THE M. A. C. RECORD

VOL. XXVII. No. 1.

EAST LANSING

SEPTEMBER 30, 1921

THE NEW AUDITORIUM of the People's Church has been completed and the first services will be held there Sunday, October 9th, first week of the opening of college. Formal dedicatory services will be held October 16. The auditorium joins the Church on the east side, being connected with a passage way from the basement and is intended as a temporary makeshift to care for the growing congregation until the new church can be built. The entrance is out on the street line and the walls are permanent so that the building can later be converted into a store building.

FORECASTS OF THE ENROLLMENT, as the Record goes to press, and almost a week before the opening of college, show an increase of 100 over the applications of the same time last year. An incoming class well over 600 is predicted. With the upper classes holding their own on registration day, the total enrollment may reach between 1600 and 1700.

MISS MAY E. FOLEY '18 ASSISTANT ALUMNI SECRETARY has left her work in the Alumni Office this fall to enter Columbia University for special work in journalism, dietetics and one or two other home economics subjects. She left early this week. In New York she will live with Miss Faust and Miss Van Steenberg, both of the home economics department who are also entering Columbia for special work this fall.

COACH BARRON AND THE FOOTBALL SQUAD returned to the campus from the Clear Lake training quarters last week and have been putting in a steady round of morning and afternoon drills, with an occasional scrimmage. The new mentor does not demand such a strenuous grind nor as frenzied action of his men as did Patsy Clark during the early season stages, but his cool methodical handling of the squad has inspired confidence both in the players and the eager early season sport followers who thronged the side lines at the open scrimmages. The Clear Lake camp south of Stockbridge, which was built by Lansing clubmen for Lansing teams is an excellent pre-season training quarters, however as their work progressed the shower baths and the better field conditions called the squad back to the campus.

THE STUDENT JUDGING TEAM won first place in the Holstein class and third in the total team ranking for all teams at the Dairy Cattle Congress in session at Waterloo, Iowa, Sept. 26 to October 2. The M. A. C. team which was coached by Prof. H. E. Dennison '11 was in competition with the teams of all the leading agricultural colleges in the middle west, including Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, and Nebraska. Frank Thomas '22, East Lansing, one of the team members tied for fourth place in the individual judging. Other members of the team are L. E. Harper '22 of Middleville, and W. J. Sweetman '22 of East Lansing. The success of the team at the Waterloo congress assures their entrance in the judging ring at the National Dairy Show October 8 to 15 at Minneapolis.

GRADUATION EXERCISES for sixteen students from the preparatory section of the Federal Vocational Guidance School of the College were held in the Agricultural Building Thursday afternoon this week. Clarence E. Holmes '93, Superintendent of the School for the Blind at Lansing, delivered the commencement address. The graduates are army students who have been sent to M. A. C. by the Army Educational Board and who have been given preparatory work so that they might enter regular college courses. The work has been under the direction of B. J. Ford '20 until September 1 when he joined the staff of the State Board of Public Instruction. C. G. Card, his assistant, takes his place as director of the work. Mr. H. B. McCoy arrived on the campus September 1 to take charge of the Government phases of the work in connection with the men's education at M. A. C. He is known as the "coordinator" and takes up the work which Mr. Faunce, the President's secretary, has been handling during the past year. Mr. McCoy is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has had both army and educational experience. Mr. Faunce still continues in the work as a counselor for the federal students, acting as a point of contact between them and the college departments.

AMONG THE PROMINENT VISITORS on the campus this summer were Dr. E. J. Butler head of the Plant Pathology for the British Empire, located in London; Professor A. Jaczewski, head of the Pathological and Microbiological work of the Ministry of Agriculture of Russia at Petrograd. Both are Pathologists of international repute. Also N. I. Vavilov, head of the Bureau of Applied Pathology of the Ministry of Agriculture of Russia.

ANOTHER LARGE APARTMENT HOUSE is promised the college community in glowing announcements featured in the Lansing papers this week. In the proposed structure Mrs. Mary E. Champe, long a resident of East Lansing, hopes to realize a lifetime ambition. The apartment house as planned is to be located on the Champe property immediately south of the East Lansing High School facing Lewis street and will have ninety-three apartments. The plans which have been on display at the East Lansing Bank during the week show a spacious building, ultra modern in apartment house construction. Reservations are already being made for apartments.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

"We can aspire to greatness rather than bigness, to quality rather than quantity, though we need not despise numerical or financial growth. We can retain and enlarge the spirit of service to state, to nation, to the world. And we can keep faith with our ancient custom to fulfill a mission to the multitude—we must reach the people with the best that we have."

