extension division. A large number of Lansing people attended the afternoon and evening exhibits and demonstrations.

JOHN MASEFIELD LIBERAL ARTS NUMBER APRIL 8.

John Masefield, one of the two greatest living English poets, has been secured to appear on the Liberal Arts course on April 8. Mr. Masefield was unable to keep his engagement of last term because of storms and delayed trains, but has assured the Liberal Arts Union that he will not fail them this time.

Students and faculty will remember the appearance here last season of Alfred Henry Noyes. Mr. Masefield and Mr. Noyes enjoy the distinction of being the two greatest living poets.

CAPTAIN HUGH P. BAKER, '01, IN HOSPITAL.

Capt. Hugh P. Baker, '01, who has been with the 16th Inf. at Camp Taylor, Ky., is now in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago where he has been for the weeks recovering from an operation. It is understood that the operation was necessitated by an accident sustained while attending the second Officers' Training Camp at Ft. Sheridan. Capt. Baker is improving and expects to rejoin his regiment soon.

WAR BOARD BUYS SEED CORN.

J. W. Nicolaison, '15, of the farm crops department of the college, has been in Delaware for the past two weeks inspecting a large consignment of seed corn recently purchased by the War Preparedness Board for farmers in Michigan. The war board took up the securing of seed corn at the instigation of the farm crops department and are attempting through outside purchases to provide Michigan farmers with much needed seed. The supply in Delaware was located by Nicolaison and some 35,000 bushels have already been shipped and the balance of 15,000 bushels is being inspected this week preparatory to shipment.

SPRING TERM REGISTRATION 800.

On Wednesday night registration figures showed 807 entering college for the spring term's work. There have been a number of late registrants this term so that the figure may be increased slightly before the week is over. At the end of registration day, Tuesday, a total of 783 had signed, divided as follows, 311 home economics, 292 agricultural, 180 engineers.

The next draft call set for early in April is greatly reducing the ranks of men students, although a number are leaving college this term to take up work on farms. The number of young women is remaining about normal.

CHICAGO ALUMNI MEETING MARCH 30.

The Chicago Alumni Association will hold a war dinner Saturday evening, March 30, at the College Club, Stevens Building, Madison Ave., Chicago. Representatives from the college will attend. An invitation is being sent to all men in service in and about Chicago to be the guests of the Chicago Association.

CARNIVAL POSTPONED TILL APRIL 27.

The "old time" athletic carnival to have been held in the new gymnasium on April 6 is being postponed until April 27 on account of the incomplete condition of the gymnasium. The entire building will be completed in every detail in the next three weeks and the athletic department will move into the building on April 29. The main floor which has been left until the last is now completely laid and the surface is being finished. By April 29 everything will be complete and all equipment installed.

The carnival on April 27 will be the first big affair in the completed building and will offer the college community an opportunity to become acquainted with the athletic department in their new home.

'17ER GETS FRENCH WAR CROSS.

Lieut. Howard G. Smith First M. A. C. Man of A. E. F. Decorated For Bravery.

Second Lieut. Howard G. Smith, '17, "Mercury," is the first M. A. C. man in the American forces now fighting in France to receive a decoration for valor in action. His name is contained among the twenty-five Sammies given war crosses by the French command as official recognition of their bravery under fire. The list of those awarded the Croix de Guerre is given in a dispatch of March 15, which adds:

"The Americans decorated belong to the same force that took over a trench in the Lorraine sector which they had compelled the Germans to evacuate by their concentrated and sustained artillery fire and by frequent spirited raids.

"This was the first actual, permanent advance the Americans have scored since they reached the firing line. The captured trench is nearly two miles long and is situated upon higher ground than the former advanced positions the Franco-American troops had held."

"The war crosses were given for acts of bravery in the various sharp engagements that Americans have taken part in since they took over the first line positions."

The citing of Lieut. Smith's action reads: "Lieut. Howard G. Smith, who led a counter attack and occupied a first line German trench which the Americans succeeded in holding temporarily."

Lieut. Smith of Cleveland, Ohio, was commissioned a 2d lieutenant on August 15 after attending the first officers' training camp at Ft. Sheridan. In September he was selected among the first 2,000 officers for duty (Continued on page 4.)

TRACTOR COURSE NEEDED

In view of the purchase of a large number of tractors by the Michigan War Preparedness Board for distribution at cost among Michigan farmers, M. A. C.'s course in the handling and care of farm tractors was very opportune. Prof. Musselman in commenting upon the course said he was very much surprised at the large percentage of the 155 taking the course that actually owned tractors now or were contemplating the purchase of a machine this spring.

In comparison with Ohio State, University of Wisconsin and Purdue which with M. A. C. were the first of the middle western schools giving tractor work, M. A. C.'s course, both in attendance and work covered, was far in the lead. At Cornell forty attended the first three weeks course and the demand for the work was so great that the course is now being repeated.

