BAY CITY STUDENTS have just formed a Bay City Club whose object is to be the furthering of the interests of M. A. C. in their hometown. They plan to work in cooperation with alumni, and along the lines of similar clubs of Detroit, Grand Rapids and Flint students. The officers are: President, W. F. Patenge '23; vice-president Elizabeth Bassingthwaite; secretary, Cora Kelly; treasurer, S. L. Pacynski '23.

THE SEASON'S FIRST 'DOWN TOWN' after a victory was included in last Saturday night after the Notre Dame freshman game. Practically all the freshmen went to town but the celebration lacked the dash and verve that characterizes some when led by more experienced upper classmen. Trips to town with their attendant rushing of the theaters and bonfires before the Capitol are deemed appropriate only after important and decisive victories and in the opinion of the freshmen their win from Notre Dame deserved a celebration.

THE NEW OFFICERS of the Detroit Club, students from the metropolis, who are working with the Detroit Alumni Club in the interests of M. A. C. in Detroit were recently elected as follows: Arnold Smith '23, President; Nellie Crawford '24, Vice-President; Elva Larkins '24, Secretary; Charles Davis '24, treasurer.

C. Plant of the mathematics department spoke on "The Einstein Theory," dealing most heavily with the fundamental conceptions on which it is based, and Prof. H. B. Dirks, of the engineering department spoke on "The Influence of Machine Tools With Respect to Civilization."

“Organize the alumni and give them something to do. It is vitally important that the work be worth doing. The big jog carries its own appeal. Alumni worthy to be called such, welcome opportunities voluntarily, the alumni association must furnish the initiative. The alumni should emphasize the idea that colleges are for training for life and good citizenship.”

—Alumni Hand Book.

Repeated reports in state newspapers that certain members of the college staff “are slated to go” within the next: RUMORS couple of months and the statement of the Detroit Free Press last week that “it is expected that several resignations of heads of departments will be forthcoming or will be demanded by the board within the next few months” has had a tremendous disorganizing and demoralizing effect upon the entire college staff. It is an effect that it will be difficult to overcome for some time. It is not unnatural that, after such rumors, the sword of Damocles transformed into a heavy axe should be seen hanging over the campus. Coming in the midst of a college term, honest work and honest effort is being crippled by it.

Origin of these stories is stoutly denied by members of the state board of agriculture. Whatever the source, it is indeed too bad that it cannot be located and the promiscuous reports stopped. Not only is it unfortunate from the standpoint of college work and its effect upon members of her staff, but it lays a decided handicap upon the incoming president. The problems with which he will be confronted will be numerous enough without having added to them that of a broken down morale in the teaching and administrative forces.

A movement which started several years ago but which has just recently spread and come to the stage of bearing starting fruit is that of the students county and city clubs organized on the campus but which are intended to function in their home communities. At the present time there are quite a number of these organizations and their number is constantly increasing. Among them are the Detroit Club, Grand Rapids Club, Bay City Club, Big Four Club including four counties in southwestern Michigan and numerous others.

In all these organizations the object is to further the interests of M. A. C. in their home towns and this is done largely in cooperation with the alumni organizations. Having an almost identical objective they virtually amount to a campus section of the local alumni associations. Many of the student clubs meet with the alumni associations during vacations and assist them in their work among prospective students. Out of this cooperation much mutual good comes. Alumni meet and become acquainted with present day students and are given new and freshened views of the college, college life and college work. Their point of contact with the campus is sharpened up a bit. And for the student members of these clubs there is inspiration for them in knowing who the M. A. C. men and women are in their communities and the places they hold there. It also gives them an introduction to the alumni organization and its object, an introduction which is good for them. For the college the efforts of these clubs combined with those of alumni are far more effective than either could be working alone.

There is a contention on the campus that the student body is over-organized. But whenever there is an opportunity for good work and a willingness to do it there is always “room for one more.”

Meeting of Executive Committee of M. A. C. Ass’n.

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held in the People’s Church at 1 o’clock, November 19. The following were present: President Ranney, Mr. Prudden, Mr. Pratt and Mr. Langdon of the General Committee; Arthur Wolf ‘13, representing Grand Rapids; Vernie Branch “12, representing Detroit; H. E. Dennison ‘11, representing Owosso; H. L. Froelich ‘18, representing Flint; William T. Parks ‘00, representing Berrien County; Merritt Reeves ‘20, representing Lansing; A. C. MacKinnon ‘95, representing Bay City; Mrs. Jennie Towar Woodard ‘89, representing Chicago; Josephine Hart ‘12, representing Seattle, Washington; Harold King ‘10, representing Battle Creek; Alexander MacVittie ‘11 and William Sanson ‘87, representing Tuscola County; Luther Baker ‘93, representing Lansing. Proxies were in the hands of the president from Jackson, New York City, Washington, D. C., Macomb County, Cleveland and Western Pennsylvania Associations.

