Dr. Huggett will receive the award in San Francisco on November 16.

D. The University was extremely proud to receive the Educational Sector Corporation of the Year Award at a banquet held in Detroit in September. Over a period of years Michigan State has worked with minority contractors. Many have become more competitive in price and quality. A. Appointment

1) Murray, Mark A., AN-Associate Vice President for Business and Finance, Office of the Vice President for Finance and Operations and Treasurer, $123,000, Executive Management, effective date to be determined.

Mr. Wilkinson commented on Mr. Murray's education and work experiences in State Government. He is currently Director of the Department of Management and Budget and has served in the Engler and Blanchard administrations. Chairperson Cook commented that Mr. Murray's appointment is another example of strengthening the team at the University. She said he would be a great addition to the administration.

Faculty Liaison Kruger said Mark Murray had been his student. Not only was he a good student, but professionally he has done wonderful things for the State of Michigan. Dr. Kruger said Mr. Murray will reflect very favorably on Michigan State University, and he is certainly pleased to see him appointed.

On a motion by Mr. Weiss, supported by Mr. Singleton, THE BOARD VOTED to approve the Appointment. The vote was 7 - 1. Trustee Traxler voted No.

Trustee Traxler commented that he voted no, not on the basis of the individual being appointed to the position, but rather on elevating the position to Associate Vice President. Mr. Murray was introduced and welcomed by President McPherson and the Trustees.

October 24, 1997

2) Trustee Cook complimented the team of Dr. Walter and Pauline Adams for their intellectual leadership in outreach activities around the country. A group of alumni expressed their delight to Ms. Cook that they had the opportunity to attend the Hannah Lecture presented by Dr. Adams in Chicago.

3) Student Liaisons were applauded by Chairperson Cook for their breakfast discussion on alcohol problems and alcohol-related activities on the campus. She said Board members and the President are most concerned and it is vitally important to engage students in the problem solving.

B. Trustee Weiss commented that the University should be in the forefront of education and prevention of substance abuse. He said he appreciates Mrs. Joanne McPherson's involvement with students on alcohol issues. Mr. Weiss recommended a long-term, consistent commitment of the University with a tracking system to mark its progress. He said that resolving substance abuse will result in citizens who are more productive and less violent and will solve a myriad of societal problems.

C. Trustee Traxler expressed his excitement for the beautification of campus and planting trees on south campus. He remarked about the marvelous renderings of the project.

Secretary Pogel provided an update in response to Trustee Traxler's interest in the progress of the committee to study art on campus. A report on art acquisition will soon be sent to the President, Provost Simon, and Vice President Wilkinson. The effort is part of what has been identified as the intensification of the academic environment or the serious student initiative. Dr. Pogel said it is the committee's feeling that having art works in more visible places on campus will help to create a more intellectually stimulating environment and will encourage students to learn more about sculpture and painting.

Trustee Traxler said he is pleased with the report and gratified that the University is moving forward with this initiative.

D. Trustee Nugent expressed his appreciation to former Congressman Traxler and former President Gordon Gayer for being instrumental in the Food Safety and Toxicology Building being built on this campus. Mr. Nugent noted that the Food/Agricultural industry is a $30 billion industry in Michigan, and Michigan is the second most diverse State in agriculture of any state in the union. Mr. Nugent said as the food industry progresses into the next century, food safety and toxicology and the total utilization of food production becomes ever more critical. He said the new building will add a tremendous impetus economically to the State.

E. Trustee Gonzales said she wanted to reemphasize the importance of education as an approach to alcohol abuse. Our students and the public need to be educated on the long-term outcomes of their behavior. She said the University has the resources and must have campus-wide ownership of the effort to educate.

F. Trustee Shingleton reported that he also is concerned about the issues discussed by his colleagues and believes alcohol is the number one problem confronting students. He would like the University to address the issue and take dramatic steps to correct the problem.

11. The following individuals addressed the Board of Trustees on issues not germane to the agenda.

A. Jennifer Maltby and Dawn Haney, students from Student Action Team Roundtable, are members of an on-campus organization that provides support for student groups and individuals who are making healthy choices about their alcohol consumption. Support is provided through networking and through educational and social programming without alcohol. This week is National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week. This is the fourth year of alcohol-free tailgates at Saturday football games where food will be served to between 500-600 students. Board members were invited to attend the activity.
The following East Lansing residents spoke about relations between the University and the city.

1) Susan E. Shea, alumna, addressed Board members for a second time regarding an over-concentration of rental housing in certain East Lansing neighborhoods. She suggested that the University implement an off-campus crime policy.

2) Beth Vanliere, alumna, Alumni Service award recipient, and artist, said Michigan State needs to involve itself more deeply in resolving the problems of student behavior and improving the conditions for residents in East Lansing.

3) Judy Olson urged the University to develop a policy of sanction against students who are ticketed by local police for inappropriate behavior.

4) Hanna Christiansen, teen-age daughter of Vickie Christiansen, spoke of incidents occurring in her neighborhood.

5) Vickie Christiansen told of activities occurring on her property and in her neighborhood. She said it will take cooperation between the City and Michigan State to return the city to the place it was and that responsibility must be accepted for a safe environment in which to learn and grow.

6) Rhonda Hodgkins would like to see immediate consequences for inappropriate student behavior and to send a strong message that it is a privilege to be an MSU student.

7) Douglas Jester, Mayor of the City of East Lansing, said that he believed it was an appropriate time to review with the Board the relationship between the University and the community. He reported that he communicates regularly with Vice President Webster and President McPherson about a wide range of issues. Their intentions are serious and positive in this relationship. He said MSU should have an emphasis on community values and a greater emphasis with the surrounding community. He would like to solve the community’s concerns about housing, transportation, and night-time noise.

12. President McPherson reported there had not been a request for the Board to meet in Executive Session.

On a motion by Mr. Weiss, supported by Ms. Cook, the Board voted to adjourn at 11:10 a.m.
