I. ACTION ITEM

1. Discussion of Research and Development Agreement with Meridian Instruments, Inc.

The Board considered the research and development agreement with Meridian Instruments, Inc. President Mackey introduced the discussion on this topic, and the following summary background information was provided to the Board.

Research and Development Agreement with Meridian Instruments, Inc.

Representatives from the Office of the Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies have been negotiating a research and development agreement between Meridian Instruments, Inc. of Ann Arbor, Michigan, and the University. This agreement covers the adaptation of computer programs developed for a prototype instrument designed by our faculty to make them useful for operating commercial analytical instruments. Three faculty members have been involved with the creation of Meridian Instruments, Inc. One of the three is the Principal Investigator under the proposed agreement. We have been informed that none of the named faculty members are employees of Meridian or will be permitted to assume officer positions within the organization, although they are three of eight members of the Board of Directors. They do not currently own stock in this firm but hold options to small percentages of the company stock. Pursuant to University policy they could act as consultants to Meridian.

The Board discussed the importance of such research and development projects for the benefit of the Michigan economy, but recognized the need to protect the interests of the University from conflict of interest. The need for a revised conflict of interest policy was emphasized by several members of the Board. Following these discussions, Trustee Bruff, supported by Trustee Reed, made the following motion:

RESOLVED that the Board directs the Administration to approve the Meridian Instruments Research and Development Agreement as an exception as provided by Board of Trustees policy relating to conflict of interest.

Approved by a vote of 6 to 0.