Mr. Ranney called the meeting to order and the matter of the resignation of Secretary McKibbin, asked for by the State Board of Agriculture, was presented. A long discussion followed as to the possible reasons for requesting the resignation. The motion was made by Mr. Prudden and seconded by Mr. Branch that the secretary be requested not to

The motion was made by Mr. Wolf and seconded by Mr. Dennison that a committee of three be appointed to confer with a committee of the State Board of Agriculture and gather from them the reasons for their action. Motion was carried.

M. A. C. To Entertain National Convention of Scabbard and Blade.

The national convention of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, will be held at M. A. C. December 8, 9 and 10. At the last biennial convention held at Purdue two years ago M. A. C. delegates invited the fraternity for their next convention and their invitation was accepted.

There are twenty-five chapters of Scabbard and Blade in the various land grand colleges and universities in the United States. Delegates will come from all parts of the country for the convention, the list of representatives having been received for Oregon Agricultural College, Washington State College, University of Washington, University of Maine, University of Florida and practically all the middle western institutions.

Scabbard and Blade fraternity was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1904 and the M. A. C. chapter is known as Company K.

The local chapter is arranging for the housing of the delegates in society houses and they will be entertained with a stage open house and smoker by the Eunomians on December 8. On Friday night there is to be a dance in their honor at the Masonic Temple, East Lansing.

Mr. Burke, who was formerly in the English department at M. A. C., now holds the office of Lieutenant Colonel in the national Scabbard and Blade organization and the Ohio State delegation have already made known their intention of visiting him for the highest office, that of Colonel of the organization.

M. A. C. Men Coaching High Schools Successful.

Sheldon Lee '17, genial secretary of the Detroit Club, is authority for the statement that up to within a week or so ago but one high school team coached by an M. A. C. alumnus had been beaten this season. He referred to the game in which Howard Beatty's ('16) Saginaw Eastern High squad lost to Detroit Northwestern. He went on to point out that Saginaw Arthur Hill coached by “Irish” Ramsey '20 had had a successful season, that "Freddy" Jacks ('18) Hamtramck High was then unbeaten, that Francis Jacks' team at Muskegon was still going strong and that Wayne Palm '21, at Bad Axe, and "Brownie" Springer '21 at Port Huron had also been successful. Since "Shelly" gave us this information it has been found out that “Smiley” Basset '21, coaching the Ovid High School team has lost one or two games through Ovid High playing aggregations considerably out of their class.

Reports of the last or final games of these different teams coached by M. A. C. men are not yet available but taken all in all the successes of alumni who are coaching high schools speaks well for their college athletic training and reflects considerable credit upon the athletic department, as well as the men themselves.

A Gay Life and No One Weakening, Says Campus Humorist.

"Is there anything doing at M. A. C.?" asks a campus humorist in the Holcad who in a kindly, well intentioned manner holds the mirror up to the student body's natural appetite and fondness for tripping the light fantastic. "Well, I'll say there is," he continues. "Just go out by the site of the old College Hall some Friday or Saturday night about 10 o'clock and listen. If you have approached on silent feet you may hear subdued voices from the nearby evergreens whose wide-spreading branches afford almost complete seclusion; you may hear the wails of an unfortunate frosh who vainly endeavors to reach his toes; you may surprise some of the (naturally) furred inhabitants of our beloved campus; but, most certainly, upon pausing you will hear the long drawn "bla-aa-a-t," the soft plunk-plunk, the ('melodious') clink-clank and the rhythmic rat-a-tat of the modern jazz orchestra.

Perhaps the various sounds will seem a little mixed but that can be readily explained because you are really listening to two or three orchestras each trying to show a little more pep than the rest, for on this night's performance may rest many future engagements and the orchestra that gets the inside track 'out at the College' has success assured for the remainder of the year.

"They don't have many parties at colleges?" asks Campus Humorist. "Say, brother, I don't know where you've been but I'm telling you that eight thousand students go to parties at M. A. C. every term. Why, of course, we count them more than once; we count them every time they go if they go to one party or a dozen. Figuring on four thousand couples and a dancing co-ed population of about four hundred, we have each girl going to ten parties. However, there are many who will not get to more than two or three and as only ten are allowed—including Union parties—there must be some imaginable conditions.

"I think it very fortunate that the Capitol was located so close to the college and also that it employs so many nice companionable girls. The same thing might be said for Arganleigh's, Mapes', Kresge's and many more. Truly there is no cessation of festivities at M. A. C. for lack of the fair sex. Rather there is an acceleration of social events in order that this workaday life may not pall on their delicate senses.

