The MICHIGAN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE ASSOCIATION East Lansing, Michigan Publishers
FOR THE PURPOSE of stimulating more interest in the graduate school of M. A. C. the post-graduate students of last Tuesday evening, January 7, in the post-graduate rooms of the Rotary building and organized "The First Graduate Club." The following were elected: President, L. E. Tweed; vice president, Hugh B. Smith, secretary and treasurer, Robt. F. Tweed; Dr. G. H. Coons and Mr. C. W. Bennett were elected honorary advisory members of the club. Several matters of business were taken up, the most important of which was the matter of petitioning the Gamma Alpha, an honorary graduate fraternity for a chapter at this institution.

THE MICHIGAN ENGINEERING Society is holding its annual meeting in the representative chamber of the state capitol building in Lansing from Wednesday noon until Friday noon of this week. The one hundred and fifty delegates are guests of the Lansing Engineers' Club, of which about forty are former M. A. C. men. R. C. Smith, '90, engineer for the Wayne County Road Commission, president of the Michigan society, gave the presidential address on Friday morning. F. R. Harris, '12, a Michigan utilities commission, presented a paper on Wednesday afternoon on the Michigan Utilities Commission, and Prof. P. G. Andres, '16, of the electrical engineering department of the college, presented the subject, "Modern Developments in Electrical Communication."

A COUNTRY LIFE SECTION of Farmers' Week will be held this year, Wednesday forenoon, February 12th. It will be preceded by a banquet in honor of Kenneth L. Butterfield, '91, president of the National Country Life Conference at the People's Church in East Lansing, Tuesday, 5:30 p. m. The meeting Wednesday morning will include these addresses: "The Country Organization Program," K. L. Butterfield, '91, Massachusetts Agricultural College; "The Country Community of the Future—a Dream," Alfred Vivian, Ohio State University; "Rural Education of Tomorrow," Ernest W. Groves, New Hampshire College. School commissioners, county agents, rural ministers, Y. M. C. A. secretaries, club leaders, and other rural life workers will abound with the banquet and meeting of great value.

Dr. William Chandler Bagley, '95, Professor of Education at Teachers' College, Columbia University, N. Y., gave a splendid address before the students on Tuesday evening, January 7, in the Griffin Auditorium, Dr. Bagley appeared on the Liberal Arts Lecture Course, and this is the first time in a number of years that a former M. A. C. man has lectured on this course. Dr. Bagley brought out the fact that as a result of the army selective draft it was found that one out of every four was illiterate, either an absolute or limited illiterate. Although foreigners were taken into consideration in this count a large percentage of these illiterates were foreign born. This, he pointed out, is a menace to democracy, and he blamed the poor rural school system for much of it. He suggested as a remedy, that the government give aid in the training of teachers and in the strengthening of the elementary schools. Dr. Bagley is regarded as one of the biggest educational men in the country today.

W. H. Thiers, '19, Post Commander of the William Riker Johnson Post of the American Legion at East Lansing, has received for distribution a limited number of French Memorials for American soldiers who fought overseas. These memorials are little booklets gotten out by the French government as an expression of their gratitude for the part which the American soldiers took in the Great War. These will be placed in the hands of the officers of all local American Legions, but if any M. A. C. man who has seen overseas service is unable to obtain one, by notifying the alumni office he may receive one through the post here. Memorial diplomas will also be given to the nearest friend or relative of those men who lost their lives. The East Lansing Legion will be glad to assist in securing these diplomas for families or friends of M. A. C. students.

The Lansing Kiwanis Club and their wives were guests at the basketball game Wednesday and watched Chicago Y. M. C. A. College go down before the snapping Legion attack to a score of 28 to 14. Between halves they were entertained by boxing matches and the college banjorine quartet. After the game they were ushered to the pool room and watched swimming demonstrations and stunts first by the men and later by the girls under the direction of Miss Grimes. Refreshments were served in the Varsity Room by the faculty ladies. About 75 Kiwanis men and Kiwanis ladies enjoyed the athletic evening.

