Trustee Weiss voted no.

Prior to the vote, Trustees expressed their opinion regarding the 1991-92 Budget Guidelines. Mr. Weiss commented on the need for additional State and Federal support for higher education. With reduced funding, he believes an added responsibility is being put on the middle class family.

Ms. Cook indicated concern for financial support for the University's infrastructure and requested recommendations from the administration regarding resolution.

Ms. Sawyer indicated several concerns including faculty salaries being below where they need to be, but believes the budget guidelines are a balance and compromise which is something between being viable and retaining quality programs. She believes the Administration has shown restraint in limiting the tuition increase.

Mr. Singleton commented that an 8 percent increase in financial aid is substantial but the student employment rates are equitable which will assist in balancing the increased cost of tuition to students.
July 26, 1991

Additionally, Mr. Chris Kemnitz, student liaison member, stated he believes there is no alternative. If University programs are to be maintained, the students will have to bear some of the burden so the increase is accepted with little enthusiasm, but understanding.

Trustee Weiss voted no.

President DiBiaggio commented on the residence halls. Ms. Sawyer reported that she continually hears a number of very positive student comments related to the quality of the food in the residence halls and the comfort level including the accessibility to computers and modern technology. President DiBiaggio requested that the next report to the Trustees on residence halls should include information on advising, residence hall counseling, minority aide programs, and other special programs.