—K. L. Butterfield '91
Pres. Mass. Agric. College.

The September meeting of the Board of Agriculture brought into active membership John Doelle of Marquette WELCOMING as one of the directors of MR. DOELLE the destiny of M. A. C. A farm boy, the youngest of thirteen children, his story can not be any other than that of a man who has hewn his own way.

In speaking of his struggle and final success in establishing the Ottor Lake Agricultural School a piece of work, by the way, of which Mr. Doelle is possibly more proud than any other that he has accomplished for the Upper Peninsula, one of his co-workers says, "Raised on a farm where the eight hour law applied from sunrise until dark, he knew the hardships of the average country boy and girl and the short-comings of the common rural school. He has applied the best years of his life, in constructive efforts toward raising the standard of rural education and of rural life, hoping that the state as well as his community may profit by it."

As one of the directors of the Agricultural Development Bureau of the State Department of Agriculture, he will bring to the Board a point of contact with the State Department that should be most helpful and of great value in correlating the work of the two institutions. More than that, Mr. Doelle is a representative to the Upper Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula has long been in need of a closer knowledge and relationship with M. A. C.

An educator of experience, a live-wire, aggressive figure in advancing the agricultural interests of Michigan, particularly those of the Upper Peninsula where advancement is most needed, a graduate of the University of Michigan, and with a reputation for fairness and untiring energy, alumni welcome Mr. Doelle's membership to the Board of Agriculture and are confident that he will be a power for accomplishing worth while things for M. A. C.

A college or university training should fit men for leadership and we have often spoken, sometimes modestly, sometimes boasting, of our own graduates as leaders in their communities. Sometimes the young men or women leaving college fail to recognize an obligation to the state for what they have received. They are not mindful that the commonwealth has furnished them with the major helping of those things that go to make up a college training, and that in return the state expects them to give of their service, not only in the particular line of their training but in the forefront of the activities for a higher life and better living in the communities into which they go. This is about one of those who was.

Indirectly we came across this information of one of our recent graduates, whose activities in his community outside his regular job of agricultural teaching in the high school show to what extent even a 'young fellow' can take hold and employ himself for the upbuilding of his community. Here is his outside program in brief; secretary and promoter of the farm bureau lyceum course, superintendent of the community exhibit at the county fair, superintendent of the boys live stock judging at the fair, Sunday School teacher, sponsor of the agricultural club, secretary of the county rural track association, publicity man for the high school with a daily column in the community paper, weekly agricultural demonstrations in the rural schools, football coach, faculty advisor for the high school paper, etc.

Doubtless there are many graduates doing as much or even more for their own localities. This is cited because it came to attention and admittedly it is good work for a man not more than two years out of college. His Alma Mater should have a good name in his town.

This number marking the beginning of Volume 27 and the opening of another college year furnishes an opportunity BEGINNING for us to thank members of THE YEAR the Association, our readers, for their help and cooperation in making the Record a better messenger to the M. A. C. family.

May we wish them the same measure of success during the coming year that we feel confident will be ours if they continue the loyal support that has already been given and again renew their interest in Alma Mater and her work.

Campaign This Winter

That the campaign for the Union Memorial Building, a social and community center on the Michigan Agricultural College campus, will be resumed during the winter was decided by the Executive Committee of the M. A. C. Association in a meeting held September 20th in the Secretary's office on the campus.

Representatives from the Grand Rapids, Detroit, Cleveland, Bay City, and Central Michigan local associations met with the general committee.

The Association also extended the greetings of the alumni body to President-elect

Friday who is to take the president's chair on January 1.

The Union Memorial Building, which is to be a structure similar to the Michigan Union at Ann Arbor and intended to fill the needs of a campus social and community center, completed its first campaign for $150,000 at Commencement last year. Since that time, it was found that a building adequate to the needs of the college campus and one which would be worthy of the efforts of the entire alumni body must be larger and more replete in detail and architectural beauty than the building first proposed. Accordingly, the Pond Brothers, who are specialists in this type of building, were engaged as architects and it was decided to raise a half million dollars from alumni, former students, faculty, and friends of the institution for such a building. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars has already been raised.