Professor Hale Tennant, who has organized postgraduate and faculty members in connection with the extension department over the entire state of Michigan during the last two years, has been added to the staff of the economics department. This addition of Mr. Tennant to the college staff fills a distinct need in the agricultural curriculum, as it will enable the students to make a thorough study of market conditions.
ALUMNI MEETINGS

Below is a list of local M. A. C. Associations that are holding meetings within the next month. Have you held a meeting in your locality? Are you planning to? If you are, advise the Record just as soon as possible of the time and the place so that we may include you in the list.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1920

A RESPONSIBILITY,

If a college education is more in demand than it has ever been before in the history of the world, if the colleges are receiving more than their share of the young men and young women, and preparing for their life work and we believe these things are true—then the alumni of these colleges have a bigger responsibility than ever before. What M. A. C. needs now more than anything else is the support of its alumni. Since the war we can give lots more money than we thought we could before and we can all give our loyal support to the "Old School" every day in the year. M. A. C. is able to furnish to Michigan just an amount necessary for new buildings, salaries and equipment. If you believe that the time which you spent at M. A. C. was profitable and helped to make your life fuller and better, tell other young people about to start out in their life work. -colleagues no stronger than you former students. Get behind and push—but not too far behind.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN OUT IN FORCE.

M. A. C. Alumni, numbering about 150, assembled in the Woman's club house Thursday evening, January 23, for a banquet and dancing party, the ninth annual meeting of the Central Michigan Alumni Association. Although the Union Memorial building was the principal object of discussion, instructors' salaries, a vigorous advertising campaign for M. A. C., athletics, the need of dormitories, and student life in general came in for their share of the discussion.

Dr. E. A. Seeley, '04, acted as toastmaster, and Dr. E. A. Seeley, '04, president of the association, was in charge of the business session. The list of speakers included P. B. Woodworth, '84, of Chicago, Dr. W. O. Hedrick, '95, J. D. Towar, '95, and Director C. L. Brewer, Mary E. Ranney, a freshman at the college, and daughter of E. W. Ranney, '99, and Teresa Bristol Ranney, '99, gave several solo dances and Leonore Kenney, a junior, sang. These original ditties by M. H. Small, '22, accompanied by himself on the ukulele, made the hit of the evening and the old grads laughed uproariously as they were reminded of their own college pranks. The officers elected for the coming year are: President: S. F. Edwards, '99; vice president, Elizabother Palm, '11; secretary, Earl E. Hotchin, '12, and directors, E. A. Seeley, '04, and Frank Wood.

A LIVING MEMORIAL.

Under the subject, "A Living Memorial," Dr. Hedrick told briefly just what the memorial building will mean. The union building should be thought of as the college home for all alumni. and former students and their friends. It should be a place which both men and women may use and feel that it should be as much a place for the women as the men. They are just as truly alumni of M. A. C. as we are.

We have had the union building in mind for more than five years, and when the war gave us the memorial idea, if by the erection of such a building we can thus honor 1,200 M. A. C. students and former friends and students present were: '69, James Satterlee; '83, Frank F. Rogers; '85, J. D. Towar; '86, Philip H. Woodworth; '87, Geo. J. Hume; '89, Nettie McCurdy Hume; '91, W. B. drick; '92, Luther H. Baker; '93, Fred L. Woodworth, Dewey A. Seeley, Mrs. Pearl K. Plant; '94, S. F. Edwards; '00, E. W. Ramsey; '01, Gertrude Love Woodworth; '02, E. E. Gallup; '03, Beas Rouser Seeley, T. B. Edwards, E. A. Seeley; '05, Helen Baker Morgan, F. S. Dunke; '06, Mrs. Zoe Northrup Wyatt, Wm. W. Morgan, Harry S. Reed; '07, C. M. Cade, A. C. Pratt, Bernice Black Dal, Grace Lundy Drefly, '08; '09, Helen Esselstyn Wood; 'Frank E. Wood, Oliver Robinson, Ethel Belknap; '10, Mabel C. Rogers; '11, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Saier, Z. E. Goodell and wife, Zella M. Kimmer; J. J. Fezer; '12, Phyllis Smith Pratt, A. M. Berridge, Latie Gunnison, Ralph K. Goddell, Mrs. J. Macdonald; '13, Elizabeth Hutchinson; '14, Marion Sly, Dale Loss Towar, Margaret Colgan; Mrs. H. J. Bell Carter, Mrs. Peggy Holbrook Hartsuch, L. F. Dendel, C. E. Gauthier, R. A. Thompson, Thomas Macdonald; '15, Agnes Hunt Cade, Evelyn Harbotte Gauthier, Olin G. Dyer; '16, R. W. Wyatt, F. D. Thompson, Helen Petrie, Ethel Taft; '17, Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Delhart, Fred M. Wilson, Richard Sullivan, Howard W. Sheldon, Frank K. Chaddock; '18, Howard D. Abbott, E. A. S. DeFerries, Edna Grettenberger, May E. Foley, Marian Morse; '19, Miriam Frost, Rebecca Collingwood, Effie Z. Cissnich, Lillie H. Small, '21, M. H. Small.

