We take great pride in the team that won 13 Big Ten games and finished in a tie for second place in the conference, both all-time highs for the program.

We commend the Spartans for winning 21 games, tying the mark of the 1977-78 team for the second-most wins in team history, and for winning 12 of their 13 home games.

We honor Coach Karen Langeland for being named the Women’s Basketball Coaches Association "Coach of the Year" in District IV and for winning her 100th game against a Big Ten opponent on January 4 with a victory over Michigan.

We salute the Spartans for winning the Felpausch/MSU Holiday Classic championship and for placing third in the Pepsi/Church's Holiday Classic.

We honor all players, coaches and staff and offer special recognition to:

Eileen Shea, who was named second-team All-Big Ten, District IV All-Academic and third-team Academic All-America; who became the No. 2 career scorer in MSU women’s basketball history while setting the record for most games played; and who scored an MSU single-game record 35 points in her final game against Oklahoma State in the NCAA Tournament.