The Pond Brothers have completed their sketch plans of the proposed building and are beginning the detailed drawings of the structure.

THE DEATH RATE in vegetarian rodents, cockroaches and "varmin" took a decided jump last Sunday when the Beal Laboratory was closed and boarded tight and given a fumigation of cyanide, lock stock and barrel. The destroyers had gained a headway that could not be halted except through radical measures and had become a serious menace to books, specimens, and costly botanic equipment.

Detroit Alumnae Work for Practice House.

The Alumnae of Detroit put in a very strenuous and successful ten days during the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 2-11. They conducted a Dairy Lunch in the Dairy Bldg. and sold milk and buttermilk, sandwiches, pie and ice-cream.

At present writing, with all bills paid, they have eleven hundred dollars in the treasury for the senior girls practice house, three hundred for capital for future undertakings.

To illustrate the volume of business done—on Labor Day the ladies sold 360 gallons of milk. This means handing 4500 cups of milk over the counter.

To Mrs. Clarissa Pike Lee '18, Mrs. Gladys Gruner Miller '18, and Mrs. Violet Miller Dixon '07, should go the credit for the success of the undertaking. A large number of Aggies assisted in putting it across, however.

Schneider, '85, Given Tribute.

"America as the land of progress and opportunities is again illustrated in the case of Charles Fred Schneider '85," says the Grand Rapids News (Aug. 15) speaking editorially. "After twenty-five years in the service of the United States weather bureau, during which time his name has become as well known to the people of Grand Rapids and of Western Michigan as that of our governors and men most prominent in public life, Mr. Schneider leaves the government's employ to enter the banking business. He will be the manager of the Division-Franklin branch of the Grand Rapids Savings bank.

"A banker these days is not a mere book-keeper and a lender of money. He must be an active member of the community, interested in all that makes for its advancement, alive to its future, to its financial and business needs, intimately acquainted with its men of affairs, of unquestioned integrity and one in whom the whole public has implicit confidence. Mr. Schneider possesses all these essentials, and no doubt that was the reason he was chosen for the important position he is to occupy as the manager of a branch bank.

"No man in Grand Rapids has been more keenly alive and active in all that pertains to the community's best interests. Busy as any of us, he has yet found, or rather taken, the time to devote to charity organizations, to fraternal movements, to sports and to every patriotic enterprise undertaken in this section of this state. He was an outstanding figure in the national weather service. He will be a success as a banker, for he will take into his new work all the energy and all the enthusiasm that he has manifested in his service to the federal government and in his public activities."

WITH THE ALUMNI CLUBS

St. Joe County Picnic.

About sixty M. A. C. people and friends of the College gathered at Sand Lake on August 12 for the annual picnic of the St. Joe County Association. There was no representative from the College but the pep and enthusiasm of the old boys, more than made up for the lack of a college speaker.

A number of pictures of campus activities during the past year brought back memories of old college days.

The new officers elected were Lester Slotte '08 President, and Aron Hagenbuch '10, Secretary, both of Three Rivers.

Detroiters' Column

Jerry DePrato's business address is now care of John Hancock Insurance Co., Majestic Bldg. He also plays football with Bill Marshall's Tigers. We don't know which he considers his side-line.

Blake Miller is also in Detroit playing with the Tigers.

Pete Bancroft isn't city broke yet. He drove down from Lansing for the Park Superintendents' Convention and parked his car right across the street from the hotel. When he came out he had to walk six blocks to find it.

Alvin Hock is now selling Fords with the Dalrymple-Morley Co. on Mack Ave.

Gerald Allen raises chickens at his place on Waterford Road. The other day he went out to kill a couple roosters and couldn't do it. He says, "You know, I just couldn't kill those roosters, they were just budding into manhood."

Jim Fisk has left Detroit temporarily and is on a Christman & Co. job in Mishawaka, Ind. Mrs. Fisk and the children are still in Detroit. Jim may be addressed care of H. G. Christman Co., Union Trust Bldg., South Bend, Indiana.

Verne Branch, while at Crystal Lake this summer, pulled out a small mouthed black bass that proved to be the record catch of the season at Crystal. It weighed three pounds and nine ounces. While the big boy struck on one line a two-pounder struck on another.

Note—We assume no responsibility for the veracity of items appearing in this column.