Charles Edward Ferris, '90, directing the drive in Tennessee, N. and S. Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana. Graduated in the mechanical department at M. A. C. in 1890. Mr. Ferris has been a practicing civil engineer for two years. He went to the University of Tennessee at the opening of the session 1892 as instructor in drawing. He was made professor of mechanical engineering in 1894, and was promoted to dean of the engineering college in 1914. Author of a text book on descriptive geometry. Member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Dean Ferris has been an aggressive worker for the University of Tennessee. He was largely responsible for the acquisition of a new athletic field there recently. He organized the campaign and carried it through and has been prominent in the promotion of educational and engineering lines in Tennessee.

The FLU EPIDEMIC has again reached the college, and although a great many students and faculty members have suffered from the disease or now new buildings costing over half million dollars. We especially congratulate President Kedzie on his exceptional success in showing the legislature the need of the college. The addition of a Library and Administration building and an Auditorium, will mark a new epoch in the progress of the college. Adopted at a meeting, Jan. 22, 1920. (Signed) Fred L. Woodworth, '86. Frank R. Rogers, '83.

NOTRE DAME TRIMMED IN SNAP-PY TILT.

In a game which resolved itself into a battle of lasting powers and ability to stand the gaff, the Aggies triumphed, over Notre Dame on the East Lansing court Saturday night, 23 to 20. For thrillers the battle rivaled the Michigan game of a week ago, since the margin was cut to one point. With the lead to their credit, the Big Green athletes played to win rather than to stack up a gang of points, this style of attack being one of the chief causes for the tight count at the end of the game. Organization and team play on the part of Coach Gauthier's squad excelled that of the Rockne combination every step of the way, but the Aggies were there to win from their old, time rivals and so took a few long chances from the court.

With the Notre Dame game on the books, the Aggies today start the work which leads to the battle with Michigan at Ann Arbor Friday night. Michigan has been playing real basketball this season and if the Big Green is to run as successfully as it is now going there can be no letup in the pace. Up to Thursday night the training will be carried on and the team will leave for Ann Arbor Friday morning.

Old footballs were awarded several M. A. C. athletes at a recent meeting of the Board of Control, in recognition of the services which various captains have given to further the interest of athletics in the institution. Those receiving these mementoes were A. D. Vanderwaart of Lansing, captain-elect '17, C. F. Ramsey of Ludington, captain elect '19, and H. E. Franson of Iron Mountain, captain elect '19.

WHAT THE DEPARTMENTS ARE DOING.

Editor's Note.—We have had requests from time to time to furnish information about the different departments. This week we have an outline of the work being done in one of the most important as well as one of the most popular of college departments.

Drawing and Design.

By Prof. B. E. K. Steward.

The fire of 1916 which burned the Engineering Building completely destroyed the property of the drawing department and for a year thereafter it made its headquarters in the Agricultural Building and conducted classes in different rooms about the campus.

As soon as the R. E. Olds Hall of Engineering was finished it was assigned quarters on the third and fourth floors with the exception of two rooms which were reserved for the third and Tau Beta Pi room on the fourth. This space is utilized by five drafting rooms, four free-hand drawing rooms, six offices, a blue printing room, a filing room and several recitation rooms.

The present organization consists of two independent lines of work: first, the handling of engineering students along lines which prepare them to specialize in civil, electrical, chemical or mechanical engineering, and second, the free-hand drawing, color work, etc., which is given to women students and correlates their work with the household art department.