You don't think that we have that many parties? Sit down a minute and listen. At present there are thirty-two parties scheduled for this term and three more nearly assured. Twenty-four will be given by societies, one each by the junior and senior classes, one by the Detroit Club, one by the R. O. T. C. and four by and for the student body. The Law Club and the Grand Rapids Club have not been dated as yet.

"About a hundred couples attend most of these dances, that is a fair average for all save the Union parties where the floor is the limit and the limit is usually stretched. At the last one it was impossible to see the floor at all save behind the line of men in waiting and the couples changed so frequently the only way to estimate was to compute the number of square feet of space being used and multiply by two.

This is all the chance we can offer you this term, old man, to do the light fantastic but we hope that by next term or by spring term at least we can get a few more clubs organized and contrive to fill the vacant hours."

Wmn. J. Lightbody '80, is the proudest father in town these days. His son "Jimmie" kicked a goal after touchdown that meant victory for the Northern High team last week, in their game with Northwestern High. That one goal spelled city championship for "Jimmie's" team and won for them the Detroit M. A. C. Club silver cup and an invitation to the dinner the Club is giving for the Aggie Varsity, the second week in December.

George Detting '17, dropped in on us again Friday noon. Tubby Hock also made one of his semi-annual appearances.

J. W. (Jack) Knecht '10, was in town the other day on his way to a meeting of electrical engineers in Toledo. Jack is chief engineer for the Grand Rapids Electric Railway.

Fred Curtis '06, is with the engineering department of W. S. Tyler Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Ralph Coryell '14, has been doing some landscape work on Boston Blvd.

Charley Lapworth and his wife tried to teach Shrimp Webb and Dutch Keydel how to play bridge the other night. Mrs. Lapworth reports that Shrimp was more interested in fudge than bridge. Shrimp was simply run-ning true to form, he always was mostly interested in food.

Sammy Dean '14, is now assistant manager of the Detroit office of the General Electric Co.

As there was no game scheduled in Lansing, the Stunts he does, I have to tell about them. Last week the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada held a get-together in the dining room next to ours, and in the course of events stood up and sang the national anthem. Patriotic Red stood up also and tried to join in, but sat down very hastily when "God Save the King" came floating through the walls.

That is almost as bad as his side-kick Eli, in search of an insurance prospect calling Woodmere Cemetery and asking for Mr. Graves.

We are still hoping to see Jimmie Roberts at a Friday lunch before we get so old our eyesight fails us.

ATHLETICS

Notre Dame Thanksgiving

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday the Record has to go to press Wednesday evening. Accordingly we regret very much that it is impossible to print the result of Thursday's games, both at home and at Notre Dame, in this issue. Writing this on Wednesday what is said of the games must be in future tense.

The Notre Dame battle at South Bend Thursday is a fitting contest with which to wind up the season for the old traditional rivalry dating back to the early days of the twentieth century always calls out the best fight there is in the Green and White and makes it probably the most bitterly contested of the whole season. Notre Dame has lost but one game this season, that dropped to Iowa 10 to 7 early in the fall and they have played both in the East and West. In fact Iowa's victory this year is the only one that any team can boast of gaining over Notre Dame since the Aggies defeated them here in 1918. As a matter of fact it is probable that since the establishment of athletic relations between the Farmers and the Hoosiers, the former eleven has been victorious often than by any other team in the country which plays Notre Dame.

A special train will carry the entire M. A. C. squad, including reserves, the Michigan Aggie varsity band, and a large following made up of students, alumni and Lansing people to South Bend Thursday morning.

All-Fresh in Varsity Club Benefit

Arrangements have just been completed the early part of this week for a Varsity Club benefit game to be played on College Field at 10:30 in the morning of Thanksgiving day. As there was no game scheduled in Lansing for that day and because of the general attitude of "what is Thanksgiving without a football game?" the time seemed especially propitious for a benefit game. Furthermore Lansing high schools have been eager all season to see a game between their High state champion contenders and the All-Fresh which contains five of last year's Lansing high stars as well as the pick of a number of other state high teams.

M. A. C. Fresh Show Class in Win from Notre Dame

Overcoming a three point lead in the last minute of play, the All-Fresh football machine came from behind last Saturday and took the Notre Dame yearling team into camp by a 10 to 6 score. Killoran's men held a distinct advantage all through the first three-quarters of the game, and, as a matter of fact, should never have been forced to achieve the spectacular in order to pull the game out of the fire.

As it was, the game ended more or less unsatisfactorily for all concerned. With the score standing 6 to 3 against them and time getting short, the Fresh tried a long forward pass from the Notre Dame 35 yard line. A youthful Irish quarterback intercepted the pass, thought better of it at once, and proceeded to "ground" the ball. As the ball rolled over the goal line, Goode fell on it for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

The officials ruled the pass as intercepted and then grounded, making the play perfectly legal. Notre Dame insisted, however, that the pass was merely blocked, automatically becoming incomplete and dead, and the visiting team left the field with only 30 seconds to play.