The Alumnae of Detroit are having a dinner at the Women's City Club, in Bagley St., Friday, Oct. 7, at 6:00 p. m. sharp. At this dinner the treasurer will give a complete financial report on the booth at the Fair and election of new members of the council will take place. Price $1.50 per plate. Those wishing plates reserved notify Mrs. Sheldon B. Lee, 8230 Lawton, before Tuesday, Oct. 4th.

Gladys Gruner '18 disappeared from Detroit two days before the State Fair started and came back as Mrs. George Miller (George Miller '17) and she and George spent their honeymoon handing out milk and sandwiches at the Alumnae Dairy Lunch. That's what we call school spirit!

—S. B. Lee, Secy.

Barry County Summer Meeting.

The Barry County M. A. C. Association Picnic was held at Clear Lake on Friday, Aug. 26.

M. A. C.-ites began to arrive at about 3:00 o'clock and from then until about 5:00 o'clock was spent in getting acquainted and talking over "the old days."

Someone suggested a ball game, so sides were chosen and everyone had a hand.

About 6:00 o'clock, the well filled baskets were gathered together and the contents spread upon a long picnic table, where all enjoyed the eats and jokes.

George Gillespie called upon Clyde Wilcox who acted as toastmaster and several alumni responded willingly with a few words regarding M. A. C. past, present and future.

After supper a short business meeting was held and then all went to the pavilion where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

We were sorry to learn the next day that Norm Weil, through some trick of fate, was unable to reach Hastings in time to be with us, although he did arrive in time to tell us of his bad luck. We hope to have him here some time in the future.

John Doelle, New Board Member.

Meeting with the State Board of Agriculture at its September meeting in Grand Rapids, was John A. Doelle newly elected member from the Upper Peninsula. Mr. Doelle took his position on the Board in September through an appointment by Governor Grosbeck to fill the vacancy occurring by reason of the resignation of Mr. Robert Wallace of Bay City, whose term was to have expired December 30 this year.

Mr. Doelle has had a training and experience that will be of great value to the State Board and with this he brings a reputation for push and energy that is bound to advance the college and the agricultural interests of Michigan.

He was born February 10, 1878, on a farm in St. Clair County, Michigan, the youngest of thirteen children. His family moved to Yale in 1890 where he attended the grade school and the first two years of high school. In 1896 he attended Albion College and completed two years preparatory work and one year of college work. The following three years were spent at the University of Michigan where he graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1902.

His work since leaving the University has been both along educational and agricultural lines. He was principal of the Benton Harbor High School in 1902 and 1903 and principal of the Houghton High School from 1903 to 1906. So successful was his work in Houghton that he was made Superintendent of Schools at Houghton and held that position until 1918. During the war, he was Secretary-Manager of the War Resources Committee for the upper peninsula. In December 1918, he assumed the duties of his present position, Secretary-Manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

Under the new State Department of Agriculture, Mr. Doelle was made Director of the Agricultural Development Bureau and as such, he will have charge of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau which has been made a branch of the State Department. He is also Secretary of the Deep Waterway Commission which proposes an ocean boat outlet from the Great Lakes down the St. Lawrence.

The piece of work of which Mr. Doelle is most proud and which bespoke his energy and aggressiveness to the people of the Upper Peninsula was the founding and the piloting of the Otter Lake Agricultural School while he was Superintendent of Schools at Houghton. The Otter Lake School is said to be the first agricultural school of its kind in Michigan, and so successful as to be held as a glowing example to the many others similar institutions about the state that have been brought into being since.

California News.

Hartless Truax 12 and Mrs. Truax drove in the yard one day last summer. Much to my surprise he was smoking a big, fat cigar. I believe he even carries matches, now.

Had the pleasure of having my two "ex-wives" with me for a few days last August—Sam Fields '13 and Deacon Fisher '12. We took a little swing around the state together with Prof. Eustace. Fisher wore a natty Palm Beach outfit and we alternately froze and roasted him as we went from the coast to the interior and return. Don't believe he has fully recovered yet as I haven't heard from him since.

In Sacramento, we called up one I. J. Woodin '13. The conversation was something as follows: "Hello, is this Woodin's residence?" "Well, can I talk to the Rabbi of Wells Hall?"

To which came a roar which fairly rattled the whole instrument, "What? Say that again, you sonofagun; Is that you Fields, where are you? I'll be right down." The rest of the evening was spent talking over old times at M. A. C. with "I. J." and his wife (Fern Liverance '13).