In discussing the first group there were several changes made in 1916-17 and some in the present year with the following results: Courses in machine design which were taught by the mechanical engineering department were placed under the direction of the drafting department in order to unify the work and to standardize certain theories of teaching following out the methods used in commercial practice as far as possible. By this arrangement freshmen engineers start in the fall term with mechanical drafting and follow it in the spring term with imderal machine design. This has several advantages, it gives the student a good foundation training in drafting and fits him to take up summer work in a commercial drafting office. It also lightens his load in the freshman year as descriptive geometry is now given in the fall and winter terms of the sophomore year. In the junior and senior years courses in kinematics, theoretical machine design, steam engine and steam turbine design, also jigs and fixtures are taught.

The second group which deals with the women students, courses in free-hand drawing are required in the fall and winter terms of the freshman year. Elective courses are offered in the three years following so that any girl who wishes to continue work along art lines has the opportunity of taking work each term throughout her course.

Standing room is always found by general terms three groups of students are given courses in drawing for students specializing in landscape gardening. Courses in mechanical drawing are elective for agricultural and forestry students. Courses in history of art, history of American art and history of painting are given throughout the senior year as electives for women students. In conjunction with the household art department, a course in free-hand drawing followed by one in house planning.

The blue printing room is adequately equipped to handle all college work
FIRST "CO-ED PROM."

IN SPITE OF THE FACT that the men declared it couldn't be, the first Annual Co-Ed Prom held at the Gym last Friday evening, January 23, was a deecided success from start to finish. Over three hundred co-eds, alumni and faculty ladies were on the floor in costume, and as many more were spectators in the balcony. Stern guards from the constabulary stood at the entrance and no masculine men dared enter. But there were fair substitutes in abundance.

The make-ups were clever and oridinal, artistic and funny. Martha and George were there in triplicate, and several pairs of gold dust twins, each blacker than the ones before, were out with gold dust and scrub clothes.

Soldiers, sailors, nurses, Indians, guy­sies, funny clowns, and dozens of adorable little Mother Goose children were met at every turn. A dainty little girl in pink and white with rosettes and bows, with a cunning boy
in a pink Buster Brown, a prince and E. H. Stewart are still with the department. Mr. A. G. Scheele was appointed assistant professor of drawing and design and has charge of the art work taught in the department.
Mr. Scheele is a graduate of Oberlin college and has been studying art under some of the greatest American artists. His teaching experience at the University of Illinois as well as practical experience with some of the larger commercial art concerns in Chicago has given him an unusual training and the strides made in the department along his lines are very gratifying. Miss Edith Butler has been appointed instructor in the free­hand drawing department.

During Farmers' Week an exhibit of student drawings will be shown and with it will be done by the instructors in different mediums.

MEETING OF THE STATE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

President's Office.

President: Pres. Kedzie. Mrs. Stockman, Messrs. Wallace, Beaumont, Waterbury, Woodman and Watkins.

The minutes of the previous meeting
having been in the hands of the members were approved without reading.

Mr. Wallace was elected chairman of the Board for the ensuing two years.

The president called attention to a petition of the faculty for an increase of the com­ penation. This was referred to the committee on budget and employees.

The following resignations were accepted to take effect as indicated: Mr. C. L. Rose, county agent for Oceola county, effective February 23, Mr. J.
V. Sheap, county agent for Jackson county, effective January 1. Mr. E. C.
Mandenberg, extension specialist in forestry, effective January 1. Messrs.
Alice M. Kuenzel, home demonstration agent for Manistee county, effective February 1.

The following appointments were made: L. L. Drake, county agent for Antrim county, effective January 15.
A. A. Butchins, county agent for Joseph county, effective February 1.

county, effective February 1. Mr. J.
Jackson, county agent for Mason county, effective February 1. Mr. J. L. Linck, county agent for Muskegon county, effective Feb. 1. In each of the above cases, $1,200 of the salary is to be paid from Lever funds and the balance by the county. Miss Eva Carroll, home demonstration agent for Oakland county, effective February 1. Ann Rosdale, county agent for Cheboygan county, effective January 15. Dr. Mumford, Mr. Turner, Miss Edna Smith and Dr. M. R. Bingham were authorized to attend an official district conference of the extension leaders, at Des Moines, Iowa, February 15.

The president presented a communication from Dr. Bergen in regard to increased greenhouse facilities. This was referred to the horticultural department with the request that it consider plans for new greenhouses, the removal of the old one, together with an estimate of costs, to include the requirements of the botanical department.

The recommendation of Prof. Clark, that Mr. C. J. Overmyer be appointed instructor in chemistry for the period of January 1 to July 1, was approved