THE NEW COVER.

With this issue the Record appears in a new "dress." Yes, celebrating Easter. The old one was badly worn, besides there was some comment about its modishness. The new cover is thought to be an improvement in design, and a little more pleasing to look upon for a dress must be that of course. We hope it will lend a more finished, dignified appearance to M. A. C.'s official publication, and that you will share our views in the matter.

The cover was prepared under the direction of Don Francisco, '14, in the art rooms of the advertising department of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. We are indebted to him for the design and execution.

If the Record does not reach you promptly please do not assume that it has been lost en route or that it is the fault of "our mailing division." The conditions under which second class mail matter is transported are most unfavorable to prompt delivery now due to the congested conditions of railway traffic and difficulties of the post office department. We are endeavoring to do our part by sending them on their way regularly and we sincerely hope that very soon will finally succeed in reaching its destination.

overseas and was awarded to the 16th Infantry with which unit he has been serving. Writing from France under date of January 20th, Mr. Smith says: "Lieu. E. J. Hamlin, 16, is located near here but I have not seen him for nearly two months."

STUDENTS LIBERTY LEAGUE FORMED.

A very creditable movement and one expressive of the enterprise and patriotism of M. A. C. students is the formation of a students' war work organization known as the Students' Liberty League. This League was launched recently at a meeting of thirty-five students from the three upper classes, and Frank A. Davis, '16, was elected president.

The purpose of the organization is to assist the government in every possible way in the prosecution of the war. It also is co-operating with the Food Administration in the following ways:

1. To address men's and women's organizations in rural communities in the interest of food conservation and increased production of foodstuffs, especially by calling the attention of these people to the necessity of their wholehearted support and acquainting them with the exact status of the national food situation.

2. To seek farm positions for any men in the college who are willing to serve their country by helping in the important work of food production, and to provide men as far as possible for farmers who may want help.

3. To cooperate with the Extension division in getting positions as teachers and leaders in gardening projects for students both inside and outside the organization, and to encourage gardening in communities where gardening would not otherwise be carried on, and to supply men to take charge of such projects.

4. To encourage other colleges to join in the movement and to render any other service which the Food Administration feels advisable provided such will not too seriously interfere with the regular college work.

5. To offer services in the Liberty Loan, the Thrift Stamp, the War Savings Stamps, and other worthy causes, where the organization could assist by giving speeches in rural communities.

At the meeting of March 26 officers for the following year were elected: President, F. E. Fogle; vice president, R. E. Trippensee; secretary, W. H. Cudatok; treasurer, A. G. Wiedeman; corresponding secretary, R. W. Tenny.

Committees on membership, finance, farm positions, publicity, engagements, projects and organization expansion have been named.

The Students' Liberty League is an outgrowth of the feeling that everyone is in the war and should be doing their utmost to bring victory. It is purely a student movement. Already the work is well under way and a number of speaking engagements have been filled. With the opening of the spring term, the organization expects to make a big drive against Kaiserism. To date, sixteen engagements for addressing rural communities have

BREWERS SPRING ATHLETIC PLANS EXTENSIVE.

If any one at M. A. C. lacks opportunity for athletics and physical exercise this spring it certainly will not be the fault of Director Brewer. His plans for spring athletic work include sports for every man in college, baseball and track for the faculty and teaching force and the opening of the new swimming pool one afternoon a week to the use of the girls and women of the home economics department. Thirty baseball teams are scheduled to play series games, "twenty-nine real teams and the faculty." In fact, to use Mr. Brewer's words, "although teams so that everyone who hasn't a wooden leg can get into a pennant series." Besides the varsity, the scrub, and all fresh companies, there will be a regular intersociety schedule for the championship of the four classes, an Intersociety league for literary society teams and a military-athletic league in which each company of the cadet regiment will enter teams for the championship of the reserve officers' training unit. The Intersociety and the military-athletic leagues will be divided into four groups and each group will play a series, the winners of which will play off for the championship.

The military-athletic work, plans for which Director Brewer and Major Wrightson have perfected, contemplates athletics as they are now being given in the army training camps. The companies of the cadet regiment will divide the patriotic manager among them and each company of the cadet regiment will enter teams for the championship of the reserve officers' training unit. The Intersociety and the military-athletic leagues will be divided into four groups and each group will play a series, the winners of which will play off for the championship.

These pumps will operate at 150 pounds if necessary. The driving steam main to the river that will furnish a supply of water limited only by the size of the pipe. Armory March 14 and a two to one victory for the negative team over Purdue March 16 at Purdue. The question debated was "Resolved, that the U. S. government take immediate steps to acquire and operate the coal mines as a permanent policy."

With this year's triumphal conclusion of the debating effort, the Alumni public speaking fund is being brought into use for the first time. The interest upon the funds paid in, is being used to purchase medals and fobs for the members of the varsity debating teams. Thus the first of the alumni permanent funds is launched upon its way and is being used as it was intended it should be used by its sponsors.