A few days later Harry Schuyler dropped in. Harry is interested in apricots and wanted to know why the ding-ding university couldn't find some way to stop the Brown Rot in his apricots. Harry is also engaged in selling lemons and trying to make us all believe we ought to use more lemons.

ATHLETICS

The Outlook on the Gridiron.

On the eve of the opening game with Alma October 1, Michigan Aggies are taking stock of their football team and are finding that the prospects for a good showing during the coming season are very bright indeed. It is not probable that the eleven will prove to be a championship one, equaling the sensational performances of a half dozen years ago, but it is certain that this years varsity will be a strong, hard-fighting team,—one which will make a name for itself in western football circles.

Albert Barron, the new head coach, is more than living up to expectations. Barron is a clean-cut, efficient leader who knows the game, is able to teach it effectively, and has the absolute confidence of his men. Bert, as he is already known on the campus, is laying plans for the future, and at the same time building a winner for this year. Lyman Frimodig '17, is serving as varsity line coach, and is rapidly whipping together a powerful forward wall.

A dozen letter men form the nucleus around which the coaches are molding the team. Strong reserves from last year and 1920 freshmen players round out one of the largest squads that ever answered the call for early season work. While there are but few outstanding stars in the list, the squad is made up of strong, dependable players. All are capable of great development. Inexperience may weigh against them in the early games, but it would not be surprising to see the team take rank as one of M. A. C.'s best before the season closes.

Captain John Bos and Parks seem to have the edge over a number of candidates for the tackles. Both are rangy men, who combine weight and fight with a fine knowledge of the game. Barring injuries, these two should make one of the strongest pairs of tackles in college football this year. Gingrich, Schuligen, Crane and Temple are leading prospects for the ends, with the first two standing out as probable selections, for the early games at least. These men are a trifle light but have developed into valuable players.

Three veterans have been holding down the center of the line in practically all of the early scrimmages. Morrison at center, and Swanson and Matson at guards make up a trio capable of plugging the middle of the line against almost any opposition.

The backfield will present a new combination for Aggie offensive work. Several of the men have won letters in former years, but they have not worked together as a unit. Harry Graves, star fullback on the S. A. T. C. team in 1918, is back and bids fair to win back his old place. Graves is heavy and fast, and has real football ability, although inclined to be somewhat erratic.

Noblet, Wilcox, Johnson and Brady are four shifty backs who have all seen service on former teams. They have developed greatly this year and are expected to take care of the open field work nicely. H. K. Archbold, a back on last years freshman eleven, will share the "heavy" duty of the backfield with Graves. Archbold is a big boy who has

'Bert' Barron, former Penn State star and coach, who guides M. A. C.'s future in football and track, under a three year contract.

one of the best instinctive football heads on the squad.

The question of a field leader for the team is apparently still unsettled. Wilcox, Brady, and Archbold have all taken turns at calling signals, and it is not certain yet as to which will get the call from Coach Barron in the big games. Wilcox and Brady have had more experience, but Archbold is showing splendid judgment in handling plays.

Other men who are making a strong bid for places in the varsity lineup are: Thorpe, Robson and Prescott in the line; and Weckler, Miller, and Kidman in the backfield.

Fortunately the injuries sustained up to date have all been of a minor nature. Five or six of the men are temporarily laid up, but all are expected back in a few days.

Michigan Game Seats.

The entire north stand at Ferry Field has been set aside for Michigan Aggie supporters at the Michigan game, on October 15 this year. The seat sale in this section is being handled directly through Director C. L. Brewer's office, and requests for reservations should be addressed to him at East Lansing.

No other seats in the stadium are to be reserved this year, Mr. Brewer holding the entire block at East Lansing until the day of the game, when the remainder will be sent to Ann Arbor for final sale. Tickets are $1.50 each.

Better get in your reservation early.

Freshmen Look Good.

Not in many a day has as promising a squad of freshmen football material put in an appearance at M. A. C. as is working out in College Field now. Picked men from all over the state have reported, and more are coming in daily.

Prospects for a winning first-year team are consequently bright, and, which is more important, a lot of mighty fine varsity material will be coming up next fall.