Technically, the score should stand at 1 to 0 for the Aggies on account of Notre Dame's forfeiture in leaving the field, but the 10-6 count will go down in all the records. The Notre Dame coach, himself, proved a good sport about the incident and agreed that the actual score should stand.

Altogether aside from the score, however, stands the comfortable fact for M. A. C. folk that their Fresh team showed that all the praise it has received this season has not been misdirected. Standing solid on defense and unerring an offensive shift which completely puzzled the visitors, the youngsters gained nearly twice as much ground as Notre Dame from formation, and showed all-around ability at the game.

Shortly after the opening whistle, the M. A. C. offense carried the ball deep into Notre Dame territory. After two line plays failed on the 10-yard line, Neller dropped back and scored a perfect goal from placement. The

The ball was worked back toward the visitors goal again, a pretty forward pass from Neller to Richards gaining 30 yards in one play. With the ball on the 2-yard line at a second down, and the Notre Dame line very apparently weakened, the whistle at the end of the half stopped what seemed like a sure score.

The third period again found Killoran's boys hammering away in Notre Dame territory, the final punch when within the 20-yard line being lacking for the score, however.

The last quarter saw a sudden break in the fortunes of the game. After recovering the ball in the middle of the field, G. Miller, a star halfback on the Irish team, slipped around end for 45 yards and the only Notre Dame score. The play itself was somewhat of a freak. It started out to be a pass, but finding everybody "covered," young Miller took a chance and got away around the opposite end without much real effort.

The Aggies came right back at the next kickoff, which Rollie Richards ran back 40 yards to the Notre Dame 45-yard line. At this point, the yearlings opened up with a shower of passes, the last of which resulted in the score described above.

The whole line worked well, consistently charging the heavier Notre Dame forwards off their feet. Eckert and Brown at tackles, Kipke at end, and Eckerman at center stood out particularly. In the backfield, Rollie Richards distinguished himself with about as pretty a game as has been seen on College Field this season. His generalship at quarterback was good, while his passing and open field running were unusually fine for a first year college player. Neller also proved a great ground gainer, while Goode and Beckley performed well. To Goode goes credit for the bit of quick thinking which resulted in the final touchdown.

At least a half dozen of the freshmen who worked in Saturday's game look like sure varsity men next year, while others will undoubtedly develop. The 1921 All-Fresh is, in actual fact, the "strongest Fresh team in M. A. C. history."

Basketball Schedule Heavy

Announcement of the basketball schedule, as complete to date, reveals the fact that this year's varsity quintet will face the hardest list of games ever booked for an M. A. C. team. The schedule is not yet in its final form, but those games already signed give a very good idea of the nature of the final list.

Among the colleges who may be added during the next few days are Iowa State, Marquette, Albion, Alma, and the Detroit College of Law. About twenty regular-season games will be played.

Head Coach Frimodig, and his assistant, Larry Kurtz, are working with the squad three nights a week. Daily practice will start right after Thanksgiving.

The schedule as announced this week by Frimodig is as follows:

Dec. 10—Wisconsin, at Madison.
Dec. 29—Carnegie Tech., at East Lansing.

THE MAIL BAG

Chimes—A Memorial Building Suggestion

Now that I have my "pen" in hand, I'll mention one other thing. If the alumni are to build a Union Building on the M. A. C. Campus, I want the outfit to include a fine chime of bells.—and, of course, somebody to play them morning, noon and night with a good recital on Sunday. We have such a campus together. If they are mounted well up in the air, anybody within a half mile can hear the music, while the deeper-toned babies will ring out their message of joy for miles around.

The thought occurs to me that if I write that a chime such as I have in mind should be a community affair. Let a few interested people put up the money in the first place, then when the bells have been in place for a little time and folks have begun to love them, advertise the idea a little and follow with a systematic canvass of every man, woman, and child in the place—students, faculty, draymen and city dads—urging everyone to give some amount as small as may be, so that he or she may and will feel a personal ownership and joy in the glad community music. Get out an attractive folder giving the history and purpose of the enterprise and a picture of the bells, then offer to every new comer in the place—he be student or street cleaner—a chance to be part owner. Gradually retire the earlier gifts or loans—all except one dollar per contributor—and let that dollar go into a sinking fund to be dispersed by community vote.

I offer this community ownership idea because, with our university chime here, despite the beauty of the music, there is always a feeling of the donor thrusting his gift upon us. Let this chime story grow into one of the beautiful legends of East Lansing and the M. A. C.