But there is something lacking about the public speaking fund. To be exact it is just $8.62 that is lacking. Eight sixty two stands in the way of our investing the entire fund in a $500 Liberty Bond of the new issue—just $8.62. To be frank we want that $8.62 to be added to the Alumni public speaking fund. To be even more frank we are asking everyone that reads this not to wait for the "other fellow"—for there almost never is another fellow when you are waiting for him in that manner—but to give as he can to bring the fund to a point where it may convert itself into a $500 Liberty Bond.

CORRESPONDENCE.

From G. A. Barcroft, '10, care Braden Copper Co., Sewell, Ranengua, Chile:
* * * Please note change of address. I resigned from the government service to take a position with the Braden Copper Co. as superintendent of construction in December.

The trip from New York via Jamaica and Panama Canal took thirty three days.

This mine is about 100 miles southeast of Santiago in the rough parts of the Andes Mountains at an elevation of 7,000 feet above sea level. The climate is delightful and in the winter (your summer) the snow fall is very heavy.

E. W. Baldwin, '11, is division engineer at Sewell where the mills are being enlarged to double the output of copper which even now amounts to about one and a half million dollars a month.

We think that this is a very good way to do our bit. * * *

From V. G. Anderson, '11, Mansfield, Ohio, 122 W. 1st St.:
* * * Things have been going good for me since I left the dear old college. Your records no doubt show that I am married, but I am sure that they fail to show that I have an M. A. C. 1939 "prospect."

"Oh, my, yes." Born June 13, 1917. That's why I was not to the reunion last year. And that's why I want to have the Record. He is over seven months now and is grabbing for everything and I want to teach him to not to miss the Record.

He is carrying the name of James Malcolm, but I am afraid he will drop the James and get Jimmie.

I am still with the Aultman and Taylor Machinery Co. as head of the rating Dept. I noticed in one of late Riconos that you had H. L. Brunger, of '02, in the works office of the company. Mr. Brunger is the "Works Manager" and is doing things. This is going to be a big year for us here as we have a large building schedule ahead of us. The country needs the crops you know. * * *

I am a member of the 841st Repair Squadron, Aviation Section Signal Corps, and expect to leave for some eastern port in about ten days. As men of a little education are supposed to be capable of anything, I am working like a horse in connection with the organization, classification and equipment of 841. * * *

I have applied for the flying school course, so if any one inquires about my record at M. A. C. just have the records adjusted to make me, "One Smart Feller" and I'll try to make good on the bluff. * * *

From Private Wesley F. Mallech, '19, Company K, 23d U. S. Engineers, Glenburnie, Maryland:
* * * I have met several M. A. C. men since I have reached Maryland and it sure seemed good. Jas. F. Van Ark, whose address was given in the Record of February 15 as Company "1" 23d U. S. Engineers, left here last week with his company. George W. Tiedeman, '19E, is an acting sergeant in Company K, 23d U. S. Engineers here in Glenburnie, Maryland, and Paul H. Leomin and I, who were both '19E, are in the same company. Martin R. Crocker, '19E, is in a truck company of this regiment and I have also seen A. M. Hopperstead, '18E, and Ketchum, '20E, since reaching this regiment.

Tuesday, February 5, seventeen of us, including Tiedeman and I went to a military and naval party at Annapolis, Md. There were soldiers, sailors and marines there. Most of the soldiers were from our regiment. The party was given by a group of the Annapolis citizens. I was talking to a group of our fellows when I thought I saw a familiar face and it was clothes in a naval uniform. I couldn't quite place the man just off hand so I went up to him and asked him if he wasn't from M. A. C. He replied in a very emphatic and convincing manner, "You d—n right." And he sure enough was. It was Benedict, '19A, and it wasn't long before he had led me over to Lynn Hogsie, '19A, M. A. Reeves, '19E, and Sherman Coryell, '18A. It surely was an agreeable surprise to meet those fellows under the circumstances. They are all acting as coaches to the army men on the rifle range at Annapolis.

I surely was glad to learn that the juniors are to publish the Wolverine this year. And that's why I want to have the Record.

I have work to do now so I must close thinking of that J-Hop tomorrow night. * * *

Hon. Charles W. Garfield, chairman of the board of the Grand Rapids Savings Bank, was 70 years old last Thursday, but there must be some mistake in the records, because he is still as young in thought, action and appearance as a man of 30. He is, as he always has been, the embodiment of enthusiasm for every movement which has for its object the betterment of the State and the glory of the Nation. Whether it be the guidance of some youth in determining his proper status in life and the selection of a proper occupation or securing the enactment of good laws and the election of proper persons to enforce them equitably or assisting in the solution of great questions of vital importance to the Nation, Mr. Garfield is always ready and willing to lend a helping hand and unselfishly give any good cause the benefit of his knowledge and experience.