The half dozen leading players from last year's state championship Lansing High School eleven are all with the squad. Neller and DeMerrill, backfield men; Richards and "Stub" Kipke, ends; and Brown and Thayer, linemen; make up the Lansing contingent. Richards, Brown, and Neller look especially good in the early scrimmages, while all the boys are strong possibilities for varsity places next year.

Eckert and Hultman of Grand Rapids, Eckerman of Muskegon, Schroth of Charlotte, Hart of Midland, Stopher of Addison, Goode from the West Virginia Collegiate Institute, and several others stand out as unusually good men. All of them are likely to be heard from in future varsity competition.

Goode, by the way, is a protege of Gideon Smith, famous Aggie tackle in 1913-15, and comes with "Gid's" strong recommendation.

The Gridiron Menu.

October 8—Albion College at East Lansing.

October 15—Michigan at Ann Arbor.

October 22—Western State Normal at East Lansing.

October 29—Marquette University at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

November 5—South Dakota University (Home Coming).

November 12—Butler College at Indianapolis, Indiana.

November 24—Notre Dame at South Bend, Indiana.

Floyd Rowe to Coach Cross Country.

The cross country varsity starts work next week with a strong list of veterans on the squad. Thurston, Brendel, Adolph and Nesman are all left from last year's team. In addition Huston, a good miler on last spring's track squad, and Bagely, from the 1920 freshman team, will be available.

An unusually strong five-man combination should result from this material. The boys won the state meet last year and made a clean sweep of the first five places in the annual dual meet with Notre Dame. Their chances to repeat are considered strong.

Floyd Rowe, State Physical Training Director, will coach the team this fall. Rowe, who is an old Michigan distance star, has had a lot of experience and should get the best out of his men. He is living in East Lansing at present.

The schedule lined up for the cross country men is a strong one. A novice race for non-varsity men will be run on October 22. Other meets include All-college meet October 29, State Meet November 5 (to which all state colleges including Michigan will be invited), Western Conference Meet November 19 at Northwestern, and the Notre Dame dual meet November 24.

THE EAST LANSING HARDWARE STORE in the Bank Block has been purchased by Stanley Filkins '13, and R. S. Hudson '07, foreman of the college farm. The business will continue along enlarged lines with Mr. Filkins actively in charge.

Minutes of Executive Committee Meeting.

D. Wolf representing the Grand Rapids Association, G. V. Branch the Bay City Association, Frank Rogers representing the Central Michigan Association, and W. O. Hedrick of the Plans Committee. Because of the fact that the minutes of the previous meeting were printed in the Record, their reading was dispensed with.

Pres. Ranney outlined a program of the subjects to be considered in the meeting.

Motion was made and seconded that the Secretary be authorized to communicate with President-elect Friday the greetings of the M. A. C. Association and to let him know that the Association through its Executive Committee are behind him and that he has their backing in his new position as President of the Michigan Agricultural College. Carried.

The President was authorized to appoint a committee in such numbers as he should see fit to cooperate with the State Board of Agriculture and other college committees to manage the part that the alumni will have in the inauguration ceremonies of President Friday. The motion was carried.

Motion was made and seconded that the constitution be amended so that the Executive Committee officers now elected at large by the general association for a period of three years; the ex-presidents of the Association to remain as ex-officio members of the Executive Committee. The motion was carried.

Discussion followed of the resumption of the Memorial Building campaign and of plans for carrying on the campaign and proceeding with construction of the building. After a liberal discussion, it was mutually agreed that the campaign should be resumed immediately after Christmas and that the preliminary campaign work should be begun at once and preparations made for a complete organization for personal solicitation of each graduate and former student, in all the campaign divisions. It was also decided that a quota be allotted each division and each section of territory.

Expect to have 400 acres in alfalfa this fall. Have three months' old baby, a girl, this makes three boys and one girl and it surely keeps me on the run to keep the family alive, as the world's crisis is upon us after so many years of losses on account of the revolution. If my new venture fails by some other disturbance here I guess I'll have to run to M. A. C. and apply for a job; life is getting at times here almost unbearable and if bolshevism gets a start here with so many illiterate people, the best thing one can do then is to run away, and as things are going today with agitators all around and a complacent government there is a real danger of it and I rather not think about it."

"Kind regards to my old 'Profs' and the sleepy class of '07 of whom very little is seen in the class notes of the Record. Altho I have not seen an M. A. Have been busy this spring in sinking the much-talked-of German ships off the Virginia capes. And they are getting their's too.
