3. President's Report

A. President McPherson reported the following:

1) Dr. Howard Brody, Professor of Family Practice and Director of the Center for Ethics and Humanities in the Life Sciences, was recently elected to the Institute of Medicine, an honor society affiliated with the National Academy of Science. The Institute of Medicine has more than 500 members who have made significant contributions to health and medicine.

2) Ms. Stephanie Palmer, a senior from Walled Lake, MI, and Chemical Physics major in Lyman Briggs School, has been named Michigan State's 16th Rhodes Scholar. She is the third MSU student to receive this award in the 1990s. Ms. Palmer credits the University for her successful undergraduate education which has included serving as a teaching assistant, participating in research, and being enrolled in graduate level courses. She will begin two years of study at Oxford University in England this fall.

3) Dr. James Potchen, University Distinguished Professor of Radiology, received the Gusta Forssell Medal from the Swedish Academy of Medicine for his contributions in the field of radiology and, specifically, Magnetic Resonance. Dr. Potchen who is the founding and current Chairperson of the Department of Radiology traveled to Sweden to receive the award.

B. President McPherson commented on the State of the University address that he presented the previous day. He said he was pleased to underline the University's ongoing commitment to undergraduate education, but thought it was appropriate as well to put a major emphasis upon research and graduate study. The University will build upon its enormously strong base, but in a changing environment he said there are significant challenges in all areas -- undergraduate and graduate education, and research. President McPherson said while observing the debates in Washington of proposed tax credits or deductions for students and parents, he has noted less focus on universities containing costs. He said it is possible for the University to have quality and contain costs at the same time; the two issues are compatible and should be addressed together.

C. Mr. Wilkinson reported on recent activities leading to gender equity decisions at the University. He said it was significant to him that at the forum held by the Planning and Equities subcommittee of the Athletic Council, no individual man or woman spoke against providing equity to women in intercollegiate athletics. In the planning process, the factors identified as being important were: promoting equity and being in compliance with Title IX; continuing to operate in a fiscally responsible way; and maintaining quality. Committee members reviewed materials and looked at five options. Mr. Wilkinson noted that the decisions were not easy, as people's interests and lives were being impacted. He said that everyone involved in the process had been responsible and professional, and represented Michigan State well. He believes the recommendation, based on the resources of the University, is the best one for Michigan State University.

4. Guiding Principles Report
   Vice President Greenleaf reported on outreach scholarship relating to the Guiding Principles of problem solving and generating new knowledge and scholarship. He presented four examples of research projects involving partnerships between Michigan State and outside organizations: a project with Butterworth Health System in Grand Rapids, MI, relating to health premiums of its employees; working with Electronic Data Systems (EDS) personnel in Singapore and Germany to determine how EDS can do a more effective job of communications technology as it relates to building new cars; working with Fortune 500 companies to improve their systems of procurement in supply chain management; and a project with Mott Children's Health Center in Flint, MI, working with two teen-age health centers in two Flint high schools.

5. The following individual addressed the Board of Trustees on an issue germane to the agenda.
   A. William Meagher, Vice President of Graham Construction of Saginaw, MI, commented about the procedure used to award the construction contract for the Student-Athlete Academic Support Center. Mr. Meagher questioned the process since the contract was awarded to the contractor presently working at the site and not to the low bidder which was Graham Construction.

6. Personnel Actions
   Provost Simon presented the following academic Appointments, Other Personnel Actions, Faculty Promotions and Tenure Recommendations, and University Distinguished Professor designations.

Board of Trustees Policy 01-01-02

Meetings of the Board of Trustees are open to the public as provided by law. The Board regards the opportunity for expression of public views on issues before the Board as an important part of its deliberations.

To accommodate such expression, the Board reserves a portion of its regular meeting for individuals and groups who wish to address the Board. Insofar as possible, those wishing to address the Board should contact the Secretary of the Board of Trustees at least a week prior to the session. However, the Secretary or designee also will make forms available in the room where the meeting is to be held. Persons desiring to address the Board shall complete the appropriate form. The presiding officer will recognize persons who have provided the required information.

Individual presentations are limited to 5 minutes and the total time for presentations on any item or topic is limited to 15 minutes unless an extension of time is approved by the Board. When a group of persons shares the same interest, it is recommended that a representative be chosen to present its point of view. When the Board believes that adequate public input has been obtained on any issue, testimony may be closed by majority vote.

The Board generally hears remarks without comment. However, if, after a presentation to the Board, Trustees choose to ask questions of, or briefly thank, the person or persons who made the presentation, the Board will limit such questions and remarks to a total of 5 minutes.

The Reverend Lester Stone spoke in support of the concerns of the Black Faculty, Staff and Administrators Association. He said "the University must develop very quickly a zero tolerance attitude for inequality, injustices, bigotry, and the evil culprit, racism." Pastor Stone asked to have a University that is fair and just to all faculty and students regardless of race and ethnicity.

Dr. George Rowan stated there is a pressing need for increasing the number of African American faculty at Michigan State.
